INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the current edition of Womyns'Ware Inc.'s Sex Toy Guide. We use the term "Guide" rather than "Catalogue" to indicate to the reader that these materials do more than simply present products available for purchase. We've created an educational tool as well as a shopping guide. We address how the products function in relation to how people's bodies respond to erogenous contact, solo or with a partner. It's the sexual objectives of our customers, our self-imposed product design and quality guidelines, and the anatomy of the human body that determines what products go into our guide. Womyns'Ware Inc. exists because of our belief that women's sexuality should be celebrated and our desire to offer an environment, products, and services to empower women sexually. We welcome all who wish to share in this celebration, whether as individual women discovering their own sexual power or the sexual partners of women regardless of gender or sexual orientation. We hope that by experiencing our products, you may also buy into our sex positive philosophy.

We don't accept the myth that sex is "dirty". Instead, we say that sex is fun, good, and with a potential that is ever growing. We hope that this Guide imparts that truth and also provides you with an education. As with the consumption of other consumer goods, you can't be expected to make an informed decision without product knowledge. This Guide arms you with that necessary information. Better still, the products inside have all passed our "Particularly Precise Purchasing Policy" thresholds for design, safety, quality, customer satisfaction, fair trade, and fit with our motto: celebration and empowerment of women's sexuality.

Though our focus is on women, this does not exclude male partners or males as individuals. We believe that partners benefit when women are empowered sexually rather than sexualised. As we often say at Womyns'Ware Inc., our products are inanimate objects. They do not have a specific gender nor sexual orientation. Sex toys are not necessities of life, they are accessories and just as you do not rely solely on your body for transportation (even if you choose to walk to your destination, you're likely to put on a pair of shoes), there is no good reason to rely solely on your body for sexual enjoyment. You don't "need" any of our products but if you have a healthy sexual appetite and a desire to explore new sexual frontiers, you may want our products. Sex toys have the potential of expanding your sexual repertoire, igniting your sexual imagination and reviving your sexual practices but this can only come with knowledge, communication, and an examination of your needs and desires.

Hard to believe, but even after ten orgasmic years, we remain the only sex toy retailer to eliminate cheap electronics, rubber "jellies" and phthalate leaching soft vinyl products from our inventory. You'll also not find any deceptive "lotions and potions" on our shelves nor trashy packaging where more money is invested in what is on the box than what goes in the box. Our industry is largely unregulated, perhaps due to the "taboo nature" of the subject matter. Whatever the underlying reasons, the lack of a government health watch-dog has meant that we've had to be self-regulating. We only sell products that meet our strict guidelines for appropriate design, safe materials, and suitability for the purpose. For example, late in 1998, Health Canada removed all soft vinyl children's and pet chew toys from the marketplace. The EEC followed suit in 2001. In 2007 Fisher Price, a major children's toy manufacturer, was forced to recall numerous models of plastic toys. In each incident, the action followed revelations that these products contained chemicals such as lead and cadmium which are severely dangerous when absorbed. A German study of jelly rubber sex toys found extremely high concentrations of solvents and phthalate off-gassing. A recent U.S.A. study concluded that habitual use equates to chronic exposure. Clearly, if you can absorb these chemicals through the mouth, then you most certainly can through the vagina or rectum. Accordingly, Womyns'Ware Inc. will only sell silicone, hypoallergenic elastomer and food grade vinyl or latex (mentioned as safe alternatives by Health Canada) toys for penetration. As for cheap electronics, well, they just aren't worth the price of their packaging. Even the Chinese press has run stories on the alarmingly poor quality of made in China sex toys. Good quality electronics, whether in stereos or vibrators, are worth the price for their design, quality of materials, function and reliable longer term, more efficient operation.

Our Guide creates an environment that mimics as closely as possible the one that you would find if you were able to visit us in our retail store. Sometimes we're asked: "Why are there line drawings instead of photos?" We've found that the to-scale line drawings give people a better 'picture' of the size differences between products, while photographs obscure details such as scale, girth and pronounced ridges or texture so that people are better prepared with their line drawing view to assess crucial factors with penetrative products. The other problem we've experienced with photos is the colour resolution of each print run and hence expectation of colour of the actual product. This leads to disappointment when the colour doesn't match the expectation. We've thus tried to strike a happy medium with to-scale line drawings as the standard because we believe with sex toys it IS the size that matters!

As you read through the Guide, you'll see that each section starts with a general product tutorial, explains what exactly this or that sex toy is, divides toys into categories, and gives some guidance as to how you might introduce and incorporate the toy into your sex play. The sections then go on to present available products and related components, if applicable, with information to help you make a choice that suits you.

So, even though our products have to do with you being sexual and orgasmic, you'll find that we treat their use in the same way as accessorizing any other consumer activity. One more thing before turning you loose on the goodies inside ... throughout this Guide you are going to find words that wouldn't stand up to the test of a spell check. This is because everyday working language hasn't allowed for the free exchange of sexual dialogue. To create an accessible language to speak about our products, we have had to create our own lexicon, including words such as "dill", "vibe", "lubes", "vaginally", "clitoral", "penetratee", and "penetrator". We trust that you'll get the gist of it as you go along so relax and enjoy reviewing our Sex Toy Guide.

Please note: all prices are in Canadian currency.

Chapter 1: GIFT KITS

We’re using our first Chapter to help you “cut to the chase” - gift kits made up of some of our most requested products and most obvious toy combo-packs with built in price savings. Think of our Gift Kits as the Womyns’Ware equivalent of super-sizing it. Many are assembled around various goodies that we know inevitably end up in the same household toy collection so why not help get you there faster!? The idea here is everything you need to get started is included (things like batteries and lubes, in addition to the special toys) in the kit, attractively wrapped in a miniature galvanized champagne bucket. Flowers and chocolates are nice, but a Womyns’Ware Gift Kit is the gift that keeps on giving. As an added bonus, there is always a savings to be had over purchasing each item individually and you don’t have to figure out how to creatively present your gift because we’ve done that for you. We do want you to read the rest of the Guide though, so while we’re giving you the run down on what’s in what gift kit, the price, and a few other details here you still have to work your way through Chapters 2 through 10 for more detailed descriptions of each individual item. Watch for the Gift Kit icon throughout the Sex Toy Guide for those nitty gritty details.

Chapter 2: DILLS

Dildos are ideal for penetration. You can manipulate the toy in the way you like. Since you needn't worry about keeping electronic components dry, dills are easier to clean than vibes. On their own or combined with a vibe, silicone dills are the longest lasting, easiest to clean toys for vaginal, anal, and, depending on design or accessories, clitoral stimulation. Silicone is hypoallergenic, warm to the touch, sterile, odour free, and resilient. Several manufacturers offer extended replacement warranties against faults in construction or materials.

Silicone is so perfect for dildos that it's the first and foremost material we recommend. Silicone is both dense enough to hold a moulded shape and flexible enough for internal comfort. It responds quickly to temperature so it will match and retain your body heat (try running your toy under hot water before using it or refrigerate for additional experimentation). Silicone also conducts vibration so it is compatible with a vibrator to achieve both penetrative and clitoral stimulation together. Silicone is not absorbent so it doesn't retain smell or bacteria and lubes go further because they aren't being absorbed into the toy. Rubber and soft vinyl products (often called "jellies") fragment, leaving pieces behind (possibly inside your body) and they leach toxins which can be absorbed into the body via the vagina or rectum. Conversely, silicone will not degrade. Cleaning silicone is like cleaning your stainless steel cookware, it's spotless after a good scrub, while rubbers or soft vinyls are more akin to that old plastic container you've got kicking around with the spaghetti sauce stain still visible.

The silicone manufacturing process is labour intensive and the raw material expensive, so this is a woman (and artisan) dominated field resulting in some colourful and clever designs.

When cleaning silicone you are dealing with the surface only, so in most cases soap and water is sufficient. If you have any concerns about yeast infections, crossing from anal to vaginal use, or sharing toys, silicone dills can safely be boiled in a pot of water. Three to four minutes of boiling will kill anything.

We've classified our dills by visual impact (semi-realistic to unrealistic, realistic, earth images, abstract and realistic-plus) for general purpose dills or just as special use dills. After all, you should like the look of your toy enough to be inspired to take it out of the drawer and you ought to know what the toy's intended use is. Within each classification, we discuss size, flexibility or density, warranty, any colour options, and specific design considerations.

Speaking of design, remember that while silicone is probably the only material you should be using for penetrative toys, that doesn't mean that every silicone design is perfect for you. Pay careful attention to our descriptions of density variations (low density is soft and floppy, medium density is firm, and high density is rigid and stiff) under the different classes of dills. Also, note the visual impact of the dills. Aside from copies of male anatomy, silicone makers offer a wide variety of abstract designs that take into account female anatomy and emotional aesthetic issues as well.

Physiological studies indicate that women are capable of achieving ten different orgasmic responses: clitoral, vaginal (often referred to as G-spot), cervical, anal, urethral, breast, mouth, fusion (when more than one area is stimulated at once), zone (stimulation in an area not typically judged as sexual) and fantasy without physical stimulation (Lou Paget, sex educator columnist with Chatelaine Magazine). Anal orgasm is so unique, partly because of the previously sparse information available, that we explore this topic in greater depth in Chapter 8: BUTTS.

The pelvic nerve system is responsible for the sensations you experience with vaginal penetration. Firm upward pressure (the stomach side of the vagina) against the vaginal wall stimulates this pelvic system. Hence, a well designed vaginal product will allow upward pressure to be sustained. If you enjoy cervical contact, you'll also want a product that has sufficient length to reach the cervix — remember, every woman is different so we may not all reach orgasm with each type of stimulation but we'll all be well aware that each area produces a different type of sensation!

Additionally, it's possible to choose well designed women's sexual products that allow external stimulation for tactile clitoral contact together with vaginal stroking. When you look at the bases on the dill designs we offer, you'll discover many where the maker has taken clitoral and labia contact into account along with their vaginal toy.

Dills chosen to utilise their full length allow for labia and clitoral and/or body contact during penetration. Put another way ... don't get something too long! If you don't like having your cervix bumped, shop in the "cervical safe zone" of generally 6" long or under. Dills are measured by their usable penetrative length (excluding base) and diameter (through the dill, not around) at the thickest point (not the head where applicable).

As a general guideline, remember that a "two finger" thickness is just over 1" in diameter. "Three fingers" are just beyond 1 1/2" in diameter, so refer to our size diagram for reference while comparing thicknesses.

Narrow tips make for easy insertion both anally and vaginally regardless of harness or hand held use. When looking for dills for use in harnesses, a helpful hint is to pick something with a "head." Whether realistic or abstract, a head acts as an indicator, for the person wearing the dill, of positioning during withdrawal to avoid "popping" out and breaking the rhythm.

SPECIAL USE DILLS

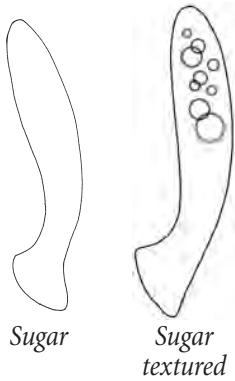

These dills offer some new takes on self empowerment and/or couple's play. Some of them vibrate and can be worn in a harness, some stimulate the G-spot or have added clitoral stimulators, some attach to popular plug-in vibes, some are double-dills for dual penetration, and one has a handle for optimal manual control. It's these unique features that make them "special" to us. All silicone special use dills share a medium density firmness allowing for good movement base to tip.

In most cases, they've been designed to meet a customer demand where the more basic "bread and butter" dills were just not doing the trick. As far as we're aware, there is no rule that says you can only own one sex toy (though in some American states the legislators are working on it) so why not add a little something special to your collection.

A few words about G-spot specific designs in particular... please keep in mind that not all women enjoy G-spot stimulation. For approximately 50% of women, this intense stimulation just makes them feel like they've got to pee!! If you find that a silicone G-spot toy is too intense, you can preheat the dill in warm water. That usually helps. Generally, we recommend women do some experimentation with fingers and upper stroking prior to plunking down the cash on any G-spot toy. If you do decide to go after "the spot", we've assembled some speciality toys to get you there.

SUGAR

This is a "special use" dill because, while at first glance it's merely visually sleek and attractive, there's actually much thought behind its shape. The shaft's angle off the small compact base positions the toy nicely for solo use when hand held and allows for lots of chin room when used during oral sex with a partner. When used in a harness, Sugar's unique curve at the base positions it like a male erection (up and flatter to the body) rather than at a right angle as with most toys. Erect positioning is where any resemblance to male anatomy begins and ends as Sugar's minimalist sculpture form is truly driven by design rather than imitation. This design sense carries through to the clean simplistic packaging which is void of any imagery that can leave one feeling they have something to measure up to. There is even an acrylic display base to cradle it in when not in use. Harness users please note: it will probably require a Slip-Not if you can't downsize the ring in your harness. Warranty is 90 days against defect. Available smooth or with textured watermark. Colour Choice: bermuda blue, crisp kiwi, fresh papaya, pink grapefruit, morning frost and purple orchid (please specify).

CLIT CAPSULE

To paraphrase the bionic man (okay, our age is showing!) and with a grateful nod to the original narrative...Gentlemen, we can rebuild it. We have the technology. We have the capability to build the world's first bionic silicone dual vibe. Clit Capsule will be that toy. Better than it was before. Better, stronger, faster. On the heels of seven years of invaluable customer feedback we recently had the opportunity to improve on all our silicone exclusive designs. Its predecessor was the pioneer silicone dual vibe. Clit Capsule takes the concept further by enhancing the pad with capsules. Besides caressing the clitoris, the clitoral pad now includes a great deal of movement from the newly engineered capsules. Envision a sea anemone swaying in the ocean current and you'll get an idea of what the clitoris will feel. Made of silicone, when you manipulate the shaft, the lanes of vibrating capsules run along the clit. We've maintained the curve for G-spot pressure, textured shaft for drag on the vaginal walls, and head for even more potential contact points. These features provide excellent vaginal stimulation to couple with what is going on at the pad. Thus, a dual silicone vibe (vibe is easily removed for clean up and replacement over the long term) that can be used for many years. Five year warranty on the silicone aspect. Surface area of the clit pad is 1 3/8 x 1 3/4". Vibe requires two AA batteries. Variable speed. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

GOLLY GEE

A bit like Frankenstein, this design slices together a number of features from different sources of inspiration. As indicated by the name, G-spot stimulation is a big factor in the design. This comes from the ridges which are similar to a direct stroking from multiple finger tips while the curve in the shaft keeps the pressure on. Works well in a harness or hand held with very subtle thrusting because the constant upward pressure and evenly distributed ridges cause stroking across the elusive "spot" at every level of insertion depth. The next slice of inspiration comes from the pubic-side of the base which features a distinct hump, just right for clit contact. Finally, there's the removable vibrator, making clean up almost care free! Not to mention that all that vibration running along the underside of the ridges and over the clit hump is a tad electrifying! Five year warranty on the silicone aspect. Vibe requires two AA batteries. Variable speed. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

LITTLE HOTTIE, HOTTIE, HAPPY-DELIGHT, PERK AND BIG BOY

These happy friends are a firm density silicone made in Canada from the folks at Happy Valley. All these dill designs have a hollow that houses a replaceable vibe (included with batteries). The hollow is deeply recessed so that the complete unit is suitable for use in a harness or as a hand held toy. Of note, its standard vibe is made in China and not nearly the quality of the dills it powers which is why it is a benefit that the vibe is replaceable...you can upgrade to something sturdy from our quality vibe selection at a fairly low cost. Vibe runs on 3 LR44 button cell batteries, so keep an extra set on hand 'cause you're not likely to have spares kicking around.

Perk has a tall, smooth shaft with a slight curve to the top where you'll find an elegantly stylized head. For those who like thick, slick and stout, Little Hottie seems tailor made. If, on the other hand, you prefer your substantial girth to come tall, Hottie is the one. While Hottie's height is visually slimming, both Hotties have the same girth and are topped with a defined head and an interesting "pinch" to the back of the shaft just under the head's definition. Happy-Delight has the same dimensions as Perk but with a nonrepresentational look. To be precise, Delight is smooth backed with shallow knuckles on its underside. The final contender in this happy group of friends is Big Boy. Slightly thicker than either Hottie and with more length and texture (courtesy of "veins") on the shaft. Silicone aspects have a lifetime warranty against defects in manufacture. Colour Choice: Perk black, silver, purple, blue; Happy-Delight, Little Hottie and Hottie russet and metallic blue; Big Boy black or silver (please specify.)

NEXUS AND NEXUS JUNIOR

The inventors of this dill went to their workshop to create a double dill with harness use in mind. They emerged with the “nexus” of a smooth textured Woody and something completely new. To coin their phrases, the Nexus has one shorter, curved side for “Givin’ It” and another longer straight side with a distinct head for “Gettin’ It”. The base in-between the two sides is worn behind a harness pubic plate, up against the woman “Givin’ It”. This provides clit stimulation. The toy for the “Gettin’ It” side is generally suitable for vaginal or anal use. The head is always a plus for toys used in a harness. A softer density will make for comfortable anal use, but be aware that the length is such that most women will experience cervical contact with the original Nexus. If you like the idea of Nexus but want something a little scaled down, Nexus Jr. is just the toy. The length is in the cervical safe zone. Lifetime replacement warranty. Colour Choice: Nexus purple swirl; Nexus Jr. blue.

FEELDOE

At first glance this toy appeared peculiar, however once the Womyns’Ware testers were done with it we were seeing (and feeling) it in a new light. The angle between the two aspects makes this an exceptional toy for use (no harness required). In fact once the bulb end is inserted, the angle of the toy is much more akin to male erection (up and flatter to the body) than the right angle of toy to body that is the norm with dill and harness set ups. Great for traditional missionary position. The aspect used by the penetrator (“thrust controller”) has a thicker bulb with a narrow neck. This shape allows the walls of the vagina to grip the toy and draw it in making for a lot of movement before the thrusting even starts. Also a very suitable butt plug shape. The elbow joint has extra mass that fits nicely in the crook of the crotch contributing to a secure hold when used without a harness. The elbow’s base even has a grooved notch that the strap of a G-string harness will settle securely in. The penetratee’s aspect has a few ridges that may hit the clit but you won’t be disappointed if they don’t reach. Comes with a vibe, but we don’t consider it a selling point. Its position leaves it vulnerable to being turned on and off during use - whether used in vigorous or mild action! Vibe runs on 3LR44 button cell batteries (included) so pick up an extra set. Colour Choice: purple.

SHARE

For those who have been waiting for something a bit more hefty, Share is a long awaited and newly welcomed addition to the double toy line up. The bulb shaped end has more mass than what's found in other double toys making it something you can really hang onto. Helpfully, the bulb narrows for a comfortable fit at vaginal opening then spreads and flattens outside the body. Where most double toy makers have tried to incorporate ridges or spines to stimulate the clit, Share's designers have taken a "put on the pressure" approach. This has the benefit of not risking a clit texture that doesn't suit a particular clit! The joint between the two ends is very flexible so many positions can be comfortably explored. Now what about the other side of things for the penetratee? Well there's plenty to share! A stylized head allows great control and a sense of "touch" in those exploratory positions. Along the shaft's length, a furrow curves up either side of the under belly stopping just before the head. And the girth is in a nice range for sharing too. Colour Choice: black, purple and rose (please specify).

CURVE

She likes it! She really really likes it! In keeping with our desire to consider a range of input when evaluating new products, one of our toy testers has a personality that is open and eager but alas, try as she might, just not that into it [sex toys]. Well imagine our surprise when she came back and said Curve is a toy she really liked. Soon she was referring to it as "her" toy and working it into conversations. Curve is the answer to all those who ask "do you have a dill with a handle?" Not only does this have a handle it's super intuitive, making the manipulation of the shaft effortless while the curve allows for pressure on the clitoris if you wish. A perfect angle for solo use, your partner will find that the handle grip acts as an extension of their arm too. The stylized head has a pronounced lift for great G-spot stroking and wings that glide down the shaft for resistance on the vaginal walls. Colour Choice: black, purple and cerise (please specify).

TRADITIONAL DOUBLE DILL

Double Centaur 2 may be more familiar to some because it's patterned in the traditional "double dong" style. Basically, two single dills joined together. While we think modern, more innovative geometry works better for most, some customers swear by the traditional style so we thought we should offer a good quality silicone for the lovers of the double dong classic. You can also check out The Coupler under DILL EXTRAS as a double dill option. Colour Choice: charcoal, blue, lavender, salmon and brown (please specify).

SEMI-REALISTIC TO UNREALISTIC

The dills in this category lack the hyper reality of a dill with testicles and veins. Depending on colour selection, the semi-realistics can range from penis-like to mantlepiece art. Visual impact varies dramatically when you have "traditional" chocolate and vanilla, all the colours of the rainbow, swirly dual colour combos, and in some cases even camouflage and disco glitter to select from. This classification also has a vast array of length and diameter choices, so start studying!

AMORIST

More to the stylized than realistic, Amorist is a no frills, good quality medium density silicone. Though Amorist doesn't have a lifetime warranty, in every other respect it is an excellent choice if you are looking for a cost effective entry level dill. The stylized head makes it great for use in a harness while minimizing the visual impact of more realistic looking toys. Colour Choice: black and black/white swirl (please specify).

STIMULANT

Stimulant has a distinct hook allowing for easy G-spot stroking and a good sense of location if you are putting this toy in a harness. Colour Choice: varies (please phone).

SISSY

Forgive us for repeating ourselves, but Amorist and Sissy are fairly comparable! Leaning a bit more to the stylized than realistic, Sissy is a no frills, good quality, medium density silicone. It's an excellent choice if you are looking for a cost effective strap-onable dill. The stylized head makes it great for use in a harness while minimizing the visual impact of more realistic looking toys (an important consideration for some). Includes a hollow in the base if you'd like to add a vibe (sold separately...Red Zinger recommended) or just wear it on your thumb! Colour Choice: black, copper, blue and violet shimmer (please specify).

Sissy (5 1/4" x 1 3/16") .....$64.85

MYSTERY

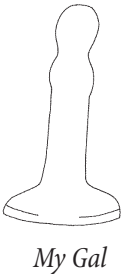

Great design and lifetime replacement manufacturer's warranty on the silicone aspect, Mystery isn't really so hard to figure out! She has a narrow tip and consistent thickness to a harness-compatible base. A hollow hides a replaceable vibe (included with batteries). Vibe runs on 3 LR44 button cell batteries, wise to keep extras around. Colour choice: turquoise.

Mystery (6" x 1 1/4").....$79.85

GALS

Like lots of gals these want to make their mark with classic elegance. The finer sex are, as you know, very versatile and these Gals are no exception. The subtle, coy tilt of their head makes them equally suited for G-spot or prostate stimulation and their delicate curves are just enough to keep you interested. Of course all gals are not the same, so there are some sizes to select from. The flared base makes them safe for anal use and suitable for harness play. Colour Choice: violet shimmer, copper and midnight blue (please specify).

GUYS

These guys never “settle down” ...perhaps the only time you will really appreciate this restless quality in a guy. They are smooth shafted general purpose dills with a modest head and sturdy base that makes them suitable for use anally or vaginally in a harness or hand held. Colour Choice: violet shimmer, copper and midnight blue (please specify).

HOT ROD

Hot Rod offers a visually semi-realistic toy with a moderately high density. It has a head and base that accommodates harness use if you are so inclined. Design includes ribs on the front of the shaft and a curve for a forward stroking sensation. Colour Choice: black, purple, red and silver (please specify).

DEBUTANTE, SLIM AND SLEEK

Debutantes have a medium silicone density with a slight taper at the tip for easier insertion. Other than the tip, the shaft has a consistent thickness from the base up with a very gentle wave and no texture. They are a good choice if you are looking for a toy for both anal and vaginal use. If you wish to use these toys with a harness, however, you will need a Slip-Not (see SOME DILL EXTRAS). Slim and Sleek are essentially two sizes of the same model, both firm with a blunt consistent thickness from top to bottom. Their base works well with a harness, but they lack a telltale head. Their base does, however, include a hollow if you'd like to add a vibe (sold separately...Red Zinger recommended). Colour Choice: Debutantes charcoal, blue, and lavender; Slim and Sleek black, copper, blue and violet shimmer (please specify).

MISTRESS, CHAMPLETTE, LEO, CHAMP AND RANDY

These toys are semi-realistic smooth surface dills with heads. Great designs and fabulous colours complete with a full lifetime replacement manufacturer's warranty. The bases are perfect for harness use or full clitoral and labia contact while hand held. You have a medium density (not too soft, not too rigid) toy.

Champ and Champlette start out with a narrower tip and thicken towards the base, making them a good choice for vaginal penetration because the flare will spread the labia open, giving more clitoral contact. Leo and Mistress stay consistent in thickness throughout their length. Mistress is a common pick for those who want anal penetration in a narrow, but lengthy shaft. Leo is just that much longer and thicker.

Leo is a longer, narrow shafted dill for those who are seeking deeper penetration without the increasing thickness of a Champ. Leo's head is slightly larger than the body of the dill (hence the lion reference in the name) with the shaft remaining a consistent width down to the base. Randy is in a class by itself. Short and squat, this mighty fella may mean a larger harness ring to accommodate its girth. Obviously, meant for sizeists. It'll bring tears to your eyes!

Colour Choice: black, purple and silver glitter (Randy and Champ N/A glitter)(please specify).

REALISTIC PLUS (TESTICLES)

The toys here are ultra realistic dills for those who want it all including the testicles. Often the larger toys contain more silicone than toys without testicles hence the generally higher cost. Some women find that when these toys are worn in a harness, they can place the testicles low, over the clit for extra stimulation. There are two styles of harnesses that best accommodate testicle dills (see Chapter 6: DILDO HARNESES for all the details). If you prefer a jock strap style harness, look at the Family Jewels. This harness will go around the testicles thus cradling those “jewels”. The other style of testicle compatible harness is the G-Strap in leather or nylon. This G-string style has a strap that will run between the testes (and through your legs) serving to hold the testicles firm against your clit. Other harnesses with straps attached to the pubic plates rather than to the rings will, in most cases, work, but they’ll be bulky where the harness goes over the testicles.

JOHNNY

“Where’s the beef?” well here it is. You won’t find a more realistic silicone dick than Johnny, a toy whose testicles come complete with a skin-like wrinkled texture (one is slightly larger than the other, of course). This boy toy is circumcised and has a shaft with bulging veins. The shaft is thicker in the centre and narrows slightly toward the base. Lifetime replacement warranty. Colour Choice: black and vanilla (please specify).

THE PACKAGE

If you’ve always wanted or needed a “package” this is a gender bender dill that’s as close to real as it gets. Such a realistic density (exact enough to pass a squeeze test) hasn’t been found in silicone packers previously. An impressively realistic, circumcised, flaccid penis and testicles for packing. Not unrealistically large but nothing to be ashamed of either. With the definition and folds where you expect to find them (the testicles are so realistic you almost expect them to squeal when you squeeze them) along with its asymmetrical design it’s convincing enough to be worn in your Speedo. Colour Choice: cocoa or vanilla (please specify).

BUTCH

This design definitely captures the basic porn “schlong” look some folks are searching for. Its name hints at its hefty weight and strutting role play potential. One of the reasons that it weighs a lot is because of the high density silicone. While not completely rigid, it is pretty solid which means it feels similar to a rubber dill. Colour Choice: black, cocoa and cream (please specify).

Butch

Butch (5 1/4" x 1 1/2") .....~~$109.85~~ $99.85

REALISTICS

Unlike the semi-realistics, the dills in this class have a hard time passing as mantle pieces or lawn ornaments, regardless of colour choice. Their distinguishing visual feature — veins and/or skin-like texture. This feature does add a drag on vaginal walls which can be a nice sensation beyond merely offering what you’re “looking” for!

CUPID, REX, WOODY AND TYRANNOSAURUS REX

The “boys” are as realistic as brightly coloured silicone can be. The textured surface adds extra stimulation by adding resistance, much like skin-on-skin contact. The heads are exaggerated for stimulation on the vaginal walls. With a twist or short thrust, the feeling is similar to finger pads.

Cupid

Rex

Woody

Tyrannosaurus Rex

Cupid is great for anal play or for those who don’t want too much girth vaginally. Rex is a popular pick for women who like something shorter (the “cervical safe zone”) yet with some thickness. Woody is the same thickness as Rex but longer for more depth. Hint: a little extra length accommodates more luscious thighs. Rex and Woody have a flare for spreading the labia open. Tyrannosaurus Rex is for that full feeling all the way through. All styles are excellent for harness use. Lifetime replacement manufacturer’s warranty. Colour Choice: black and vanilla (Woody and Tyrannosaurus Rex also in purple)(please specify).

LADIES CHOICE, ADAMS, EVE, GOLIATH, LIL-PAL, POCKET PAL AND BIG PAL

The Ladies, Adams & Eve, Goliath and Pals group are made of a softer silicone, making them somewhat floppy, though sturdy enough to hold their own in the larger sizes. Some people find their soft texture more pliable for packing or for deeper anal penetration. We find that the smaller diametered among them can fold or buckle during penetration when used in harnesses. The softer consistency results in less movement at the tip when the base is manipulated during insertion. If you enjoy a longer dill that comes in contact with the cervix you may find softer dills more comfortable. Men often find a softer dill to be more pleasant on the prostate.

Pocket Pal

Adam 4

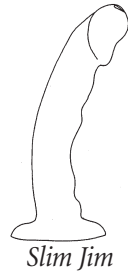

A family of dills for those who love veins and a real look! While a far better choice, the Ladies Choice series have a similar length and thickness to those much maligned mainstream jelly vibes and vinyl dongs that soon degrade. Thankfully, the “ladies” are of good quality silicone instead. They look like the Adams only shorter, like “a lady.” Adams are all longer in length and vary in thickness. Eve has more length to go along with her diameter. Other than that, she looks like Adam. With the same realistic look as the former toys and keeping with the biblical names, Goliath is truly the giant here. It’s BIG! Various sizes within both the Ladies and Adam series. Sans veins, Pocket Pal is also a step down in its dimensions, the same holds true for Lil-Pal in comparison to its hefty cousins. These are smaller, softer silicone alternatives. Big Pal’s got the look of his smaller cousins on top but shares the veiny look of the Adams on his lower half. A short, stout fellow with a pliable character. Colour Choice: charcoal, lavender, blue, banana and pink (please specify).

SLIM JIM

A somewhat realistic toy with enough veins and protruding spine to provide texture when in motion. As hinted at by name, Slim Jim's head has definition without being wider than the shaft of the toy. A middle density silicone that will react at the tip when you manipulate from the base. A good value and functional. Lifetime warranty against defect in manufacture. Colour Choice: black, purple, silver and blue (please specify).

CENTAUR

The Centaurs are dills with a realistic look. Their shafts maintain a constant diameter most of the way, right up to just before the base which is where you'll find the thickest point. Veins and medium density silicone add texture to the surface which translates into the resistance some users enjoy. Various sizes. Appropriate for anal or vaginal use. Colour Choice: charcoal, blue, lavender, salmon and brown (please specify).

EARTH IMAGES AND ABSTRACTS

Earth Image dills are completely non-realistic while still penetratively compatible. Very popular with women who aren't comfortable with representational dills. The Goddess, animal kingdom, marine mammals, reptiles, and even insects provide the inspiration for designs in this category. All of these will work in a harness though some may require a Slip-Not (see SOME DILL EXTRAS). What we mean by "abstracts" are toys that are neither dicks nor Goddesses. These toys are simply for penetration not representation and their form reflects that through their visually low-key design. A lot of former sculptors make their creative living sculpting treats that also serve as sex toys! You're not only considering dill length, width and density (or firmness), you're also selecting the one that's the prettiest to your eye.

VENUS, CATERPILLAR, DOLPHIN, LILITH, WHALE AND SERPENT

We find that cubes and triangles make poor dildos...so when considering earth images one still must adhere to the basic shape of our "Goddess Given" body cavities!

The Venus (available in two sizes) and Caterpillar have heads and bases that are perfect for harness use. Venus' curvaceous figure provides a more intense sensation on the vaginal walls than does Caterpillar's subtle rolls. Both designs offer some pleasant stroking points. Lilith (available in two sizes) is especially suited to harness use because her head is just that, a "head."

Also great for a harness but in the snake rather than Goddess theme, check out the Serpent and its obvious namesake appearance, complete with scales. Both the Dolphin (two sizes) and Whale have a blunter shape.

Colour Choice: Caterpillar, Venus1, Venus2, and Dolphins yellow, orange, red, blue, teal and Caterpillar also available in RAINBOW!; Liliths, Whale and Serpent marbled swirl or solid charcoal, lavender and green (please specify).

KINKYCOBBLER

Delicious

E-Rose

When you look at the detailing, you'll appreciate that the cobbler behind the Kinkycobbler dills harkens from a wood sculpting background. Delicious is a luscious lipped short stout dill (say that ten times fast!) Not only does this toy feature sculpted lips in relief on its shaft, the base also represents stylized lips. If you want to tell someone they are kissable...read these lips. Three soft rolls for stimulation on the shaft are a nice addition and the lip relief acts as a condom anchor too. A friend in need is a friend indeed. These Friends (two sizes) are stylized toys with smaller heads for easy insertion but still enough definition to add stimulation. Their base has a "condom HOLD-FIRM Ring" to prevent condoms from slipping during use. Suitable for use in a harness as well as hand held. The base reminds one of a wall-mounted trophy plaque. E-Rose and Rosebud (with the "e" for epicurean) are inspired by the classic romantic gesture of a rose. Essentially the same design in two sizes, a distinctive head makes the roses a great choice for harness use. Stems and leaves are added on the shaft in relief providing additional texture during use. A clever addition to the design is the stem winding down and circling the shaft at the base to provide a ridge specifically to hold a condom securely in place. All Kinkycobbler dills are made of slightly squishy, medium density handcrafted silicone (meaning condoms are only necessary if you don't have time for proper clean up between use or users). Lifetime replacement manufacturer's warranty. Colour Choice: black, purple, blue, red and pink (please specify).

DEEP SECRET

Made in Canada from a company whose slogan is “Above All Have Fun!”, who couldn’t love them? Deep Secret is an attractively priced abstract design leaning toward the firm side in terms of silicone density. This firmness can be positive with the shorter toys since they’ll have lots of action and sensation for vaginal use. The rolling double-sided knuckle-like bumps are interesting to experiment with using a rocking motion, in place of straight up thrusting. Bulges give your vaginal walls something unique to clench around during orgasm as well as offering a hybrid plug/bead option for anal experimentation. It’s wise to gradually insert this toy using a tipping motion because of the indentations combined with the stiffer density. Lifetime warranty against defect in manufacture. Colour Choice: black, silver, purple and blue (please specify).

SOME DILL EXTRAS

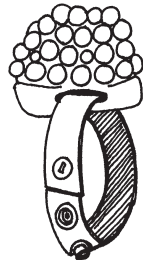

Creative things to add to dills or use with a dill and harness.

CLIT BERRY

This is pure genius. Handy as a clit stimulator all by its lonesome or as a clitoral addition to any dill where the Berry acts as a clitoral pad on the pubic base for a fab harness ride! Clit Berry’s design adds clitoral stimulation when rubbed over the clit. Using its adjustable

Cheery-O ring, the silicone Berry can be strapped to a dill for clitoral stimulation during penetration or to a penetrative vibe to both diffuse the intensity of the vibration and to add a pleasant extension for clit contact. Colour Choice: Berry cobalt purple; Cheery-O ring black.

Lord of the rings

LIBERTY BELL

There are many products on the market trying to be the Liberty Bell but no one has got it so right for so many couples, liberating them from the tyranny of penetration without clitoral orgasm! This silicone wonder is the ideal way to add heightened clitoral stimulation to dildo play. The ring and clitoral bell are molded of a soft but resilient silicone for comfort and easy cleaning. Plenty of stretch in the ring means one size fits most dills. The mini-capsule texture on the face of the bell adds further clitoral stimulation that compliments the vibration. The vibration zips along the whole ring of silicone and resonates through your silicone dill! The vibe packs an amazing kick in a very small package so presents minimal bulk between you and your partner. Hint: also works very well in a dill harness by putting it on the toy before slipping the toy through the harness (bell side down for the harness wearer's bonus). Silicone aspect has a one year warranty against defects. Remove the vibe for cleaning or replacement. Variable speed. Runs on three LR44 button cell batteries (included, additional batteries $2.85/3 pack). You can opt to upgrade to a Red Zinger vibe for $10 more, if you'd prefer the zing with your ring and don't mind a cord-joined control pack. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

NUBBLES SLEEVE

A soft elastomer sleeve that a Mini Pearl vibrator slides into, Nubbles diffuses the intensity of vibration and holds the Mini Pearl onto a silicone dill in much the same position as the clitoral vibrator portion of a dual vibe (as shown in the top illustration). Better yet, it's got extra cushioning at the tip and is covered in nubs! The combination of a Mini Pearl vibe, Nubbles and a silicone dill is more versatile and ultimately a more cost effective alternative to the dual vibes. The Mini Pearl (see Chapter 3: VIBES) is simple to replace and the silicone keeps going and going. Nubbles Sleeve also fits Action and Red Zinger vibes. By reversing the position of the Sleeve (as shown in the bottom illustration) for harness use, the harness wearer is rewarded with clitoral stimulation and the vibration will be conducted throughout the dill. Bonus! Colour Choice: purple. (Vibe sold separately.)

SWINGERS PAD

Well we don't like to brag but...this Womyns'Ware exclusive is the most versatile pad we carry (not to boast either). The hole allows you to decide which dill you'd like to slip into the Pad, instead of committing you to a fixed static option. Perhaps you'd rather use a butt plug? It can do that too. This gives you the swingers lifestyle by being able to change your penetrative partners when ever the whim takes you. Or just use the Pad alone for clit stimulation and skip the penetration. In any of these configurations, placing the Pad into a harness for the wearer's benefit adds a great deal of stimulation with each thrust. Or add an amazing thigh ride experience by putting the Pad on the outside of a Thigh Harness, latched on by putting the Pad's hole on to the dill that's in use. Plus, you probably already have some dills or plugs in your collection to add through the hole, making it economical as well as versatile. It creates a clitoral pad on your dill of choice! We told you this Pad swings. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

SLIP-NOT AND THE COUPLER

Slip-Not will allow you to use a dill in a harness when the dill base might otherwise be too small. Made of high density foam, it is 3/8" thick and will make the base 4" in diameter.

The Coupler is a simple and ingenious strap that converts two single dills into the traditional "double dong". If you already own two dills, this is an easy and inexpensive option for checking out a double. Colour Choice: Slip-Not grey; Coupler black.

Chapter 3: VIBES

We've made a very conscious decision to include only quality products in our Guide to save on your heartache and our through-the-mail headache. You may have seen products that appear to be less expensive but we caution you to look closer. Some of the countries producing sex toys have little or no concern about the performance of their product. Many use inferior switches and components manufactured in poor working conditions. When you combine low-end electronics with disgruntled workers you get, not surprisingly, unreliability and short life expectancy. We find too often people don't complain about products that only work for a short time or people think of themselves as inadequate instead of the toy when they didn't "get off" on it. As consumers we demand quality in the things we buy. Why should these products be any different? Often the sex toy trade uses our shyness or discomfort around sexual products to follow in the footsteps of snake oil salesmen. That attitude is not repeated in our Guide and so we've restricted our vibe selection to high-end electronics only. There are no cheap rip-offs lurking here to be fobbed off on an unsuspecting consumer.

The right tool for the job is key when selecting a vibrator. Yes, they all vibrate, so does the washer in spin cycle. However, it's probably not the right tool for adding clitoral stimulation to sex play with your partner (though we're always interested in creative endeavours). Again ask yourself some questions. Do you want something for clitoral or penetrative stimulation, or both? If you require a lot of power, something that plugs in will give it to you. If intense vibration isn't the main requirement, vibes that run on batteries offer more mobility and a smaller physical size. Battery operated vibes usually have variable speed while plug-ins have high/low settings.

Why do we care whether the intended use is clitoral, penetrative, or a combination? Because women orgasm differently, depending on which nerve system is being stimulated and knowing what sort of stimulation you're after helps us match you up with the right product design to accomplish the task. Exterior stimulation (clitoral, labia and perineum) triggers the pudendal nerve system which responds to tactile contact. Internal (vaginal) stimulation triggers the pelvic nerve system which responds to firm pressure. Hence, an inert vibrating object will provide little or no vaginal stimulation when merely inserted but may, when placed across the clitoris and labia, be quite stimulating. Conversely, a dildo of the appropriate length and circumference, stroking upwardly against and along the vaginal walls can be very stimulating without any vibration whatsoever.

If you want clitoral vibration, you'll need more than just a vibrating shaft. Vibrators work by stimulating the bundle of nerve endings clustered in the clitoris. A battery operated vibe designed for external use will more than do the trick for clitoral stimulation. External contact is crucial so make sure that any penetrative option has a corresponding base or extension for labia and clitoral contact.

Vibration may also be pleasant on the G-spot (many women find intense massage from specially designed dills [see Chapter 2: DILLS: SPECIAL USE] to be a better choice here, though) and definitely gets the nerve endings in the rectum going. The key to penetrative vibration, however, is not just whether a product vibrates but also whether it is made of a material that will be safe and pleasurable for penetration. This fact pretty much rules out hard plastic, for example.

If you want combination stimulation try a dual vibe. Generally, with few exceptions, the silicone designs require manual manipulation while the Japanese food grade vinyl and the elastomer (and two of the German silicone) models rotate penetratively and vibrate clitorally at the flick of a switch. Japanese and German products are well made but akin to buying a car or stereo. The good ones run longer, but they all break down someday. Some of the classic-model Japanese vibes have food grade vinyl shafts. Classic design is always nice, but even food grade vinyl does have a somewhat limited life span (entirely dependent on use and user, but as a general rule, we say expect some colour degradation fairly early on). Shafts made of either the newer elastomer (vibes from Japan) or high-grade silicone (duals from Germany) will last a very long time. Elastomer is inert so will not degrade while sitting on a shelf, unused, but still porous enough that it will eventually degrade over the years. Silicone is inert and nonporous. It has a library life that is essentially a lifetime, meaning no visible degradation. That's the shaft's life span, not the mechanics, mind you! There's more to this tutorial, so keep following along here a little longer ... The mechanics necessary to operate any dual function are under a lot of duress so don't expect a lifetime of use. Duration of use for the overall unit will inevitably be determined by the mechanics, regardless of the shaft's material composite. For this reason, we highly recommend a silicone vibe with a replaceable motor or a combination of an external-use clitoral vibe and silicone dill or silicone plug (no mechanics) for vibrating penetration. This option is best for versatility and long term cost effectiveness.

To clean silicone sheathed vibes, hot water and basic hand soap applied with a damp cloth will be fine. If the vibrator shaft or bullet is made of food grade vinyl, remember that food grade vinyl is a material that absorbs body fluids and dissolves if exposed to oils. For this reason, we recommend using an adult toy cleaner (see VIBE ACCESSORIES: Toy Cleaner) with nonoxynol-9 or without, it depends on your personal hygiene circumstances — we go into the options at the particular cleaner's page — whatever brand, always apply with a damp cloth. Rinse with clear water after using the cleaner.

When cleaning elastomer vibes a mild antibacterial soap and water is sufficient. The material has some porousness, so be sure to rinse with clear water. Then air or towel dry. Other elastomer tips: it's an inert elastomer meaning it will not break down over time nor adhere to other toys. It can be easily cleaned for one use or user but should not be shared without a condom. Silicone or water based lubricants are fine but oil based lubes should not be used. The oil will degrade the elastomer. When combining sex and massage remember that massage oils are just that — oil.

In all cases, never get water near electronic control panels or cords. If you can remove attachments and wash them separately, do so. If you do accidentally get water in your battery compartment, take out the batteries and let the vibe air dry. A damp Q-tip dipped in baking soda is small enough to get into the battery compartment and baking soda neutralizes acid, so try this cleaning technique should battery corrosion occur. Even with waterproof vibes, it's a good idea to open up and let the battery compartment air dry after exposure.

We've classified our vibes by intended use (in water, clitoral, dual clitoral and penetrative, clitoral or penetrative, and penetrative only) and mode of operation (battery operated or plug-in, rechargeable, rotating dual or manual dual vibes). We've also got some specialty vibes — water use and couples' — to add to your toy collection. Adjacent to their counterparts, we've included some related non-vibrating toys plus add-on attachments or accessories.

Regardless of classification, vibes should be treated like any other good electronic device: never immerse in water when cleaning, don't sleep on them, keep lube out of the control panel, insert batteries per instructions and don't yank on those cords.

WATER USE VIBES

Whether you enjoy a retreat to a B&B with soaker tubs, or your only alone time is when you bathe, or like me everything you touch inexplicably flies out of your hands and ends up in the toilet, these water use vibes might be just the thing for you! We call them “water use” because they come from different manufacturers. Some are waterproof (immersible) and some are water-resistant (showering is great but don't immerse in the bath).

The other great advantage that water use vibes offer is that cleaning them is a breeze (though we don't recommend toilet water!) Its a good idea after cleaning to open the battery compartment, remove the batteries and let the whole kit and caboodle air dry. Batteries that are exposed to water tend to leak and once you have battery acid in a toy you really have insurmountable problems.

What's so great about water use toys anyhow? Well, let's start with the location: the bathtub. Many of us already enjoy quality time with the shower massage, because warm water feels great! It's relaxing and it makes arousal and orgasm easier. A water use vibe makes it easier to enjoy the benefits of the bathtub without the yogic contortions necessary for getting our bits lined up with that magic spot under the faucet! The bathroom is also often one of the only rooms in the house that has a lock! For those who enjoy ambiance, the bathroom is a small room that is easy to light with candles, scent with bubble bath or essential oils, and create an instant get away. One more suggestion: the bath or shower can be a lovely “escape” for people with kids ... the noise of the shower can mask what ever else might be taking place!

ACTION

If you want a vibe design sans cord and you're looking for something so tiny that you can sneak it into your change purse or even a pocket, this vibe is it. So small that it almost looks like a lipstick in your pocket, with variable speeds and setting, and water resistant to boot. A nifty combination with the Eggstasy Pouch too. Three LR44 button cell batteries (included) is all it needs to pack a punch. Very quiet! Colour Choice: purple. Additional batteries $2.85/3 pack.

THE MUNCHKINS

Awwh, Cute! When these little gems first arrived at our door the screams of delight coming from shipping and receiving led us to believe that they would be a hit! This time it's not a cliché ... good things do come in small packages (kinda like our shipper and receiver, come to think of it!). Here are the details as to how good. Multi-speed functions with easy touch control “+” and “-” switches conveniently located on the Munchkin's belly. Eight levels of constant vibration and once you get to the intense vibration, a push and hold of the “+” button initiates a series of specialized vibration programs. The first repeats a series of low to high surges. Second is pulsating bursts of vibration. Third is rapid, even bursts of vibration. Made in Germany. Silicone sheath. Great quality, quiet for the power they put out and waterproof. Fin has a focus point on the “bill” that can be directed to the G-spot. Captain Hook is a traditional G-spot shape with a raised “saddle” for some light texture on the shaft. Dinomite also has a G-spot specific snout with the addition of gentle rolls that fully circle the body. Mini Me has soft belly ridges for sensation options where you want them and a smooth back. Bugsie has the most intense texture with chubby cheeks and love handles that encircle the toy from top to bottom. Variable speed. Require two AAA batteries.

GENERATION TWO: FUN FACTORY

Dino

Gigolo

Dolphin

Nautilus

Target

Digger

This Fun Factory line of water resistant vibes have quiet operation and a speed control switch that rotates a full 360 degrees, offering more finesse in control and greater degrees of vibration from high to low. Gigolo adds a slight head to the classic smooth shaft. Dolphin's design is essentially smooth with a focus point on the "bill". These smooth designs produce very little friction or resistance when used internally. The head on Gigolo or Dolphin creates pressure on the G-spot when inserted to about one half of the shaft's length. Externally, across the head of the clitoris and the labia, they'll feel similar to a warm gush of water. A "friendly, saucy little animal with perfect curves", Dino's head is tipped back so its bulbous snout applies vibration to the G-spot. Its gentle plump ripples encircle the toy and run the full length providing an even stimulation. Nautilus, the name of the submarine in Jules Verne's 20,000 Leagues Under The Sea and yet another reference to a classic horror movie was chosen for this water resistant toy because its shape is suggestive of a tentacle from the giant squid that the Nautilus battled in the movie (and "Squid" didn't sound so sexy to us)! But it's not all fun and games in the naming department, the belly of this toy has soft ridges for sensation where you want it and two subtle lines on its back. Drop a pebble into calm waters and you'll have an idea of the design inspiration for the front side of Target. Radiating rings from the centre pebble on the front and rolling waves stacked from base to tip on the back are sure to offer gentle texture that hits the right spot. Still waters run deep. Nice texture with an attractive sculptural form. Both Nautilus and Target are good for the consumer who wants the texture of Dino without the G-spot curve. Also great if you don't want happy faces on your toys but do want more texture than Gigolo offers. Have you been looking for an expert in tunneling around in dark confined spaces? Digger, styled after a mole, is the little cutie you may be after. His paws are politely held close to his body so as not to scratch and to prove his intentions are gentle he clutches a daisy, keeps his eyes discreetly squinted shut and approaches with a smile. These details are sweet to look at and make for a nice texture when the toy is in use. In keeping with his breed he is smaller in stature than the other Gen IIs. Because he's a shorty his motor is closer to the top of his head making for a little more intense vibration than is possible with the others of his kind. Medical grade silicone shafts, variable speed and run on two AA batteries.

JOLIE, WATER DANCER AND TITAN

Not the “official” choice of Canada’s Olympic Synchronized Swim Team but they could be. Water Dancer is a compact, quiet, quality vibe that’s waterproof to boot! Both Water Dancer’s and Titan’s tips have four bumps for focusing vibration or you can use the transparent cap for diffusion. Titan is also waterproof with many of the same quality and design features as Water Dancer only with twice the power and a longer reach. Be aware, two batteries powering Titan add substantially more rattle noise, making it powerful but titanically loud too. Have a busy household? Finding it hard to get some private time? Why not jump in the shower for some time to yourself? ... Another addition, this time to the Natural Contours line, Jolie shares the same philosophy of designs that don’t resemble conventional sex toys. In this case, we think it’s slyly disguised as a dental floss container. It still has the line’s pubic mound hugging curve and a strong vibrating kick but is the smallest Natural Contour to date. Just the toy for a tropical get-away. The open/close and on/off operations are clearly marked and well apart, making water mishaps easy to avoid. One year manufacturer warranty against defects. Both Water Dancer and Jolie are one speed and require one AA battery. Titan is one speed, requiring two AA batteries.

JIMMY JANE’S LITTLE CHROMA

If Water Dancer got a make over and became the next “Top Model,” you’d have Little Chroma. No, it does not have any fabulous programmable vibration patterns...it turns on and off. No, it does not offer to stimulate more than one area at a time...it will service the area you give it to service. No, it does not feature any awe inspiring design innovations...it is in essence a very simple vibrator. And yet when you look at it, hold it, and observe it in action, you just really, really, really want to have it. Something about it incites that desire for luxury, even when you know the label isn’t everything, owning the object is cathartic, thrilling, and for those who have prestige on their radar, these will be embraced. Enveloped inside what appears to be a high-end aluminum cigar case is a quiet little motor. This motor generates a steady vibration that leans more towards a deep, low rumble than a zing. To turn it on you must tighten the cap. To turn it off you unscrew the cap. The frequency does not vary; however, it does offer a range of intensity along its length. The closer to the tip, the more intense the vibration. As you move down the shaft, the vibration is subtler. Cap features an opening into which a chain can be threaded, so it can be a necklace! (Actually the company suggests that a cord be laced through the opening in the event that the vibe is used anally.) Operates on a single AA battery for approximately 16 hours. Waterproof. Discreet. Elegant. Replaceable motor for $45 through the manufacturer. Case is double-anodized aluminium. Colour Choice: olive, orange and purple (please specify).

Chroma (5 3/8" x 2 1/32").....$199.85

LAVA SPOT

This upscale ergonomic vibe is a total package: lovely to look at, pleasant to touch, easy to use, extremely quiet, completely water proof, and packaged with care. Most packaging isn't something worth mentioning (unless it's XXX in which case we usually give the whole thing a pass) but in the case of Fun Factory packaging, the whole experience is beautifully designed from elegant display (don't throw it away without harvesting those cool fridge magnet closures) to Euro use & care logos that actually provide you with useful information and smart sex ed tips. This product communicates an air of prestige and luxury. The vibe's discreet styling will go anywhere including the bath as it is fully submersible. If your kids find it, you're likely to discover them using it as a Star Trek phaser. Inert elastomer sheaths the plastic body in a softer outer shell for comfortable use to go along with its good looks. It operates very quietly so the fact that the control panel lights up will help you to make sure you don't put it away while it's still on. Pushing the "+" or "-" buttons will take you through three distinct vibration patterns with variable speeds in each (it uses a step up pulse technology which also gives you a longer battery life). The first pattern is a constant even vibration, and it should be noted that the low is very low, something that those looking for a light touch are sure to appreciate. The second pattern is a repeating pulse that starts low and builds to high and the third pattern features quick, even bursts. Requires two AAA batteries. Colour Choices: black or lavender with silver accents; chocolate, pistachio, antique rose or candy blue with vanilla accents; and turquoise or pistachio with magenta accents (please specify).

BATTERY OPERATED CLITORAL VIBES

Most of these vibes are Japanese manufactured (with the exception of the Natural Contours which are designed in the U.S.A. but made in China and Downunder toys designed and silicone cast in Australia but with removable electronics from China) and are battery operated. They are designed primarily for external, clitoral stimulation. Their quality and design are excellent.

CLIT POD

Clit Pod is part of our “encapsulating” series! This innovative silicone sleeve comes complete with its recommended vibe companion, Mini Pearl, thus offering a safe, economical, easy to clean, zippy vibration conductor, top quality sleeve. Sure it’s also an alternative to shorter life vinyl (and worse, stuff like those icky jellies that show up in so many places) sleeves but its poor quality brethren shouldn’t distract from its innovative self...quality is great, great design even better! The Pod’s texture and softness is a wonderful accessory to the otherwise hard surface of most plastic mini vibes. For the cost conscious, you’ll be glad to know that when the vibe gives up the ghost you can keep your Pod and just replace the vibe. One year warranty against defects on the silicone aspect. Vibe requires two AA batteries. And we do give you the option of buying the Pod alone, if you already have a compatible vibe. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

MINI PEARL, HONEY DOG AND RED ZINGER

These versatile vibrating “bullets” are small enough to cup in your hand so you can diffuse the vibration through your fingertips if you wish. Great for playing alone and unobtrusive when added to couple’s play. Hand the controls to your partner and let them decide the intensity of vibration while you place the “bullet”.

Mini Pearl’s “bullet” can be inserted into an Eggstasy Pouch or Vibe-A-Guy for hands free clitoral placement or use with a Sleeve (see VIBE ACCESSORIES) to combine external vibration with dill penetration. Designed for clitoral stimulation, the “bullet” should be placed in an unlubricated condom if it is to be inserted. Mini Pearl’s “bullet” is hard plastic and slender. It’s a good quality, basic clitoral design vibe. Often an ideal first vibe, Mini Pearl is easy to add to other products down the road. Many a woman has looked at the flicking clitoral vibrator on the dual vibes and swooned “Can you get this on its own!?” Yes! We can’t tell you why it’s called Honey Dog and perhaps we don’t want to know. We can tell you that it has a soft food grade vinyl coating, versatility and quiet operation with the addition of the flicking tongue. Red Zinger is sure to become the classic that its namesake the original herb tea has. Likewise, this vibe is zesty and snappy with a rich red colour, short sharp vibration and as the tea is described “a time-honored favorite with a 100% natural burst of excitement.” Special note: the little red bullet fits any silicone toy that accepts the Re-Buzz and allows you or your partner finger tip control of speed changes. If inserting it into a silicone toy, first line the cavity of the toy with the corner of a plastic bag. This allows you to pull the bag not the cord to get the vibe to slide out. All are variable speed and require two AA batteries.

JOYBERRY

Well anointed, Joyberry looks like a berry and is sure to bring joy. This Downunder toy combines a textured silicone berry with a cool multifunction vibe. The vibe can be replaced when it breaks down so you never have to part with your silicone berry. Since silicone is easy to clean and highly conductive, you get the maximum benefit from the various settings on the vibe - all seven of 'em! Low, medium and high steady vibration comprise the first three settings, then things get interesting. The fourth setting is a surging wave from low to high. Fifth is pulsating bursts of vibration, sixth a quicker version of the fifth, and seventh is three short successive beats followed by one drawn out pulse. The design of this toy makes it most suitable for clitoral vibration, but go ahead and try it as an anal plug or for shallow vaginal penetration. Just make sure to clean it appropriately between users or uses. Requires four AA batteries. Variable speed, multifunction vibe. Colour Choice: Berry violet shimmer, copper and midnight blue (please specify).

PALM PETS

From Downunder, these are the first silicone vibrators designed exclusively for external stimulation. They use an egg-style vibrator control on a cord that allows you to easily make speed changes while with a partner or on your own. Silicone is very conductive so the vibration is even throughout the toy and the Palm Pet warms up wonderfully to your body temperature. All the different appendages give you a variety of ways to focus the vibrations.

Pretty Kitty's flexible tail can either be similar to the stroking of a finger or a great handle when using her tummy. Slippery Seal has a nose, flippers and a tail that are perfect for positioning vibration on and encircling the clitoris. Platypus' bill and tail are very effective for perineal as well as clitoral stimulation and she's got a set of flippers too. If you find hard plastic vibrators numbing and don't care for a penetrative option, these little pets are just the devoted companionship you need. They won't cry to go out at night but you might cry out for them. The vibrator that's embedded in the silicone can be removed to boil the toy or to replace when it breaks down. The silicone pet will last and last. All are variable speed and require two AA batteries. Colour Choice: Pretty Kitty and Slippery Seal purple, blue and pink; Platypus purple, blue and copper (please specify).

NATURAL CONTOURS

Natural Contours are ideal vibrators for the gal who wants a toy that doesn't look like a conventional sex toy and isn't concerned about teaming up or accessorizing her vibe with other toys. Airport security will be left scratching their heads.

Ultime

Petite and Superbe are compact, discreet clitoral external vibes with an elegant arch shape designed to provide ample contact over the pubic mound and whole labia area. Magnifique is a longer version which will provide a longer reach. Liberté is similar in reach to Magnifique but with a narrower sleek profile and a pulse setting in addition to the standard three speeds. Ultime is designed for G-spot stimulation and for some women it may even be possible to get simultaneous clitoral contact due to the super arch shape. This design is further enhanced by having a motor located at both ends of the arch. Keeping the almost horseshoe shape in mind, the length measurements below are taken "as if" Ultime were stretched flat. The manufacturer recommends the latter three vibes for internal use as well as external but be sure that a hard plastic toy is the right thing for your soft vagina before diving into this particular recommendation. Three speeds. Run on two AA batteries (included). One year manufacturer warranty against defects.

BATTERY OPERATED VIBE ACCESSORIES

Creative things to add to mini vibes or use with most of them. Since these are add-ons, all compatible vibes or other suggested toy companions are sold separately.

CLIT POD

This innovative silicone sleeve offers a safe, economical, easy to clean, zippy vibration conductor, top quality alternative to shorter life vinyl (and worse, stuff like those icky jellies that show up in so many places) sleeves. The Pod's texture and softness is a wonderful accessory to the otherwise hard surface of most plastic mini vibes. Fits over bullets in the 2" x 1 1/2" diam. range. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

Clit Pod

RABBIT SLEEVE

This optional food grade vinyl sleeve fits on any of Tsubo, Water Dancer, Titan and Mini Pearl, turning these vibes into the flicking clitoral vibrator seen on the dual latex vibes and the Honey Dog bullet style vibe. It will also diffuse the vibration and many women like the movement of the bunny's ears. Food grade vinyl, so don't expose it to oils. Colour Choice: translucent purple.

DANDELION SLEEVE

We like this crazy looking (like a dandelion gone to seed) sleeve. It's made of elastomer, a material second only to silicone in ease of care and cleaning. It has an intriguing look and the "fluffs" are very soft and really move when you slip the sleeve onto your favourite vibe. Works with many vibes including Water Dancer, Titan, Mini Pearl, Jolie and others. To avoid tearing your Dandelion please leave it on the vibe, once put on. It's not like a swim cap...you do not take it off after every swim! Colour Choice: hot pink.

NUBBLES SLEEVE

An elastomer sleeve that the Mini Pearl vibe slides into, Nubbles will diffuse the intensity of the vibration, protect the vibe bullet from moisture, stabilize the cord, and give you a handy pull tab if you happen to insert the bullet somewhere! Or use it as a finger harness to turn any bullet style vibe into a vibrating finger tip! Better yet, it's got extra cushioning at the tip and is covered in nubs! Besides, Nubbles also holds the Mini Pearl onto a silicone dill in much the same position as the clitoral vibrator portion of a dual vibe. The combination of a Mini Pearl vibe, Nubbles Sleeve, and a silicone dill is more versatile and ultimately a more cost effective alternative to the dual vibes. The Mini Pearl is simple to replace and the silicone keeps going and going. Nubbles Sleeve also fits Action and Red Zinger vibes. Colour Choice: purple.

EGGSTASY POUCH

This is the perfect addition to any battery operated clitoral vibe. You drop in the vibe and then strap on the pouch which holds the vibrating egg right where you want it hands free. The best thing, it doesn't completely cover your genitals so you are open for other types of stimulation. Pouch is available in soft leather or machine washable denim and there is plenty of room in the bungy cord straps to fit everyone, plus it's adjustable. Pouch capacity accommodates up to 1 1/4" diam. range and 2 1/3" long vibes. Colour Choice: black.

BETTER SEX ESSENTIALS TOY CLEANER

If your toys are latex, elastomer or vinyl, you really ought to consider a cleaner due to the porous nature of these composites. Even with silicone toys (which can be cleaned up with hot water and basic hand soap), you may find a time where Better Sex Essentials Toy Cleaner comes in handy as it doesn't require water to work. An antibacterial toy cleaner very suitable for the user who, while concerned with cleanliness, is still looking for something gentle. This one does not contain the Nonoxynol-9 (a detergent best suited for fighting viral infections) that most toy cleaners do. Better Sex Essentials is more than sufficient for keeping any sex toy clean for most applications and many situations. It also works without water if you find yourself in a situation where water is scarce or not potable. Just be sure to let the cleaner dry completely before subsequent use of your toy!

Better Sex Essentials

ADULT PLAY TOY CLEANER

We consider this a must for rubber, latex or vinyl toys where there is a reason to be concerned about the spread of known or suspected viral agents such as genital herpes. Rubber toys' porous surface is a holding ground for bacteria and yeast infections. Toy cleaners are not necessary for silicone (silicone care is explained in detail in Chapter 2: DILLS). Contains nonoxynol-9 which is a very strong but effective cleaner that will kill viral agents. Care should be taken to thoroughly rinse it away to avoid irritation. Highly concentrated, Adult Play Toy Cleaner can be diluted one tablespoon to three cups of water.

BATTERIES

Not too much to say except keep an extra set around for back up and follow manufacturer insertion instructions. Unlike trusty alkalines, LR44 button cell batteries don't hold a lot of power for very long, consequently you'll want to keep extra sets around if your vibe runs on LR44 batteries. Luckily, we sell them in a 3 pack! Alkaline batteries sold individually so you decide how many.

ROTATING DUAL VIBES

The food grade vinyl and elastomer, all mechanical dual vibrators, are Japanese products. The silicone ones are from Germany. They offer a combination of clitoral and penetrative stimulation at the same time. That's why we call them dual vibes! Their shafts rotate to create stroking on the vaginal walls, while the external vibe flicks the clitoris. Both elements are separately controlled so you can customize the action to what works for you. The range of movement in the shaft is key. If you were to use these toys in a thrusting manner you couldn't maintain contact with the clitoral vibrator. It is also important to note that the full length of the shaft must be inserted to have clitoral contact with the vibrator. But for the German made silicone ones, all the shafts are made of either food grade vinyl or elastomer which have a nice softness but are porous and difficult to clean (elastomer less so but...) so a toy cleaner (see VIBE ACCESSORIES) is highly recommended. No sharing, either.

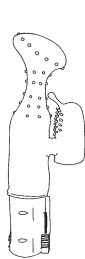

All mechanical things ultimately break down. High-end vibes last longer but they all fail eventually (you will find it difficult, if not impossible, to have your vibe repaired). The rotating shaft's mechanics operate under a lot of stress, when you consider the clenching of the vaginal muscles. We must point out that the all mechanical duals are not designed for a full on interactive experience. They should not be "ridden," they should not be manually rotated, and they should not be "clenched" upon with all the user's might. If you impede the shaft's rotation it will either struggle to move on or stop entirely. If you want all the bells and whistles without interaction, by all means go for an all mechanical dual. The pro side of an all in one is that there is no added creativity needed to get from A to B. However, if you want a toy that has partner play potential, whose motor is interchangeable and whose shaft is interchangeable then a build it yourself is the answer. Which means you should move on to our build it yourself dual alternatives. If you're sticking with considering an all mechanical rotating dual vibe, we are showing you high quality dual Japanese and German made vibes and those who use 'em love 'em! We caution you not to be fooled by manufacturers producing products that look deceptively similar and are named to trick you. There are a whole slew of cheap copies out there but not in here. As a point of interest for those wondering, "What's with the little animals?" Japan has a law against the export of goods depicting human genitalia. The Germans just seem to have a real sense of fun. The dimensions given below are usable penetrative length and diameter at the widest point.

THE HELLRAISERS

The FX visual resemblance was too uncanny for us to resist naming these high-tech elastomer Japanese vibes after the Pinhead character from the cult classic Hellraiser mythology! Don't be frightened: your enjoyment (not "your suffering") will be legendary even in hell!! A key difference between these hellions and Clive Barker's is that the pokes on these head coverings are soft and friendly. You won't believe the frenzied dance motion these wiggly tabs enact when the vibration surges through. Take the Hellraiser motto "It's time to die" and add "with pleasure" and you're getting a picture of the results from this soft, rapid motion. The flicking elastomer tabs are far lighter and faster than you may be familiar with from the clitoral aspect of the old classics, like Beaver or Rabbit. The littlest hellion, Thumbelina is likely to “Raise a little hell, raise a little hell, raise a little hell”. The pokes or “pins” are relatively short as is the shaft length and girth. Why even the batteries are smaller (requires four AAA) in order to make the control pack sleek. Size is the only place this little devil’s helper is reduced. Thumbelina

Thumbelina

Quiver

Rock Your World

still has a vibe in the head of the shaft controlled by the amount of vibration you choose on the clit tickler. A separate control allows you to decide how quickly the shaft swings. Quiver is squat and has a rotating shaft with an extended head to apply a bit more pressure to the front of the vaginal wall. It’s got a vibe in the head of the shaft and on the clit tickler. Rock Your World has a vibe in the head of the shaft, correlated with the swing (the faster it swings the faster it vibrates) as well as in the clit tickler. The shaft also has contoured rolls to provide a change in the texture. Its clit critter has wings for contact with the labia as well as centre pokes for clit stimulation. Four AA batteries required for Quiver, three for Rock Your World. All shafts are elastomer and controllers have variable speed. Colour Choice: Thumbelina and Rock Your World translucent lavender; Quiver mother of pearl white or iridescent purple (please specify).

MOTHRA (BUTTERFLY)

If you have problems keeping track of your toys or lovers or have always wanted to work “lights camera action” into your sex talk, help is here. Bonus: if you are a bit of a horror movie nut you will appreciate the name of this toy as a nod to the film Godzilla vs Mothra (Japan 1964). Forgive us, we sometimes have trouble controlling our urge to incorporate obscure trivia tie-ins with our sex toy descriptions. This Japanese made elastomer dual vibe has beads in the rotating shaft, a clit vibrator and yes, it lights up. Actually, it more than lights up. It is a whole damn light show, with display cycles of purple, blue, green and red you might be tempted to take it to a rave. The clit moth will alight with antennae and wings aflutter. Variable speed and four AA batteries (required) for great power. Colour Choice: translucent lavender (plus full light show spectrum included).

GREAT KING AND KANGAROO

Great King gets its name because it's the mightiest of all dual vibes. The shaft is longer and thicker than any of the other models. Kangaroo is its little cousin with a shorter, narrower shaft. For both models, the clitoral function consists of an "anteater"-like animal so that the long tongue can flicker up the length of the shaft. The shafts rotate in an "S" curve which some women prefer. Both require three C-cell batteries and have variable speed. Colour Choice: Kangaroo translucent pink; Great King translucent.

RABBIT PEARL, RABBIT HABIT AND RABBIT HAVE IT

This is the top of the Japanese made dual vibe line. While the rabbit's ears flick your clit, the shaft rotates causing the pearls to roll. The pearls create a stimulation on the vaginal walls that some women find to be G-spot specific. Rabbit Habit is the same latex dual vibe as Rabbit Pearl only cordless. Remember, cords let you see the controls during use while cord-free toys leave the variable speed control positioned in your nether regions. Nonetheless, folks who trash the cords like to stay away from them. Rabbit Haveit is the Habit but with an elastomer shaft and glitter! Elastomer has some cleaning advantages. Rabbit Habit and Haveit require three AA batteries. Rabbit Pearl requires three C-cell batteries. All have variable speed. Colour Choice: Rabbit Pearl translucent pink; Rabbit Habit purple; Rabbit Haveit purple glitter.

BEAVER AND BEAVER (CORDLESS)

This is a popular dual vibe 'cause if you turn it over and use the clitoral vibrator without inserting the shaft little baby beaver helps mom out creating a larger surface area of stimulation. The shaft has a full stroking rotation for vaginal stimulation. The cordless is the same as the Beaver except without the cord. Cords allow you to bring the controls to eye level for fine tuning. Without a cord, the controls on the toy, when in use, are for all practical purposes located somewhere around your knees. However, if you are the type of person who can trash a set of stereo headphones in a week you should probably stay away from vibes with cords. Beaver requires three C-cell batteries. Beaver (Cordless) requires three AA batteries. Both are variable speed. Colour Choice: Beaver black or pink (please specify); Beaver (Cordless) purple.

GOMAN AND BEEHIVE

Another couple of cordless wonders, as you can see, these "dual vibrators" are missing a little someone. Their duality comes from the fact that the shaft rotates (one control) and vibrates (the second control). The flicking and licking animal has gone astray allowing you more variance with the depth of penetration. Goman has a relatively smooth shaft with a subtle samurai motif. Its head shape, not sting, is how Beehive comes by its name. A pattern of domes on its shaft give texture with a slight tribal motif that is more visual than topical near the bottom of its shaft. Great for women who never really wanted the clitoral vibrator or want it separately for more versatility. The vibration is at the head on these toys making them most effective when using for G-spot stimulation. Neither are recommended for anal use as there is no flare at the base. Require three AA batteries. Variable speed. Colour Choice: Goman translucent pink; Beehive translucent purple.

MERMAID AND DINO DEUX

These are the first integrated, mechanical rotating dual silicone vibrators available. Previously, this format could only be found in the Japanese latex vibes. We love the advantages of silicone for easy cleaning, long life, and health reasons, unfortunately the German maker has outsourced the motors so the mechanics are not the quality equivalent of the silicone sleeve that they're integrated with. If you are happy with the strength of the motors on your Japanese dual you will find these motors to be lacking. They are not nearly as powerful.

Mermaid

Dino Deux

That said, back to how these duals work: the penetrative shaft has a texture under the sleeve so when the shaft rotates it feels as though there are beads rolling around. While you are experiencing the internal swinging motion there is a separately controlled clit vibrator to complement the package. The control pack and vibe are joined (cordless) with simple-to-operate dials to turn the intensity up or down as needed. Power to the unit is turned off and on with a push of a button so you can save the speed settings that are working for you and just hit the power switch next time to pick up where you left off.

Mermaid's body is the shaft of the toy with her flowing hair and breasts creating a texture while her tail curls back to vibrate the clitoris. Dino Deux's shaft has soft rolls and a smiling snout for G-spot pressure. The clit tickler part of the toy is a little version of the shaft, completing the "deux". Runs on four AA batteries (required). Variable Speed. Colour Choice: Mermaid rose or raspberry; Dino Deux blue or lime (please specify).

DUAL (CLITORAL AND PENETRATIVE) VIBES

Newer entries to the dual vibe category have non-mechanical silicone shafts that vibrate but don't rotate. These are the build it yourself options we raised earlier. You'll have to use your wrist to achieve vaginal stroking but silicone is a winner every time for easy cleaning and long life. The duality in their design comes from the fact that you can achieve vaginal penetration at the same time as external clitoral and labia vibration, all together from the same toy at the same time.

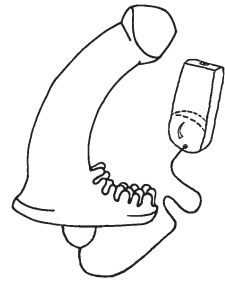

If manual dexterity isn't your strong point, there are some silicone mechanical rotating dual vibes to select from (look up at Mermaid or Dino Deux!). As with the previously discussed rotating duals, the shafts rotate via mechanical operation while the clit portion flicks away under separate controls. This creates a high tech wonder but more parts to break down in the long run. Remember: the fewer mechanics, the longer lasting which is why we ask you to consider these duals in lieu of the mechanical rotating wonders.

The dimensions given below are usable penetrative length and diameter at the widest point.

CLIT CAPSULE

To paraphrase the bionic man (okay, our age is showing!) and with a grateful nod to the original narrative...Gentlemen, we can rebuild it. We have the technology. We have the capability to build the world's first bionic silicone dual vibe. Clit Capsule will be that toy. Better than it was before. Better, stronger, faster. On the heels of seven years of invaluable customer feedback we recently had the opportunity to improve on all our silicone exclusive designs. Its predecessor was the pioneer silicone dual vibe. Clit Capsule takes the concept further by enhancing the pad with capsules. Besides caressing the clitoris, the clitoral pad now includes a great deal of movement from the newly engineered capsules. Envision a sea anemone swaying in the ocean current and you'll get an idea of what the clitoris will feel. Made of silicone, when you manipulate the shaft, the lanes of vibrating capsules run along the clit. We've maintained the curve for G-spot pressure, textured shaft for drag on the vaginal walls, and head for even more potential contact points. These features provide excellent vaginal stimulation to couple with what is going on at the pad. Thus, a dual silicone vibe (vibe is easily removed for clean up and replacement over the long term) that can be used for many years. Five year warranty on the silicone aspect. Surface area of the clit pad is  $1\frac{3}{8} \times 1\frac{3}{4}$ ". Vibe requires two AA batteries. Variable speed. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

SNUGGLE-PUSS

Short, squat, and to the point, Snuggle-Puss has a G-spot curve for excellent vaginal stimulation and an upwardly flared base (it kind of resembles a candle flame in its elegance, tapering at both front and back) to vibrate while running along your clit AND perineum. Made of silicone, its thick shaft coupled with the vibration offers a lot of G-spot action while keeping the flared base snug against the clitoris, labia and perineum. In this configuration, its squat shaft is ideal because it's not too long, meaning your cervix is safe from unwanted bumping! The vibrator that motors the whole unit can be replaced should its mechanics give up the ghost. Separate battery compartment with variable speed control. Requires two AA batteries. Colour Choice: violet shimmer, pink shimmer and midnight blue (please specify).

MISS BLISS

This is a silicone toy that might just as well be called “swinger” since it can be operated in so many ways. Available in two sizes so you choose what’s right for you. It gives clitoral stimulation along with vaginal penetration. It can be turned around to give vaginal penetration along with perineal vibration. Or you can use the shaft solo anally as there is no possibility of the toy becoming lost in the rectum. The shaft is smooth while the bulb on the end will give some indication of internal positioning so when you give up control to someone else they’ll have a good feeling for location and technique. The clit tickler is split to lay on either side of the clitoris. A very versatile toy for singles and couples of all combinations. With caution, vibrator can be removed from silicone shaft for cleaning or replacement. Variable speed. Requires two AA batteries. Colour Choice: purple, blue and pink (please specify).

SILICONE FUN FACTORY: GENERATION ONE

Fun Factory produces silicone vibrators that are of high quality in every way. Generation I models all share in common a variable speed control at the base, built-in German electronics, simple to clean silicone outer sleeves, near silent operation and two AA batteries for power. Shafts are medical grade silicone.

These vibes are an excellent choice for women who are unsure about whether they want a clitoral vibrator or a penetrative toy as these can be used for either type of stimulation, though not at the same time (as with the dual vibes). This style is soft enough to add clitoral vibration to sex with a partner without being uncomfortable against the pubic bone. Silicone is the ideal material for penetrative use and vibration is a nice addition to G-spot stimulation. The silicone sleeve design is also very effective when placed across the whole labia with the legs squeezed together to spread the vibration throughout the groin. It has been our experience in the store that when women who are unfamiliar with sex toys and the different design options say “I want a vibrator” this is the basic shape they picture in their minds, making this design a safe choice if you are determined to buy someone a gift without their input. Finally, there is something to be said for using what you know works for you. If you’ve been buying poor quality “jelly vibes” and are happy with the shape but concerned with their toxic rubber sleeves and low-end electronics we think you will be thrilled with this quality alternative. Please note, the design is not suitable for anal use because there is no flared base to stop the toy from getting lost in the rectum. The dimensions given below are for usable (if that’s how you’re going to use ’em) penetrative length and diameter at the widest point.

DINOSAURS

These “friendly, saucy little animals with perfect curves” are designed with their heads tipped back so their bulbous snouts apply vibration to the G-spot. Dino has gentle plump ripples that encircle the toy and run the full length providing an even stimulation. (See WATER USE for Dino’s aqua dwelling cousin.) Bam Bam has a ribbed belly that runs the full underside with a smooth back. Variable speed. Run on two AA batteries. All shafts are medical grade silicone! Colour Choice: Dino blue; Bam Bam strawberry or blue (please specify).

ABSTRACTS

Gigolo

Dolphin

Dot

Your basic consideration in this Fun Factory category is to choose between textural differences. Gigolo adds a slight head to the classic smooth shaft. Dolphin’s design is essentially smooth with a focus point on the “bill”. These smooth designs produce very little friction or resistance when used internally. The head on Gigolo or Dolphin creates pressure on the G-spot when inserted to about one half of the shaft’s length. Externally, across the head of the clitoris and the labia, they’ll feel similar to a warm gush of water. Both also come in a water resistant version profiled under WATER USE VIBES. Next in line is Twister in the middle of this group with regards to texture. The slight wave on its surface will add a wavy sensation to the spread of the vibration. Dot with its evenly placed dots has the most intense texture. Back to the shower-head analogy, the dots on Dot are a full-on direct spray. All shafts are medical grade silicone! Variable speed. Two AA batteries required. Colour Choice: colours vary with the abstract so each design is available in its own unique colour selection (please specify).

ASTROLOGICAL SIGNS

Like all Fun Factory toys, these are German engineered with hypoallergenic silicone shafts. The appearance and surface texture of each is based on its astrological sign. Often the result is more a visual sculpture than it is a specific anatomical result that we can easily describe. Great if you're buying a gift (especially birthday) for someone and you don't know the intended use. Or pick one based on the visual impact, resulting texture or shape, colour and size. Just remember, the more complex the sculpture, the more intense the physical impact. All shafts are medical grade silicone! Variable speed. Two AA batteries required. Colour Choice: colours are chosen to complement the attributes of each sign specified below.

SILICONE PENETRATIVE SHAFTS (REPLACEABLE VIBES)

Aside from great quality silicone shafts, all the vibes in this section are designed with motors that can be replaced at minimal cost over time — adding more bang to your buck!

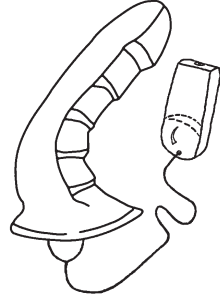

GOLLY GEE

A bit like Frankenstein, this design slices together a number of features from different sources of inspiration. As indicated by the name, G-spot stimulation is a big factor in the design. This comes from the ridges which are similar to a direct stroking from multiple finger tips while the curve in the shaft keeps the pressure on. Works well in a harness or hand held with very subtle thrusting because the constant upward pressure and evenly distributed ridges cause stroking across the elusive “spot” at every level of insertion depth. The next slice of inspiration comes from the pubic-side of the base which features a distinct hump, just right for clit contact. Finally, there’s the removable vibrator, making clean up almost care free! Not to mention that all that vibration running along the underside of the ridges and over the clit hump is a tad electrifying! Five year warranty on the silicone aspect. Vibe requires two AA batteries. Variable speed.

Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

DOWNUNDER

Well the innovation from down under has renewed our desire to travel to the land of kangaroos and koala bears. Here is a line of toys inspired by the unique and varied landscape that is Australia.

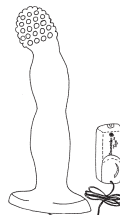

G-Spot's general style (in either of two sizes) is one many women have found ideal for their use but in the past it's only been available in toxic “jelly rubber” material. When the shape is right but the material gives you a rash, you’re not too far ahead. Now you can get the classic

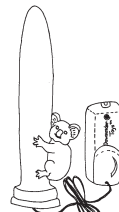

G-Spot

Girl Vibe

Girlberry

Koala Kiss

Vibes: silicone penetrative shafts (replaceable vibes)

design without the rash by the introduction of this silicone G-Spot toy. For this, we're truly grateful. Like lots of girls, Girl Vibe is very versatile and adept at multi-tasking. The curve is equally suited to G-spot or prostate stimulation. The flared base makes it safe for anal use and suitable for harness play. Imagine Girl Vibe decides to spend the day on the beach so she digs out her great grandma's swim cap and puts it on. That's Girlberry. She is almost the same dimensions as Girl Vibe with a textured head for more sensation on the vaginal walls and more intense, textured vibration on the G Spot. Also versatile, Koala Kiss provides penetrative stimulation while the little koala cutie snuggles your clitoris. Vibrators can be replaced in all these toys should the mechanics give up the ghost. Separate battery compartment with variable speed control. Requires two AA batteries. Colour Choice: violet shimmer, pink shimmer and midnight blue (please specify).

PLUG-IN & RECHARGEABLE CLITORAL VIBES

These vibes are created by progressive European sex toy designers and/or reputable companies that produce small home appliances rather than by the mainstream sex toy industry (though that industry is producing cheap copies which we obviously won't sell). This translates to a very solid unit with quiet operation and, in most cases, intense vibration. If power is what you're after, these have got it. What you don't get from the small home appliance models is compact design and mobility, though there is one that runs on rechargeable batteries! Many people come into the store, look at the coil models and exclaim "My grandmother had one of these!" Well guess what, it wasn't just for her sore neck. If you can get grandma to give it up, it's probably still working. They last a long time and there is likely an authorised repair centre in your area. If you can't get grandma to part with her "massager", then buy your own and leave it to your granddaughter in turn.

With the European models, compact design and mobility are part of the overall appeal. So much so that they almost belong in another category. Who knows, you may find room for one of each option - stalwart appliance and haute couture - in your toy collection. The dimensions given below are for the body or framework of the vibe. All have a one year manufacturer's warranty.

LELO: NEA AND LILY

These Lelo designs are just stunning and we are pleased (and satisfied) to have them in our line up of vibes. They fill a niche that has been open for some time in that they are rechargeable. Plug them in, charge them up (charger included), and you have the freedom of a battery operated, cordless vibe with the convenience and power source of a plug-in. There's also a hands-free option by pairing either with the Eggstasy Pouch. They hold a charge for up to 3 months, though we are fairly certain you won't wait that long between uses. If you have felt the frustration of buying a small electronic item only to discover the power source is larger than the unit, you will really appreciate the compact size of the charger. All Lelos will run continuously for up to 9 hours at low setting on a full charge. The maker says it has 27 vibration intensities, but to be fair, some are almost indistinguishable from each other, so let's say it has at least 20 distinguishable variations. That's still plenty. And to be clear: we don't disagree with the maker, we just acknowledge that with this many settings there is bound to be a degree of user perception dispute (think volume setting eleven from Spinal Tap). The vibes have a lock function so they won't accidentally turn on if you carry them in your luggage. They are light weight, quiet and have a discreet styling. The contouring is reminiscent of a "Swedish Modern" labia. Lily and Nea are splash proof. To clarify, splash proof means really easy to clean with a cloth, soap and water, but don't take it to the water park or hold it under a tap. Lily's contouring includes a delicate bend to the profile. Lily has an elastomer finish which really adds a soft touch to the surface. Nea is the same shape and size as Lily, though with a smooth gloss ABS plastic, not an elastomer finish. The gloss is lovely and feels like a fine enamel or lacquer. Nea also has a delicate floral "tattoo" on the surface, depicting Japanese cherry blossoms (also known as Sakura). Manufactured in Sweden and arguably better than an ABBA greatest hits CD. Colour Choice: Lily purple or black; Nea black (with pink tattoo) or ice blue (with cream tattoo) (please specify).

SYNERGY

Synergy is not actually a "vibrator" per se as it oscillates with a side to side caress rather than moving like traditional vibrators which tend to achieve motion through reverberation. Many women find an oscillating motion to be more stimulating and easier to control. Or to put it more bluntly: put that electric toothbrush back by the sink where it belongs and get this purpose built oscillator when you are NOT brushing your teeth! With five interchangeable vinyl heads (two heads are two sided) you can experiment with seven different textures and shapes. Synergy's oscillation has six separate speeds so finding a combination that works for you shouldn't be too hard. Check out Wall Flower as an ideal after market attachment for even more versatility. The unit is rechargeable allowing you room to roam. We really like that the supplied two rechargeable batteries are in a C-cell format since you can run it off alkaline batteries if you haven't planned ahead and find yourself with a dead unit, or perhaps you can't put it down long enough to charge it up, also a great option for campers and international travelers. Rechargeable with variable speed. Colour Choice: white (with mint accents and attachments).

Vibes: plug-in & rechargeable clitoral vibes

WAHL 8 IN 1

This coil vibrator is the style that has been available to women for many generations making it familiar as well as field tested. 8 in 1 disappeared from the marketplace for a short time and has reappeared with a visual update to grandma's classic. It has two speeds, two heat settings, and comes with eight attachments (duh?!). Several of the attachments have a small focal point making Wahl the choice for a woman who prefers directly focused intense vibration. Magic number eight being a heat attachment for when you really do have sore muscles. The heat attachment is not recommended for genital stimulation. The cord is nine feet long to give you some room to move. Colour Choice: gray with soft blue control buttons. The attachments are white with the exception of the heat attachment which is red.

WALL FLOWER

Wall Flower was initially conceived as a silicone attachment for the body massager Wahl 8 in 1 (being body massagers, the Wahl company tends to make attachments for shoulders and necks so we have to help them along in the direction of more stimulating body parts). However, during the product testing stage we discovered that it fits Red Zinger, Re-Buzz, Synergy and Magic Connections too! So you see this Wall Flower is just sitting around waiting for some vibe to ask it to dance. And dance she does, a lovely diffusion of vibration through this soft silicone attachment can really inspire a slow waltz or a jig, depending on your preferences. Perfect if you find your vibe a bit like the mosh pit when it lacks the right dance partner. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

WAHL ATTACHMENTS

The Wahl is of course a body massager so the makers don't supply any penetrative attachments. Thankfully many are available from thoughtful manufacturers who know a good thing when they see one. These "off-market" attachments are vinyl, therefore smooth and somewhat stiff though compatible with the Wahl 8 in 1. Think of vinyl as a short-term product. The material doesn't stand up to long term use nor cleaning. None are suited for anal use. Vinyl can't be sterilized so never combine users or uses. The Spot Tip will replace any lost spot attachments for your steady stand by vibe. The 4-Inch Tip and the G-Spot Plus add penetration. Colour Choice: blue.

IDEAL

Natural Contours introduces their first rechargeable toy with so much confidence that they've named it Ideal. After our initial assessment, we'd say the name isn't far from the mark. Starting with an initial charge of 10 hours it subsequently charges in 5 hours and runs up to 60 consecutive minutes on a charge. It's a workhorse with an intensive vibe that can give the Hitachi Magic Wand a run for its money. It is also crafted in the tradition of a true "body massager". More good news... any attachments that fit the Hitachi will fit Ideal too. Inside there's a Japanese motor that uses an oscillating movement rather than a traditional vibration. The ergonomically designed grip can help with tricky to reach places and may be easier to hang onto with slippery hands. Includes the recharger for charging the vibe (vibe is not to be used while plugged in). Two speeds with a roundish head on a flexible neck. Colour Choice: blue head with gray handle.

LELO: IRIS, GIGI AND LIV

A “cut above the rest,” Iris is a beautifully sculpted vibe that oozes luxury and prestige. Also from this esteemed company, Liv and Gigi are of understated elegance with the same basic features as Iris but diminutive in stature. Hey good looks are nice, but what else do they have to offer in the personality and long term prospects department? The short answer is lots ... and now we will give you the details to back it up. A silicone exterior with a plastic handle to provide lots of reach to achieve just the right angle and pressure. Tons of power. We repeat: tons of power. Great for people who want the power of a plug in vibe with the freedom of a rechargeable toy. Yup rechargeable. The fun doesn't stop there. They have 5 patterns of vibration. In Iris these patterns are created by two motors, one at the crown and one at the base, that interface with each other to create distinct stimulation modes that go like this: (1) Continuous vibe at the crown. (2) Continuous vibe at the base. (3) Continuous vibration at base and crown. (4) Short bursts of vibration crown and base. (5) Long bursts of vibration base and crown. Liv and Gigi have a single motor at the tip but little is lost in modes given there's less length to send vibration along. Their modes go like this: (1) Continuous vibe. (2) Pulsation. (3) Staccato pulsation. (4) Rapid pulse. (5) Crescendo and descent. All LELOs have variable speed in each menu mode with lots of range from really subtle to very powerful in each. The dial which is used similarly to an iPod switch is not as intuitive as the manufacture suggests though if you aren't a technophobe it is easily mastered once you play for a few minutes. Iris's floral textured silicone shaft provides interesting contour and curves gracefully upwards to allow for G-spot stimulation, if you're so inclined. Liv has a smooth, sleek shaft and Gigi a graceful head. It should be noted for those who are looking for a penetrative toy that the shaft is very firm and the power very powerful. However don't take the narrow view and just look at this as a internal toy because it is a great external vibe. Well within the class of a Magic Wand, while surpassing the Wand in looks, quiet operation, grace, and versatility. Rechargeable adaptor included. Colour Choice: Liv navy; Gigi rose; Iris slate blue or soft rose silicone with white handle (please specify).

HITACHI MAGIC WAND

A classic. This quality product is produced under license by a huge Japanese company. Look around you next time you're out and about and see how many places you spot the Hitachi name. You've got the company reputation behind you. Lots of power, some women prefer its vibration diffused through a blanket or pillow. We know you'll have this unit for many years to discover what's right for you. Aftermarket attachments available (see VIBE ATTACHMENTS). This really works as a true "body massager" as the manufacturer intended. Two speeds with flexible vinyl head. 74" cord. Fairly heavy. Colour Choice: white.

Things to add zing, depth, and pizzazz to wand style vibes.

PLEASURE DOME

Finding the Hitachi a little more intense than you'd hoped? Want to add some texture? Pleasure Dome is probably just what you need. This silicone sleeve encloses the head of the Magic Wand in a silicone covering to diffuse, soften and add texture to the vibe. This can help tone down the Hitachi and add some subtle tactile texture for the benefit of the clitoris. It may take four hands to get the Dome on the vibe, so you might not want to remove it between uses but silicone is easy to clean with soap and water so removing the Dome (after you fit it on) isn't really necessary. Colour Choice: lavender, rose, blue and orange (please specify).

Wonder Wand

G-Spotter

Gee Whiz

Wondering how to add a penetrative element to the Magic Wand? Our first recommendation is always silicone since it’s a conductor and will send an incredible amount of vibration through the toy. The silicone Gee Whiz introduces a simple way of adding a penetrative option to the Magic Wand with the same great quality as the Hitachi vibe. The attachment fits over the head of the Magic Wand adding vibrating G-spot penetration. A ridge at the base means you won’t miss out on clitoral stimulation. Lifetime warranty. However if you’re not convinced of the joys of silicone, the vinyl attachments do offer a lower price alternative for initial experimentation. Their cups also fit snugly over the head of the Hitachi with an extension for penetration. The Wonder Wand is straight while the G-Spotter is curved to add pressure to the G-spot near the front of the vagina. All are safe for anal use but only the Gee Whiz can be shared between users or uses. Colour Choice: G-Spotter and Wonder Wand blue; Gee Whiz blue swirl.

Chapter 4: Couples' Toys

This chapter is dedicated to couples that want to incorporate a toy into their sex play in a way that brings them closer together. It is not uncommon for an “other” to feel threatened by a favourite toy. After all, isn’t a sex toy what you use if you don’t have a partner? We’re happy to announce that this old myth has been busted! Dildos, mini vibes, butt plugs, cock rings, harnesses, strap-ons, AND sensory gear can all be incorporated into happy, playful sexual relationships. So in truth all of the toys sold at Womyns’Ware Inc. are “couples friendly”, but the toys in this section are especially so because they are made to simultaneously share. Think of them as seesaw toys. You can sort of bounce around on them on your own, but they are way more fun with a partner!

About that partner: most of these toys are described with male-female parts in mind, but remember that they can be happily used by any couple, be you male-male, female-female, transitioning or just plain making it up as you go along. Simply put, most of these toys combine a clitoral stimulator with a cock ring. One half of the combination increases sensation and prolongs erection of the penis while the other half adds significant clitoral stimulation, which many women find is the key to reaching orgasm(s) during intercourse. These toys take into account the difference between blood flow into the penis versus into the clitoris. Once engorged, the blood vessels in the penis clamp shut until orgasm. The tension from a cock ring worn around both the penis and the scrotum can prolong erection even after ejaculation. In the clitoris, blood vessels continue to allow blood flow during the engorgement stage. This means that the clitoris can distend and relax easily, hence the female capacity for multiple orgasm. With this brief physiological explanation in mind, you can see how these toys mean pleasure and enjoyment for all parts of the coupling!

CLIT BERRY

This is pure genius. Handy as a clit stimulator all by its lonesome or as a clitoral pad on the male’s pubic base for a fab couples’ toy (Bonus: when worn around both the penis and scrotum, Cockrings prolong erection and increase stimulation for the wearer) Clit Berry’s design adds clitoral stimulation when rubbed over the clit. Using its adjustable Cheery-O penis ring, the silicone Berry can be strapped to a penis for clitoral stimulation during penetration and to add a pleasant extension for clit contact. Colour Choice: Berry cobalt purple; Cheery-O black.

SWINGERS PAD

Well we don't like to brag but...this Womyns'Ware exclusive is the most versatile pad we carry (not to boast either). It does everything one can hope for in a couples' toy and more. The hole allows you to rest the Pad on your partner's pubic mound anchored in place (by the penis, natch)! Or just use the Pad alone for clit stimulation and skip the penetration. In any of these configurations, the Pad adds a great deal of stimulation with each thrust. Once slipped over the shaft of the penis it creates a clitoral pad to ride at will. We told you this Pad swings. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

LIBERTY BELL

There are many products on the market trying to be the Liberty Bell but no one has got it so right for so many couples, liberating them from the tyranny of intercourse without clitoral orgasm! This silicone wonder is the ideal way to add both heightened clitoral and penis stimulation to intercourse. Slip the ring over your penis and ring her bell. The ring and clitoral bell are molded of a soft but resilient silicone for comfort and easy cleaning. Plenty of stretch in the ring means one size fits most. The mini-capsule texture on the face of the bell adds further clitoral stimulation that compliments the vibration. The taut wrap of silicone enhances stimulation for the penis and the vibration zips along the whole ring of silicone. The vibe packs an amazing kick in a very small package so presents minimal bulk between you and your partner. Silicone aspect has a one year warranty against defects. Remove the vibe for cleaning or replacement. Variable speed. Runs on three LR44 button cell batteries (included, additional batteries $2.85/3 pack). You can opt to upgrade to a Red Zinger vibe for $10 more, if you'd prefer the zing with your ring and don't mind a cord-joined control pack. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

ROLLER BALL

Similar in function to Roller Ring but with the addition of a Re-Buzz Vibe and deeper set clit-nubs, Roller Ball is for the individual who likes more friction. In keeping with our cult sci-fi movie obsession, we named this toy after the original James Caan movie “Roller Ball” because the vibe housing reminded us of his character’s glove used to slam in the winning goal and the overall bigger and clunkier clit stimulator makes us think of gals who like to play hard! The housing has another, practical purpose: to accommodate the vibe which is buried in the silicone so it’s comfortable against your delicate parts. Vibe included. Colour choice: midnight blue.

ROLLER RING

Like Roller Ball but without a Re-Buzz vibe. For those who still want a deeper set of clit-nubs and don't care for vibration. If you're the couple who often feels like the gulf between pubic mounds is an abyss as in 'we just can't get close enough to make clitoral contact' then Roller Ring is the ticket to crossing that divide. Colour Choice: midnight blue.

Juicy colours and an effective couples' toy, Very Berry Ring is a sweet addition! Colour Choice: violet shimmer or midnight blue (please specify).

VIBE-A-GUY

Vibe-A-Guy is so named because you can turn your guy into a vibrator. It's a leather cockring with a pouch to hold the Action vibrator (included) under the scrotum. Five snap adjustments make it one size fits all (men). "Why does Womyns'Ware have this product?" you ask. Because the resulting vibration will be present throughout his whole pelvis, adding just the diffused sensation that many of our female customers are looking for during intercourse. Cockrings are worn around both the penis and scrotum and go on after erection with a bit of tension (not tight). Cockrings will prolong erection and increase stimulation for their wearers when worn properly. This offers both halves of the couple extra incentive! Warranty on pouch only. Colour Choice: black.

CHEERY-O

Cheery-O is a basic, purely elementary adjustable cock ring (without vibe pouches or other bells and whistles) with snap adjustments to "do the job" for the male half of the couple. Worn around both the penis and scrotum and goes on after erection with a bit of tension (not tight). Handy for prolonging erections (when used with penises rather than dills, of course) and increases stimulation for the wearer when worn properly. This can make both halves of the couple cheerful! Colour Choice: black.

EASY RING

The all business without the dress up cousin of Love Rings, Easy Ring is easy on your skin and easy to clean because it's elastomer. Elastomer has a shorter shelf life than does silicone but isn't a deal breaker ... both composites are good materials for stretchy, continuous (meaning no detachment like with a snap or velcro closure) cockrings. Easy to use because it's super stretchy. Easy on your pocket book. The design is all business — straightforward and to the point with cool colours making it easy on your eyes. Yes it's just that easy. Colour Choice: purple, pink, blue, slate and clear (please specify).

LOVE RINGS

These rings are stretchy and easy to use. Great for first timers and old pros alike. Without having to deal with closures, simply apply lube, stretch the ring open (the “wings” are great grips), slide it over the penis or penis and testicles as you wish, release and you are ready to go. Made of 100% silicone they are easy to clean and cool to wear. The style choices let you play dress-up which is a nice touch of fun. Colour Choice: Bat Ring black or gold; Winged Crusader silver or hot pink (please specify).

AND ONE MORE THING

RE-BUZZ VIBE

The same little wonder “motor” that originally came with your Roller Ball or Liberty Bell silicone ring. The best use for this vibe is simply as a replacement for any of the aforementioned vibe motors, when the motor gives it up since the silicone will keep on going. There are better designed mini vibes, if you’re not looking for a replacement motor. Variable speed. Runs on 3 LR44 batteries (included).

Chapter 5: HEALTH

(lubes, STD barriers, kegels, menstrual)

More and more informed health professionals are adding Womyns'Ware Inc. to their patient referral list. We're just gratified that some in the medical profession are finally realizing that "healthy" can be used in the same sentence with "sexuality."

Eliminating dry friction and alleviating the risk of STD transmission are at the top of our healthy genital list. Lubes and safe sex barriers often go hand-in-hand because many people make both part of every sex act. Lubes are also the perfect accessory to condoms, gloves or dams plus health issues are often foremost on one's mind while using either. We also like the idea of clean, minimal fuss, environmentally friendly menstrual products and well toned PC (vaginal) muscles so here they are all together in the same chapter for your reading pleasure.

LUBES

Don't let anyone tell you "If you are really turned on you won't need a lubricant." We women of Womyns'Ware Inc. think there is nothing sexual you are doing that won't be improved with lube. Trust us: try a little or add a lot! Aside from the obvious uses, it reduces the chafing of five o'clock shadow or trimmed pubic hairs and reduces the frequency of broken condoms. Add lube to oral sex and instead of just a slippery tongue you now have a slippery chin, too. For vaginal penetration, lube means whatever you're doing, you can do it longer without dryness as, interestingly enough, a woman's natural lubrication may dry up as arousal increases. And the safest rule of thumb for any anal penetration is: use more lube than you think you need, add a little more and you're on the right track! For anal use, pay particular attention to the lubes described as having a thick texture or density.

We never recommend lubes with the spermicide nonoxynol-9 as many people experience negative reactions and irritation from this harsh detergent. The vagina produces a number of secretions that form a natural protective barrier. Stripping these secretions out with a detergent can create open abrasions. None of our lubes contain this nasty nonoxynol-9.

As you read along, you'll see that we indicate whether lubes are water, silicone or otherwise based. All are non-staining and latex safe. A final word to the lube novice: "pillow pack" is a small sample or trial size bit of lube intended for single use. Most trial packs look like little miniature pillows, hence the name.

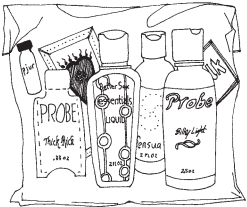

THE SLIP KIT

Want to hydrate your sex play but don't know where to start? Undecided between thick or thin, gel or liquid, water or silicone based? Organic?

Glycerin free? These and other options got your head spinning? Here comes the Slip Kit to the rescue ... eliminating friction in a gift kit that contains a single use pillow pack of Hathor Aphrodisia, Probe Classic or Light, Liquid Silk and Eros ampule plus a 2.5 oz. bottle of Probe Light or Classic (if you get a pillow pack of one version, you'll get the bottle of the other), and 2 oz. bottle of Sensua (unflavoured) and Better Sex Essentials Liquid. A truly lube-a-licious way to try out a number of lubes before committing to a pump size bottle of just one brand.

PROBE

You won't find a water based lube that has less taste, a shorter ingredient list and more natural ingredients than this. If you are prone to allergic reactions or don't want to cover up what you are tasting and smelling this is the lube for you. Other lubes may stay wet longer than Probe, but Probe still out-slips your own body lubricant or KY any day. It comes in two thicknesses. Classic is thicker and will stay where it's put. Silky Light has a thinner consistency for spreading over body parts.

HATHOR APHRODISIA

Vancouver is renowned for its coffee and health conscious lifestyle but soon we'll be celebrated as the place that produces great water based lubricants. Hathor (Egyptian Goddess of beauty, strength and love) is glycerine free as well as all natural. Of the natural ingredients, we can't say with certainty that "Horny Goat Weed" will enhance your sex life but it does sound invigorating. We do think that the use of lube in general will benefit most sexual activity (how's that for a slogan?) and this one stays wet remarkably well, has a nice viscosity without being too thick and has almost no taste or smell.

LIQUID SILK

The Queen's loyal subjects in the UK love this lube and now you can too. This water based lube with a very silky feel is appropriately named Liquid Silk. Their admirable motto is "The subtle art of making people fit together and reducing friction in relationships." We'd been hearing rumours about the "lube that contains no vegetable glycerine" for some time so we were delighted when it became available in Canada. It tastes a bit like hand lotion but it is great for anal play as well as vaginal use.

SLIPPERY STUFF

This is a simple lube that is glycerine free and relatively odourless. Its liquid formulation is very light, while its gel formulation is quite thick and suitable for vaginal or anal play. Though there are longer lasting lubricants on the market, Slippery Stuff has many loyal fans.

SENSUA

This lube is beautiful inside and out. With too many lube companies trying to sell products based on 'sexy' packaging, this minimalist label is a refreshing change. It's lovely to look at and going further to what is in the bottle, this one is packed full of natural ingredients that are 95% certified organic. The consistency is similar to aloe vera gel (which it contains as an anti-fungal) and doesn't dry sticky. Also included is grapefruit seed extract to discourage bacterial and yeast infection. Sensua lube stays wet in a unique way as it seems to assimilate the body's own lubrication. Close to no taste with the unflavoured option and non-fermentable sugar used in the two flavour options. A very clean presentation and use experience. Water based. Flavour Choice: unflavoured or raspberry (please specify).

This is a water based lube with a thick density made to stay where you put it. pH balanced to skin makes it gentle on your sensitive parts. A very good choice for anal use. Has a slight taste reminiscent of Thrills gum.

SLIP

If you want to try a lubricant with flavour we recommend Slip. The flavour is a natural light raspberry that doesn't taste like those awful "love lotions". The lube has a thick rich texture (good for anal use) and stays wet longer than novelty flavoured lubes. Water based. Raspberry flavoured.

BETTER SEX ESSENTIALS

A nicely presented, clean cut looking family of lubricants Better Sex Essentials has a formulation for whatever or where ever your lube needs take you. The two water based lubes in this family lineup are glycerin free and have a lovely silky feel. The Gel formulation is nice and thick so it really stays put especially on toys. The Liquid is light but not super runny. Both of these lubes are bitter in taste with the Liquid definitely being the more bitter of the two. It should be said that the taste clears after initially hitting your taste buds without lingering forever on the tongue. The Silicone member of the family is odorless and almost tasteless which is not to say that you won't be aware of it in your mouth because you will. Long lasting and doesn't dry out with exposure to air. It is a bit more viscous than Eros (the other silicone lubricant we sell). This one is equally as good as Eros and where Eros is 100 ml in the larger size, Better Sex Essentials Silicone is 237 ml, making it much less expensive per ml. As with all silicone lubes please do not use on silicone toys.

EROS

The pioneer silicone based lube, Eros is a most satisfying, long lasting lube. Many of our customers make a point of telling us just that. Its texture is kind of like being coated with Teflon...a very hi-tech and futuristic-like experience. Because it's not so much a liquid as it is a slick coating, you can use Eros for full body massage, it stays wet so long. One warning: never use silicone lube with a silicone toy. Silicone adheres to silicone, meaning your toy will become streaked and you can't wash it off of the toy. Non-staining. Odourless.

STD BARRIERS

There are a number of products designed to protect against either oral, digital, or genital transmission of STDs. We've restricted our selection to what we consider the best available in each category. When we decide what latex products to carry there are two essential qualities that we look for. First, the product has to have a low protein content. Latex allergies are triggered by the proteins in latex which are airborne once the glove, dam, or condom is out of its packaging. The lower the protein, the greater degree of contact possible with the latex before exposure triggers allergic reactions. Second, the product has to be well designed. There are a lot of latex products out there that are cheap in design and cost. Yuck. Safer sex should be made easier, not yuckier. We look for, and have finally found, gloves in a variety of sizes with cornstarch (not talc) powder, dams that are thin and have a wide surface area for ease of use in oral sex and rimming, condoms with a high approval rating for comfort, sensitivity, and non-allergenic lubrication and glow in the dark condoms that actually work. By the way, we don't care for nonoxynol-9 spermicide due to the high rate of allergic reaction, so none of the condoms we offer come with it. As mentioned, some people are allergic to latex exposure. There are now a few alternative materials available, the highest performing of which is polyurethane. Since this is a new material, only a few products have made it through Health Canada's rigorous screening program.

Some latex pre-use (storage issues) and post-use (disposal) tips that you can apply to all the STD latex barriers, be they glove, condom or dam: (1) Health Regulators say: "Store latex in a dry place at room temperature, away from direct sunlight and heat." We add: Ignore this advice at your peril! Sunlight and heat will degrade the latex, at first causing microscopic holes, eventually obvious break down. (2) The Regulators say: "Single use only." We add: STD barriers are not reusable. Don't be cheap! You've contaminated the material through use. Use once. Use another, new, and properly stored one next. Think of your pileup of used latex as souvenirs of what an exciting time you've had. (3) Which leads us to the final regulatory wisdom: "Dispose of in a safe manner, in a trash receptacle (be it bag, box, etc.)." We say: Used latex is presumably covered in or full of stuff you didn't want on you or in you. Bag it or box it! Don't flush it! Our sanitation systems don't need your disposed latex washing up on beaches later. That's gross. It's also rude to throw them out a window of a parked car, for gawd's sake. Be kind to neighbours and the environment and use a trash receptacle, please.

NIGHT LIGHT (GLOW IN THE DARK) CONDOMS

Finally a glow in the dark latex condom that is also a safe barrier for protection against STDs and pregnancy. As the manufacturer says: "We would like to give the phrase 'rise and shine' a whole new meaning." Up until now all glow in the dark condoms have been stamped "for novelty purposes only" meaning for fun but not for protection. We have never carried them before because of the obvious confusion (not to mention serious health consequences) that could result. We're happy to make available the world's only glow in the dark condom that is FDA approved. Individually packaged.

CONTEMPO

Contempo condoms are very well reviewed by our customers. Bareback Nuda style is a favourite among women who have allergies to lubricated condoms. For many of our customers, this brand is the first condom that they've been able to use with comfort. Rough Rider and Erotica are popular because the ribbed texture is actually detectable in a pleasurable way. Finally, Midnight Desire (we don't make up these names, the manufacturer does!) is popular for its black colour. Please specify which style you'd like when ordering. They are packaged 3 condoms per box or individually, as noted.

KIMONO LATEX CONDOMS

Kimono is a très popular brand with three styles to choose from. Microthin derives its name from a 38% thinner rating than standard condoms. Additionally, there's Sensation, a condom with sensation texture on the outside of the condom, adding the skin-on-skin friction usually lost in latex. Maxx has extra length and head room for the, umm, larger male. Please specify which style you'd like when ordering. All their products are made of natural rubber latex. They are individually packaged. Made in Japan.

GLOBAL PROTECTION LATEX CONDOMS

Global Protection's line up includes Kiss Of Mint and Natural Feeling, both great quality non lubricated condoms. Good for people who have a favourite lube brand they'd rather use over the usual no-name lubes on most condoms or are sensitive to the lubricants used by some condom manufacturers. Natural Feeling is unflavoured and as we're sure you guessed Kiss of Mint has a hint of mint, great for those who hate the taste of latex but have occasion to put it in their mouth. Don't you love how straight forward it can be? Beyond Seven as the name suggests is a condom that is a little longer than 7 inches, for well, for the guy who is. Aside from being longer, they're also made of a latex called sheerlon, which is exceptionally thin, sheer and strong, and has a slightly blue tint (setting the mood perhaps?). The final condom in this category is Pleasure Plus. The *Plus* part of the Pleasure Plus latex condom is its extra roomy interior. Its finely ribbed (and patented!) pouch at the head makes this condom a fave with those wearers who dislike feeling "too tightly wrapped". With all that extra room to roam, it's no wonder the San Francisco Bay Guardian gave the Pleasure Plus "The highest rating for sensitivity from every panelist!" Please specify which style you'd like when ordering. They are individually packaged. Atlas offers an economically priced high quality condom. It is lubricated, clear latex and designed for strength and sensitivity. What more could you want? Packaged 4 condoms per box.

ONE LATEX CONDOMS

One condoms have funky packaging which is a nice idea to style-up the whole STD/birth control experience. Their packet is round (kind of like a POG for adults!) with great graphics for each style that helps to visually communicate each condom's "special talent". For instance, Studded features Braille text, Roomier features a picture of outer space, Classic has a great red vintage sports car with tail fins, and Bigger shows a New York skyscraper! Aside from how sharp they look, they also function. Classic is just that. A classic fit latex condom that never goes out of style.

One Condoms

A straight walled, reservoir-tip condom, this classic shape is familiar and trusted by old-school condom users everywhere. Bigger is a bumped up (but not bumpy) version of the Classic. It's both wider and longer. In a nutshell... it's bigger but classic! Roomier is larger at the head. Instead of tapering in, it flares out. Like bell bottoms for the penis! It's intended to create more room for movement at the tip. If its shape transports you back to the swinger pads of the 70s, that's a bonus. Studded are BUMPY (but not lumpy!) With 576 studs on each condom, these studs offer texture for the receiver not the giver. Here's a tough one to figure out... Coloured are coloured, assorted in fact! Individually packaged. Colour Choice: black, lavender, aqua, orange, green, purple, red, blue and yellow (please specify).

One (Studded, Roomier, Classic, Bigger, Coloured).....$1.50/each

POLYURETHANE CONDOMS

Female Condom is a great alternative to standard condoms. Made of polyurethane, it is a safe option for users with latex allergies. Because it's not latex, users can apply oil based lubricants and the polyurethane allows for more heat transfer than does latex. Since this condom is inserted into the body, it takes the shape of the body cavity rather than constricting the penis (good for anal sex or vaginal though you won't find any mention of the anal potential on the packaging). The condom can be inserted ahead of time, without having to wait right up to the point of penetration, so there is no break in the action. Finally, this condom offers better coverage outside the body than the standard penis-covering so both partners have better protection from genital warts, etc. We have heard great reports from users of all genders and orientations.

Female Condom

Since we started carrying this product we have been working on the assumption that with greater numbers of people using the product every year it would eventually come down in price. Supply and demand don't ya know?! Instead, annually, like clockwork, the price goes up. We understand the price increases to be related to two factors (1) petroleum pricing (polyurethane is petroleum based) and (2) exchange rates (the product is made in England so tied to the Euro). That may have some impact, though petroleum pricing only spiked in 2005 and all imports must account for exchange rate pricing, but we can't help but conclude that pricing is also about margins. Not enough sex educators are promoting the female condom alternative. Not enough retailers are taking the care to explain its benefits to aid consumers in choosing it despite its higher costs in comparison to latex, and the media is falling down in their responsibility to promote better birth control alternatives and female control over reproductive choice. When demand is low, supply pricing will inevitably follow. Sad. By the box and, happily, after many years of lobbying, we are now able to offer a better price for this fine product in the single pack format.

DAM RIGHT

Aside from lubes, which go hand in hand with any of the latex (put lube in the gloves or condoms and on the dam to increase sensitivity through the latex), the “accessory” offered here is the Dam Right garter. A woman-made, adjustable garter designed specifically to hold a dam in place during oral sex. Avoids any fuss from having to hold the dam, thus freeing up your hands for other activities. The back two straps are longer than the front allowing a better fit for a broader range of women. Fits up to 52" hip.

SHEER GLYDE LATEX DAMS

We really like this Sheer Glyde dam. We like it because it is very thin, very wide, and has a light natural flavouring to cover up lingering latex taste. If you don't like flavouring, you can rinse it off as it's just in the cornstarch base. This particular dam set the standard for quality in the marketplace. Recommended for oral-vaginal sex and anal rimming. Vegan approved! Flavour Choice: vanilla or wildberry (please specify).

HOT DAMZ

“Hot Dam!” it’s about time ... for a sheer flat STD barrier that is latex free, odorless and made of a material (polyurethane) that allows for heat transfer. For better coverage, dams designed for oral to anal stimulation and cunnilingus have always been preferred over cutting open a condom or using a dental dam. Products designed for sexual contact are thinner than true dental dams but even well designed dams like Sheer Glyde are a challenge for people who are latex sensitive. Hot Dam is a thin sheet of polyurethane providing an effective barrier to STDs (when used properly) for those who are allergic to latex products.

LATEX GLOVES

These gloves have the lowest protein content that we’ve been able to find. They have a wide range of sizes to choose from. Men’s sizing is the standard so keep that in mind when deciding what is “small” for you. As a point of reference, small is close to a size 7 woman’s glove size. They are available powdered (cornstarch) or non-powdered, by the glove or in boxes of 100. Size Choice: x-small, small, medium, or large (please specify).

The sizing standard is men's, so women should drop down one size from what they usually think of as their best fit. Unlike the translucent latex, Nitrile gloves are purple, just in case you're pursuing a Tinky Winky fantasy. Size Choice: x-small, small or medium (please specify).

VAGINAL HEALTH

VAGINAL BARBELLS

These products are all designed to strengthen and tone the Pubococcygeus (PC) muscle. This may enhance orgasm, increase G-spot sensitivity, prevent incontinence after pregnancy and menopause, and improve vaginal lubrication. The PC (or kegel) muscles are the muscles located at your pelvic floor around your vagina. Kegel exercises can involve simple repetitive squeezing or the more regimented squeeze and release exercises designed to make use of a vaginal barbell such as the products profiled here. Essentially, the idea is that you rhythmically tighten and relax your pelvic muscles around the barbell. There are other ways to strengthen the PC muscles but these tools are inspirational and provide motivation.

Crystal Scepter is acrylic. Like silicone, this material cleans easily with soap and water because it's non-porous. Unlike silicone, there is no flex. The bulges can be used to exercise your PC's while the smooth end will work as a rigid dildo. Énergie is a great choice for adding weight to your exercises without the weighty price of stainless steel. Curvy plastic exterior encasing a weighted core (approx. 18 oz.). Crystal and Honey Dipper are made of clear Lucite (from the acrylic family). This material cleans easily with soap and water because it is non-porous. No flex. Their curves make a good tool for women who enjoy firm pressure on the G-spot. Honey Dipper's three bulges add texture when the toy is in motion and aid in focusing during kegel exercises. Crystal's curve provides some resistance when you flex your PC muscle to draw the toy into the vagina. Velvet storage pouch and instructions included. Kegelcisor is stainless steel. The heavy weight (about 1 pound) brings an additional element to the exercise regime. Try working out while standing to see if you can hold up this barbell. Kegelenhansor is a smaller, redesigned version of its Kegel-cousin. Also stainless steel but two thirds lighter weight. Both

Health: vaginal health

Kegels have a 10 year warranty against manufacturer defects. pure-njoy is 1 1/2 pounds of medical-grade stainless steel and has a luscious curve that provides a reach that allows for easy G-spot stimulation in addition to serious Kegel exercise. Think of this one as the boot camp equivalent amongst the various kegel exercisers! WomynsWare Inc. DOES NOT recommend these products for anal use. Lacking a flared base, they could become lost in the rectum. Colour Choice: Énergie retro-diner green; pure-njoy and Kegels silver; Crystal and Honey Dipper crystal clear. Please specify barbell style.

Only silicone or stainless steel toys can be sterilised so that the toy can have multiple uses (ie. both vaginal and anal) or users. Boil your silicone or stainless steel toys in a pot of water for three to four minutes before switching users or uses. Never share a non-sterilised toy! Kegel exercisers can be cleaned sufficiently for a sole user (or use) with antibacterial soap, special Better Sex Essentials cleaner (recommended) or Adult Play Toy Cleaner and hot water.

SMART BALLS

We had a tough time deciding where to put these products, mainly because they aren't particularly effective at their presumed use. Although often sold as sex toys, as inert objects they don't give most women much stimulation. They can be PC exercisers, yet better designs exist under the kegels section above ... still people ask us for "the insertable balls." Since they are widely heard of, we thought we'd better put them somewhere and we decided to include only the very best of what is available.

Smart Balls

Designed for vaginal insertion only. A metal ball bearing inside of a sealed plastic sphere rolls around when you move. As a sex toy, try inserting them during a night out with your lover to taunt them and get you both hot. Wear them grocery shopping then add a vibrator when you get home. Smart Balls are coated with a hypoallergenic elastomer, including the string, so they'll be easy to clean. The maker even claims that they're the "quietest love balls in the world!!!" They're top of the line for quality in this category which is why we don't even bother with stuff like Ben Wa and Duo Tone Balls. Colour Choice: dove grey with black or lavender; magenta with pistachio or turquoise; vanilla with antique rose, candy blue, chocolate or pistachio (please specify).

SEA PEARLS

All right... we realize it's a stretch to link sex toys with menstrual products, but this is such a great product that we had to show it to you. Sea Pearls are natural sea sponge tampons that contain no dioxins or synthetic fibers. They're less drying than paper product tampons, will save you time and money, and are more environmentally responsible. The company that supplies them supports sustainable harvesting practices. They're relatively easy to use. Simply dampen the sponge, squeeze out excess water, and insert. A sponge will become saturated with menstrual blood (and thus need to be changed and/or cleaned) in about 4-6 hours depending on your flow. If you want a backup on your person, you can dampen the second sponge and pop it into a ziplock bag then into your purse. When in public washrooms swap one Sea Pearl for the other and voila! a place to carry the saturated sponge and another one ready to go without the need to rinse at the sink. Simply rinse with water prior to reuse. While they don't need to be cleaned beyond a water rinse, you can soak in a mixture of peroxide and water if you wish. They can be reused many times with the two sponges lasting approximately one year.

The base of the Daytime pad has a wrap around wing with a snap closure that includes a removable liner. You may purchase as many removable liners as you wish. Pads are 100% cotton flannel outside with a super absorbent cotton batting core. There's also a light day panty liner with wings (no pocket for an extra pad). ## Chapter 6: DILDO HARNESSSES

When looking at dildo harnesses ask yourself a few simple questions to narrow the field. Pelvic harness, thigh harness and/or furniture harness? Pelvic harnesses are worn with the base of the dildo positioned on the pubic bone. This option allows the most variety of positions and really hot visuals. Pelvic harness use tip: clitoral stimulation for the wearer can be achieved by using any one of a variety of clever harness accessories and ingenious additions (see the end of this chapter).

A thigh harness is good for people who have lower back problems, don't like the idea of pelvic thrusting, or want to expand their repertoire and already have a pelvic harness. In the latter case, may we suggest two thigh harnesses, two dills and two grrr!s! This is a position we may often find ourselves in anyway but now can add mutual penetration too. Furniture harnesses come with a title that is self explanatory. They enable you to strap your dildo down to most inanimate household furnishings. For those who don't want a harness for outward penetration but, rather, to hold a dildo or plug inward for self penetration, you can add a Harness Cuff (see HARNESS ACCESSORIES AND ADDITIONS) to a pelvic harness or turn to Chapter 8: BUTTS for the Pluggie Harness.

Leather, nylon and rubber harnesses can be hand washed with basic hand-soap and warm water. Hang to dry. Cleaning leather harnesses isn't too complicated, as long as you follow a few easy steps: (1) After each use wash with a mild soap and water. Do Not Soak; (2) Towel dry hardware to avoid rust (covering rivets with clear nail polish keeps water off) and hang to dry; (3) Restore the leather's natural oils. Do not use Dubin or Mink Oil, these are animal fats and can go rancid. Beware that wax based products will sit on the surface of the harness rather than be absorbed. This may result in the product ending up on you or your partner's genitals. We recommend a Vancouver manufactured product called Dayton OK Oil (see HARNESS ACCESSORIES AND ADDITIONS). You can restore the lustre of a rubber harness with a silicone lubricant such as Eros (see Chapter 5: LUBES).

Next ask yourself: leather, nylon or rubber? Leather harnesses hold the best but require more care and attention in clean up. The leather will soften over time and take your shape. Provided you care for your leather properly, it will far outlast any other harness material over time. When choosing leather you are often given a choice between buckles or D-rings for closures and/or tighteners. Buckles look hot but only size in fixed increments and are more difficult to adjust in mid-fuck. D-rings are infinitely adjustable and a tug tightens them on the fly. Nylon harnesses are light weight and can be thrown in the washer for clean up. They come in a variety of colours to accent your dildo and use long lasting nylon closures like those used on backpacks to tighten your straps. Nylon does tend to want to slide around more than leather or rubber plus the closures are difficult to handle once your hands are lubed up. If rubber is your fetish then we need say no more. If you are looking for a leather alternative, easy to clean, recycled heavy weight rubber might be just the thing. It is sweaty and smells like rubber tubing but holds very securely. If you have decided a pelvic harness is the one for you, next ask yourself: G-string or jock-strap? G-string harnesses have a strap that runs through the legs. Some women find it hits just right for stimulating the clit, others find it irritating. If you don't like thong underwear you probably aren't going to like a G-string harness. Jock-strap harnesses have two straps that go around the legs leaving your genitals exposed for stimulation. Harness Cuffs (see HARNESS ACCESSORIES AND ADDITIONS) can be added for a second dill and/or a butt plug and can be removed when not in use. This avoids covering what you might want to play with! Men can also comfortably wear a jock-strap style.

We start with our pelvic harness selection, follow with thigh harnesses, and end with furniture harnesses. All of our harnesses are woman made and warrantied against defects in manufacture. Regular wear and tear can be repaired at a minimal price.

HARNESS KITS

START-UP STRAP-ON

A starter kit for those who want to get going but can't put their mind to where they want to end up. The dill is silicone so you know you're starting with a quality toy that is safe to share between you and your partner. Suitable for vaginal or anal use, the tip has a stylized head which is helpful to avoid pop outs. This is, in fact, the Caterpillar dill described in detail in Chapter 2: DILLS - EARTH IMAGES. The harness is nylon jock-strap style. The straps attach to the removable O-ring making for a secure hold. Even better, this is our Accommodator as described in detail later on in this chapter so you are getting a lot of versatility and a great warranty. Harness fits up to a 50" hip. Kit includes dill, harness, 2 oz. lube, colour combination choices galore, and a $30 savings! Note: five year warranty on harness only as the harness is our exclusive design. Colour Choice: harness black or purple; dill yellow, orange, red, blue, teal and rainbow (please specify).

POISEDON ADVENTURE

Worth holding your breath and swimming for several meters underwater in a submerged, upside down ocean liner! Dive into over $30 savings while supplies last! Special harness and dill kit called the Poseidon Adventure. The kit is comprised of (1) a Rubber Strapper, this is a jock strap style harness made of recycled rubber so it is something that you can use in the shower (hot tub, bath, lakes, streams, rivers, and the ocean for that matter!) (2)

Poseidon Adventure

Dolphin 2 silicone dill. (3) 2 oz. lube. No galvanized bucket but it does come in a clear, soft plastic case with a zipper (kind of like those cosmetic gift with purchase bags!). A true value at $89.85 (over $30.00 savings). Note: five year warranty on harness only. Colour Choice: harness black; dill yellow, orange, red, teal, purple or black (please specify).

PELVIC HARNESSES

THE STRAPPER

This woman manufactured, Womyns'Ware Inc. designed dildo harness is a hit, our best seller by far! The heavier belting weight leather means secure hold. No ring is needed to support the opening like in lighter garment weight leather harnesses. This makes for a smooth surface for maximum comfort on labia and pubic mound. The dill opening is 1 3/4" in diam. and will accommodate most flare based dills. D-rings mean easy adjustments in mid-fuck or for sharing between partners. Floating butt straps are ideal for customized positioning or turning this harness into a G-string style for add-on toys. The short pubic plate ensures that you have no covering or irritation of the clit. Can be worn by women or men. Don't be fooled by cheap imitations, this style comes with the Womyns'Ware Inc. five year replacement or repair warranty against defects. Fits up to 44" hip. Larger size fits up to 54" hip. Colour Choice: black, purple or oxblood pubic plate with black straps and silver hardware (please specify).

GRRLY GRRL

This is a harness that will appeal to the girlie girls in the crowd (you know who you are). A corsette harness that fuses “fashion and function” it’s made of functional nylon web and a fashionable textured cut velveteen making you feel like you are wearing fine lingerie. Function has not been sacrificed for beauty! The harness comes with a small single speed vibe (batteries included) that gives you the option to slide it into a specially made pocket. The vibe pocket is positioned on the pubic plate behind where the base of the dill would be. This placement will send vibrations through a silicone dill. Even if you don’t find this set up comfortable on your pubic mound we are confident you can find other uses for the vibe outside of its pocket. The webbing offers a very secure holding jock-strap style harness. The O-Ring that the dill mounts through is removable and three sizes of rings are included with the harness in case your collection of dills has an immense variety of base and shaft sizes. The contoured, corsette back frames your backside into a classic heart shape so you can look good coming and going. Garter loops are sewn on the underside allowing you to dress it up with your own garters and stockings. Garters not included. Fits 30" to 50" hips. Colour Choice: purple.

ACCOMMODATOR

This jock-strap harness has a removable O-ring to accommodate any dill (including ones with balls). To be even more accommodating, you can remove the Upsizer panel to create a “Family Jewels” style harness that is comfortable for male wearers and their testicles. The straps are connected to the ring to give a secure hold. The panel behind the dill is preferred by some “penetrators” as it cushions pubic mounds and shields pubic hair from pulls and tugs, but the snaps can be nasty for the “penetratee” in some positions. D-ring fastenings. Leather and nylon fits up to 50" hip. Nylon version also available in Start-up Strap-on kit with an overall $30 savings, see page 74. Colour Choice: Leather black; Nylon black or purple (please specify).

FAMILY JEWELS

The name of this harness is a clue to its use. It's the best jock-strap style harness to choose if you have a dill with "family jewels" or you're someone with your own set! Available in belting weight leather (with silver hardware) or nylon. With a removable O-ring, the straps attach directly to the latex O-ring joined to the waist band using snap enclosures. This means that when you add a dill with testicles, the straps wrap around instead of over the testicles, making for a cleaner, less bulky wear. Down the road, if you'd like to share your harness with someone or something that doesn't have testicles, check out the Upsizer panel. Leather fits up to 54" hip. Nylon fits up to 50" hip. Colour Choice: black.

THIGH HARNESSES

A thigh harness can be a very versatile harness ... yes it can attach to a thigh but with some generous or add-on strapping it is sooooo much more! Many thoughtful designs fit nicely over a stool or kitchen chair, securely over a bolster or a cushion, and some (such as Thigh Meister) can be extended to fit your bed, your couch or even your car! Why this style of harness is a portable bed buddy to say the least!

THIGH HIGHNESS

Fit for a queen, this hand crafted beauty is black belting weight leather with an additional leather accent riveted around the opening for stylin' support. D-ring closures for sizeability. The Vegan alternative, this 100% synthetic nylon thigh harness has a latex O-ring to secure the dill and adjustable nylon strap with plastic buckle to fit the harness to your thigh. Fully washable, it also offers a price alternative to the often costlier leather harnesses. Though nylon can't duplicate the no-slip grip of a rubber or leather harness, practicing with Thigh Meister is a cost effective way of determining if you have what it takes to master thigh harness operation! If you add an Extender, you can also check out furniture harness options. Fits thighs from 12" to 35". Colour Choice: black or purple (please specify).

RUB HER THIGH

Made of recycled rubber, this harness offers a great price alternative to leather without sacrificing secure hold. Rubber is easy to clean, grips well on thighs and the rubber dill-hole stretches so it accommodates a full range of dill sizes up to 2" in diameter. Laces mean it fits most sizes. The laces are leather for a more secure hold but we can replace them with a nylon lace on request for the Vegan among us. Our rigorous product testing rates this thigh harness number one in performance because the rubber keeps the harness from slipping down your thigh. Fits up to 37" thigh. Colour Choice: black.

FURNITURE HARNESSES

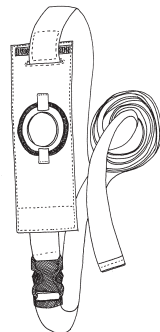

RIDER AND RIDER DELUXE

Well ... what else would you call them? These harnesses consist of nylon straps with enough length to hold your dills and butt plugs onto just about anything from chairs, beds, and motorcycles, to people's chests (a great addition to bondage). Both straps are 18 ft. long (and size down to 8") so think big! The Rider has a removable O-ring and a single length of nylon strap. The Rider Deluxe has a fixed 1 3/4" latex O-ring with backing on the base of the harness. Its 2" wide strap and cinching system allows you to put this harness around objects that have an awkward shape, giving you more versatility. For added value, detach the Extender portion and try your Rider Deluxe in thigh harness mode! Colour Choice: Rider black; Rider Deluxe black or purple (please specify).

DAYTON OK OIL

We recommend Dayton OK Oil (a made-in-Vancouver product where we have a great deal of experience with restoring wet leather due to the heavy rainfall, among other things) for leather harness care. You need to use a leather care product to restore a leather harness' natural oils. Because OK Oil is petroleum based, it won't go rancid like animal fat based products will. A little goes a long way and it absorbs into the leather quickly.

EXTENDER

Well how clever are we? A component to our Womyns'Ware Exclusive harness designs PLUS a product in its own right that we're able to sell "after market" to folks who'd like to modify products they already own! Extender is a strap to add on to your Thigh Meister thigh harness. Using the quick release closures you can snap Extender on to turn your Thigh Meister into a furniture harness that will strap toys to objects up to 18 feet around. It is simple and versatile ... what more can we really say? Who knows ... You may find other "play" uses for Extender around your home and around your loved one(s)! SWINGERS PAD

Well we don't like to brag but...this Womyns'Ware exclusive is the most versatile pad we carry (not to boast either). It does everything one can hope for and more. The hole allows you to decide which dill you'd like to slip into the Pad, instead of committing you to a fixed static option. Perhaps you'd rather use a butt plug? It can do that too. This gives you the swingers lifestyle by being able to change your harness's pubic plate partners when ever the whim takes you. Or just use the Pad alone for clit stimulation and skip the penetration. In any of these configurations, placing the Pad over your penetrative toy and onto the pubic plate of your harness for the penetratee's benefit adds an extra element to harness play. Or add an amazing thigh ride experience by putting the Pad on the outside of a thigh harness, latched on by putting the Pad's hole on to the dill that's in use. Economical as well as versatile, the possibilities don't end there. It can also be slipped into the harness (position like a menstrual pad) for the harness wearer's benefit, adding a great deal of stimulation with each thrust. We told you this Pad swings. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

VIBE-A-GAL

Vibe-A-Gal turns your harness wearing gal into a vibrator. It's an attachable leather ring with a pouch to hold the Action (included), vibrator. If you attach Vibe-A-Gal to your dill during harness play, you'll find that the vibrating pouch sits just under the clitoris of the penetrator right where the absent testicles would theoretically be found. The resulting vibration will be present throughout the penetrator's whole pelvis, adding precisely the type of diffused sensation that many of our female customers are looking for. The ring should be attached around the base of the dill to the inside of the harness's pubic plate for optimum comfort. Five snap adjustments make it one size fits all (dills). LIBERTY BELL

There are many products on the market trying to be the Liberty Bell but no one has got it so right for so many couples, liberating them from the tyranny of penetration without clitoral orgasm! This silicone wonder is the ideal way to add heightened clitoral stimulation. Slip the ring over your dill and ring her bell. The ring and clitoral bell are molded of a soft but resilient silicone for comfort and easy cleaning. Plenty of stretch in the ring means one size fits most (dills). The mini-capsule texture on the face of the bell adds further clitoral stimulation that compliments the vibration. The taut wrap of silicone the vibration zips along the whole ring of silicone and the dill it's attached to! The vibe packs an amazing kick in a very small package so presents minimal bulk between you and your partner. Hint: also works very well in a dill harness by putting it on the toy before slipping the toy through the harness (bell side down for the harness wearer's bonus). Silicone aspect has a one year warranty against defects. Remove the vibe for cleaning or replacement. Variable speed. Runs on three LR44 button cell batteries (included, additional batteries $2.85/3 pack). You can opt to upgrade to a Red Zinger vibe for $10 more, if you'd prefer the zing with your ring and don't mind a cord-joined control pack. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

Chapter 7: NIPPLES

If you enjoy some nipple contact, you may be pleasantly surprised at the erogenous potential of a simple nipple clamp. If you generally have unresponsive nipples, you may be impressed by the increase in sensation gained through these simple toys. Just remember never to leave a clamp on for longer than 20 minutes until you know what you or your partner can tolerate. To create additional stimulation, you can weight clamps with fishing weights once you become more familiar with your response.

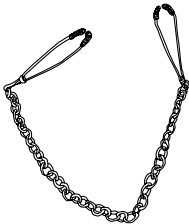

You may already be familiar with the erogenous potential from nipple suction, though not from a sexual product! To figure this one out, you'll need to read all the way to the end of this Chapter.

NIPPLE CLAMPS

Nipple clamps are a simple toy to add nipple stimulation while engaged in oral or penetrative sex. Stimulating both of your lover's nipples with one finger is as easy as the pull of a chain and saves your other hand for other activities (heck... tie a string to the middle of the chain, put it in your mouth and free up both hands)! You can add nipple clamps to masturbation for the same reason. Loop two sets together and add dual hands free tit stimulation for everyone involved. With all our nipple clamp styles, you control the pressure for your comfort and arousal. All are made of nickel plated brass.

TWEEZER

This style of clamp is the only one that starts with no pressure on the nipple. The clamp becomes tighter as you slide the collar up. They are the easiest style to control and fit a wide range of nipple sizes. They also clip onto nipple piercings or on the nipple behind a permanent piercing ring. They are best suited to women's nipples because of their curved tips. Can be used as genital clamps too. Adjustable.

ALLIGATOR (FLAT)

This style of clamp works best for men since men's nipples tend to be less fleshy, smaller and often not as sensitive. The flat surface applies more pressure to a larger area. Available in sizes small or large for the wider width, heavier weight and look. Adjustable.

VIBRATING NIPPLE CLAMPS

Well then, clamps aren't enough stimulation for you? How about some vibration to go along with your clamp!? Keep in mind that with the motor and batteries you gotta like a little weight too, these Vibrating Nipple Clamps are 40 grams each including batteries. Two independent pendulums open up other possibilities for testicles and clitorises, once you've gotten over the stimulating nipple adventure. You will probably find you require quite a bit of pressure to keep these hanging on to larger nipples as they don't have a curve in the clamp. One Speed. Runs on 6 LR44 batteries, 3 each (included). Colour Choice: silver.

ENDURANCE CLAMPS

As their name suggests, endurance clamps are in a different class than standard nipple clamps. There is no way of easing off the pressure from the clamp. They are definitely designed for heavy play. In fact the harder you pull the chain, the tighter the clamp becomes for as long as you can “endure” it.

Experimentation with clothes pins, nipple clamps and binder clips to create skin sensation is nothing new, but remember that the smaller the amount of skin clamped the more intense the sensation. Recall the 20 minute rule discussed at the beginning of this chapter prior to launching into an endurance clamp experiment. Always test a new toy on yourself before clamping on to your partner, that way you’ll have a clearer idea of the response to expect.

BUTTERFLY

This clamp has a slim clean design but don’t be fooled by its good looks, it’s nasty. When fully spread open it bites ¼" of flesh. That’s a tremendous amount of pressure on a small area. If this isn’t menacing enough, how about metal on skin? No rubber feet here. Aside from the heavy endurance aspect, Butterfly clamps can be used off the nipples as weight additions to nipple piercings. They are easy to take on and off the rings while your hands are covered in lube. Besides adding a nice weight, the compact design creates nifty stimulation when the chain gets swinging.

Butterfly

U-SCREW

This clamp will work for either men’s or women’s nipples because it has a broad adjustment range despite its flat surface. Unlike the Alligator styles, there is no initial clamping down which you then adjust. Instead, the U-Screw starts out without any initial tension. It only begins to clamp once you’ve adjusted it enough to apply pressure on the nipples. Not very adaptable to pierced nipples but does apply an even pressure on the unpierced variety.

CLOVER

These clamps also get tighter the harder you pull. Rubber feet give them a secure grip ... so pull away. They have a wide spread at 1/2" so they are sure to fit on larger nipples. Ideal for those who can't get enough pressure or those who need to be taught what pressure really is.

NIPPLE SUCTION

TIT POD

Okay, okay, we admit this is actually the Clit Pod (see our Womyns'Ware exclusives from our "encapsulating" series!) cleverly renamed but all for a good cause.

Sometimes after a product launch we stumble across an innovative way of using a product that completely redefines its category when applied to the new use. Such is the case with this silicone sleeve. Take one (or two!) Clit Pods, create a category called "Nipple Suction," pinch the sides of your Pod together to create a vacuum, plunk the base of the Pod over the nipple and release and you have the Tit Pod! You see, the vacuum created sucks up air, sucking in your nipple in the process. For the clamp cautious, you'll be able to enjoy nipple stimulation hands free from the suction, without a clamp. You can even apply a vibe to the outside of the silicone sleeve to add the conductivity of vibration to this already stimulating nipple suction experience. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

NIPPLE ADORNMENTS

DIVA CLAMPS

For the woman who wants the sensation of a nipple clamp AND the glam of beaded adornment Diva Clamps are just the ticket. Like tweezer style clamps these are adjustable so you can control the pressure. Rather than being joined with a chain like traditional clamps these are independent of each other and are finished off with decorative beads. The beads can add a bit of stimulation when in motion but really it's about making a fashion statement. Elegance and nipple clamp stimulation, now that is a multi faceted woman. They make great clit clamps as well. Colour Choice: purple, pink, scarlet and cobalt (please specify).

BOOBIE BLING

For the glam gal who wants to add some bling to her nipples (and beyond) Intimate Tattoos are the ultimate nipple glam or as we've titled this section, Boobie Bling! The "tattoo" is actually comprised of hand laid crystals on a translucent circular background that can be reapplied multiple times. On clean, oil free skin, simply position the "O" where you want it to end up and pat down. After several uses when the glue doesn't want to hold anymore you can use surgical glue to get the same effect. It won't harm the skin and dries clear (same as what is used to apply false eyelashes so that will give you some idea where to find it).

Chapter 8: BUTTS

Often the last frontier, once discovered, many set out to chart the new lands of anal stimulation. Both men and women can achieve anal orgasm so there are a wide variety of butt toys. Some you may have seen elsewhere but you won't find here because we don't feel they are particularly safe. With anal play many strict rules apply. Every toy we offer is pre-screened for anal safety but we're going to reiterate some anal rules in case you've got shoddy toys from some other source.

The rules: Do not insert anything that can become lost in the rectum. All toys must have flared bases or secure strings with O-rings for easy withdrawal. If you do not have a way of withdrawing the toy it can travel into the intestinal tract where it is sure to cause some major problems. Anal toys should be checked for rough edges and inspected for deterioration over time. Toys longer than 4" past the sphincters must be flexible to curve with the rectum. Be particularly cautious of dildos or vibrators that contain rods within their shafts. The rods can break through the toy and tear the rectum lining.

Use lube — A LOT. When you think you have enough lube add more, then begin your anal exploration, plus don't be afraid to add more lube as things progress. Do not use lubes that numb sensation. You need to feel what messages your anus is sending your way. If it hurts, something isn't quite right. Change the angle, slow down, add more lube or stop. Anal play shouldn't hurt and your ability to sense pain is your monitor for safety. Relaxation and communication are the key.

Only silicone or stainless steel toys can be sterilised so that the toy can have multiple uses (ie. both vaginal and anal) or users. Boil your silicone or stainless steel toys in a pot of water for three to four minutes before switching users or uses. Never share a non-sterilised toy! Anal toys can be cleaned sufficiently for a sole user (or use) with antibacterial soap, special Better Sex Essentials cleaner (recommended) or Adult Play Toy Cleaner (see BUTT TOY ACCESSORIES) and hot water.

We've classified our anal toy selection as either beads, plugs, hybrids, vibes or dills. Each classification lends itself to an entirely different stimulation. Read on.

ANAL BEADS

Anal beads are a popular and often, first toy. They consist of beads on a string that are designed for anal insertion. Beads can be plastic or metal and vary in size and colour. We only offer top of the line beads. Beware of cheaper alternatives with brittle plastic rings, discolouration-prone cotton string, and rough seamed beads that need to be filed prior to use. What's good about that?!

Butts: anal beads

Some people find that slowly withdrawing the beads at the time of orgasm increases the length and/or intensity of orgasm. In women, the wall between the anus and vagina is thin enough that with additional vaginal penetration there is movement of the anal beads plus withdrawal of the beads through the sphincter muscles is pleasurable. For men, many enjoy the stimulation to the prostate.

Anal beads are inexpensive and it is best that everyone have their own set. Don't share. The only way to sterilise the string is with a bleach solution but bleach will rot the string. A dangerous situation for anal toys. As long as you remain the sole user, soaking anal beads in an antibacterial soap and hot water is sufficient cleaning.

SOLO BUTT BEAUTIES

The narcissistically described Solo Butt Beauties are a single strand of great quality beads, nylon cord, hand strung and securely knotted. Five beads to a strand. Colours vary but the attractive seamless beads and black nylon cord with metal ring remain consistent throughout.

Solo Butt Beauties

STEELIES

Remember those prized shiny heavy metal marbles of your youth? Named in their honour, the Steelies are solid stainless steel. The ring is metal and the string is black nylon. The beads are virtually indestructible so they come with a five year warranty on re-stringing. Keep an eye on the string. When it starts to fray cut it off. Clean the ring and beads, then send them back and we'll re-string them at no charge (you pay the shipping). If you wish to add more beads ($19.85 each) we'll do that too. In addition to the general dialogue about anal beads these have the added dimension of weight. This creates pressure on the sphincter. They come in strands of three plus we can add more (please specify).

FLEXI HELIX

Flexi Helix is some what representational of the helix portion of a DNA strand but that's not what really caught our eye. What we especially like about it is that it's as close to traditional anal beads in silicone as can be found. Beads that are completely sheathed in silicone are the only kind of anal beads that can be shared between users and uses (vaginal to anal). The strands maintain the thick-to-thin variation of traditional bead and string strands but, better yet, without any knots. This gives Flexi Helix a shared advantage of a hybrid plug while retaining the greater definition variance and flex of string. Brilliant! This design breakthrough is from using a different casting technique than what's been tried with beads dipped in silicone. A breakthrough which we suspect will lead to better performance and a longer life for the product. You will see a subtle seam that runs the length of the strand, but it is fair to say the seam is something you can see more than feel. Five elliptical beads per strand on a cute smiley face grip handle. Besides being cute, the handle allows a great deal of control (thus, subtle technique) on withdrawal and keeps your hands clear of any lube messes. It's basically a purpose specific pull tab! Colour Choice: black, powder blue and fuchsia (please specify).

Flexi Helix

BENDY BEADS

Is it a butt bead or a hybrid bead-plug? That all depends on the flex ... less flex equals more hybrid than bead, more flex equals more bead than hybrid. With Bendy Beads, the name is your clue that the equation is on the bead side, though the graduation in the size of the beads and the solid performance from the spine that holds them altogether tips these a tad toward a hybrid. An up-sized version of Flexi Helix, Bendy Beads offers five beads that range in size from a large grape to a small plum. While closer to a hybrid than Flexi Helix we still consider these to be in the bead category. Though there is less space and narrowing between the beads than usual in the butt bead category, Bendy Beads still has enough bend to be more suited to a single insert (like a bead) than to work with a withdraw-repetitive stroking technique (like a hybrid). The strong easy grip curly-Q handle is very effective for slight motion during use and for withdrawal when you're ready. Colour Choice: black, purple or red (please specify).

BUTT PLUGS

Plugs are designed to be inserted and left in. Usually they have a bulge on their shaft and then narrow at the base. The narrowest point is where the sphincter muscle rests, the bulge keeps the plug from working its way out and the flared base assures you won't lose the plug in the rectum. The walls of the rectum are lined with nerve endings that make anal stimulation especially pleasurable for all. For women, the fuller anal feeling during vaginal penetration can be that little extra they are looking for. Plugs add significant complementary stimulation during oral sex for either gender. Men often find the stimulation to the prostate gland very satisfying.

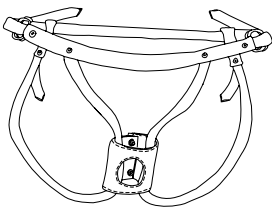

We only sell silicone or acrylic plugs. The alternative would be vinyl-surfaced plugs with a rubber fill. This material is very porous and allows for absorption into the toy. It is impossible to sterilise and the material degrades quickly, leaching toxins into your body. That's gross! Silicone, on the other hand, rules!! Silicone can be boiled for three to four minutes to sterilise. Clean it properly and share it with a friend, and with its resilience, use it for years to come. Its pliability and body temperature conducting properties are particularly suited to anal play (for detailed silicone info see the introduction to Chapter 2: DILLS). "Butt" for now we'll also tell you that silicone conducts vibration very efficiently. We can't encourage you enough to try a silicone butt plug with a vibe. The nerve endings in the rectum are acutely sensitive, so much so that when you add vibration to these products the toy becomes sculpted in your mind.

All of the butt plugs are measured for length based on what is insertable and for width at their widest point.

THE PLUGGER

This leather harness allows the harness wearer to insert and hold in a butt plug (and hybrid or dill for that matter) without worrying about it popping out. Wear it during sex, your final exams or next job interview. You'll think of something. Add a Vibe O'Gizmo and Mini Pearl for your next walk on the beach. This harness also works with the double dills for even more variation. Fits men and women up to 44" hip. Colour Choice: black.

RYDER, DARTS AND SOFTY

All the plugs in this section are modeled on a tried and true classic plug design. Ryder is made of a stiffer, fairly dense silicone so not to everyone's taste. Ryder is similar in size to Dart 4 but stiffer. The Darts come in five sizes so you can gradually work your way up through the full set, so to speak. Their medium silicone density gives them a pleasant flex while retaining a snug hold at the narrowest point. On the other end of the silicone density scale, Softy is longer than most styles but made of a softer, more pliable squishy silicone. Men looking to stimulate their prostate may be particularly interested in its longer length plus pliability. Colour Choice: Ryder black, copper, purple and blue; Darts charcoal, blue and lavender; Softy charcoal, lavender, pink, blue and banana (please specify).

JOE ROCK, TOM PUTT AND BUDDY

The plugs here have moved away from the classic design so each has its own evolutionary branch. A pliable silicone density, Buddy has a narrower bulge at entry and then expands mid-point with a wider bulge for a snug hold. Joe Rock isn't as tough as it sounds though if you say "Joe Rock" in a Monster Truck announcer voice you could convince people otherwise. The narrow neck in this design creates a great resting place. The silicone is dense enough that it doesn't buckle when you apply pressure for insertion but flexible enough for comfort during use. Both Joe and Tom are classic design "firm hold" plugs though Tom Putt deviates from classic some what with its four vertical valleys that can add a knuckle like sensation if the plug is gently twisted during use. In both plugs, the distinct definition between the widest point and neck makes for a firm hold and helps lower the rate of pop-out that many folks experience with plugs while bearing down. Lifetime warranty against defect in manufacture. Colour Choice: Buddy black, purple and silver glitter; Joe Rock and Tom Putt black, silver, purple and blue (please specify).

MIN PIN, BENDER AND SLIM

Min Pin is modeled on a classic plug design, but for the five-pin bowling pin style of its tip. On entry, the bulge gives a nice little relaxation play on the sphincter. Fairly dense silicone but petite so not that great of a challenge. Bender is a plug with hybrid options. The shaft of the toy (up until the lower portions widening base) is long and curved, making it a wise choice for stroking or massaging the prostate. The other option is to insert the toy deeper, past the curved shaft and treat it more like a sitting plug. Slim is a non-threatening entry level butt toy with a blunt consistent thickness from top to bottom, though it does lack a telltale head. Both Bender and Slim have a base that includes a hollow if you'd like to add a vibe (sold separately ... Red Zinger recommended). Colour Choice: black, copper, blue and violet shimmer (please specify).

BACK END JOY

This whole series is comprised of beautiful sculptural forms made from very shiny temperature conducting, non porous medical-grade stainless steel. Stainless steel is a material that has plenty of strength even when scaled down in size as well as a weight which makes for a real presence. The primary use for the Back End Joy series is anal play, though you can experiment with crossover (taking the time to clean up first) vaginal use as the weight makes for a great Kegel workout. The njoy plugs - small, medium, and large - have a narrow neck providing a very comfortable resting point and easy retention no matter how wide the head you choose. The handle is easy to grasp even when things get slippery and has a very low profile between the cheeks as well as ensuring the toy doesn't move into the rectum. The handle looks a bit like a bottle opener but we found that it didn't work for this particular crossover purpose! The fun-njoy is two "ended". One end is a dill and the other is a hybrid dill/bead. We advise that when using this toy anally you use one side or the other to the half way point rather than the whole length of the toy. This will keep you safely in the 4" rule (anal toys longer than 4" past the sphincters must be flexible to curve with the rectum). fun-njoy also makes a great vaginal toy with G-spot potential. Do not use abrasive cleaners as you will scratch the mirror finish other than that you can't really hurt these beauties (but you could hurt your toe if you dropped one!). Colour Choice: high shine stainless steel.

|                                                                                               |          |

A classic plug design at the larger end of the spectrum, Crystal Butt Plug adds the element of acrylic rigidity (bonus: you can see through the plug if your curiosity gets the better of you!). A plug that is most suited to the experienced butt player as acrylic lacks the flexibility of silicone. The difference in size between the widest point and the neck (15/16") will keep it securely in place. Colour Choice: clear.

HYBRID DILL BEADS

The toys in this section are a hybrid between anal beads and dildos. They have the effect of anal beads popping through the sphincter muscles at the time of withdrawal but because they're continuous rather than strung together, they enable you to create that sensation multiple times with repetitive stroking. Without strings, they can be sterilised and therefore shared.

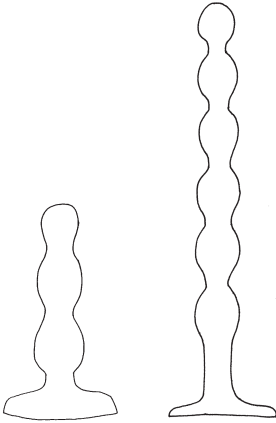

FUNTASY AND THE STRAND

A thicker shaft makes Fantasy slower to reinsert after withdrawal but gives a very comfy fit. The bulges are a consistent size all the way along the toy. The Strand's size leaves room to combine simultaneous anal and vaginal penetration. The distinct contours create great sensation between the vagina and rectum wall. The longest and the closest to beads in our opinion due to the length and consistent diameter of the "beads" with the exception of the top one which is smaller for nice esthetics and an easy start. Colour Choice: The Strand black, blue and red; Fantasy black, red, yellow, orange, blue, teal and purple (please specify).

JOLLY JACK

Per the maker's packaging, this hybrid is decreed: "Made in the happiest valley in Canada" ... we're not sure we can verify which valley is the happiest but we can say that Jolly Jack is one happy hybrid dill-bead. The three bulges have very distinct indentations at each transition with the last bulge the widest in diameter. Its neck is particularly narrow and long, offering a good resting spot. It's possible to use this toy vaginally as well, though if used in a harness (for anal or vaginal penetration), we'd suggest being mindful that it calls for a rocking, not a thrusting motion, given the bulges. Also the narrow neck might tend to buckle with heavy thrusting and the rectangular base may mean a Slip-Not is in order as it could pop out of a round harness opening. Lifetime warranty against defect in manufacture. Colour Choice: black, silver, purple and blue (please specify).

VIBE O’GIZMO

Vibe O’Gizmo

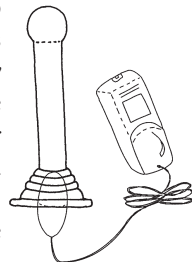

BUTT VIBES

All the penetrative butt vibes listed here are high quality vibrators that are electronically sound. We’re always happiest selling separate silicone penetrative toys in combination with external use vibrators (a Vibe O’Gizmo will keep them both together if the maker didn’t think to include a vibe cavity in the design). The combination is more hygienic, versatile and cost effective in the long run. You can detach the vibrator during clean-up and boil the silicone. Consequently, the silicone toy can be shared or used both for anal and vaginal penetration. A few of the silicone butt vibes have embedded electronic motors meaning that their electronics can’t be removed so you still can’t sterilize them ’cause you can’t boil electronics. Due to our tenacious attitude while toy buying, most of our selection of silicone anal vibes do it all with the option of sterilizing the toy. Silicone, vibration, a removable motor for cleaning, all in one toy! Now we’re happy. The dimensions given below are useable insertion length and diameter at the widest point.

BUTT SERIOUSLY

Too many sex toy makers treat butts like a joke but with so much erotic potential, we think a more serious approach is called for, balanced with some fun, of course. Butt Seriously is a silicone anal vibrator in a dimension that even a novice can love. It has a head so when you give up control and let your partner manipulate the toy you won’t have unexpected pop outs. A textured shaft gives some resistance which keeps the stimulation interesting. Silicone is a great conductor so the vibration is pronounced. Since the electronics can be easily removed, you can clean and sterilize the silicone shaft and share the experience between users. And here’s an idea: try it with the Swingers Pad in a harness. We suspect that you’ll want to use this toy for many years so it’s been designed with a replaceable vibrating element to deal with any future electronic breakdowns and to make cleaning a breeze. The silicone aspect has a five year warranty against defects. Vibe is variable speed. Requires two AA batteries. Colour Choice: cobalt purple.

BUTTY, SNUGGLE-PUSS AND RIPLEY

Butty

Snuggle-Puss

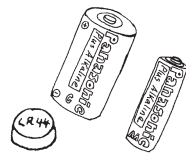

Ripley

These innovative silicone toys are literally from and figuratively for Down Under! Butty derives from a tried and true butt plug design. Since butt plugs have always been a great tool in any toy box, the addition of vibration is a nice new dimension. Snuggle-Puss has a smooth shaft and a wonderfully fun curve. The base makes it suitable for anal or vaginal use. Excellent for prostate stimulation and a good G-spot toy too. Finally something for the whole family. Ripley's a sensational anal toy that combines the idea of hybrid dill beads with variable speed vibration. This is not a completely new idea but we are especially pleased with the addition of a removable vibe making it possible to sterilize the toy and to get it working again after you've loved the first motor to death. The bulges aren't too extreme, offering transition from the narrower to wider profiles, enabling a more rapid stroking technique. In fact, with all of these toys, vibrators can be replaced should the mechanics give up the ghost. Separate battery compartment with variable speed control. Require two AA batteries. Colour Choice: violet shimmer, pink shimmer and midnight blue (please specify).

BATTERIES

Not too much to say except keep an extra set around for back up and follow manufacturer insertion instructions. Unlike trusty alkalines, LR44 button cell batteries don't hold a lot of power for very long, consequently you'll want to keep extra sets around if your vibe runs on LR44 batteries. Luckily, we sell them in a 3 pack! Alkaline batteries sold individually so you decide how many.

BETTER SEX ESSENTIALS TOY CLEANER

If your toys are latex, elastomer or vinyl, you really ought to consider a cleaner due to the porous nature of these composites. Even with silicone or stainless steel toys (which can be cleaned up with hot water and basic hand soap), you may find a time where Better Sex Essentials Toy Cleaner comes in handy as it doesn't require water to work. An antibacterial toy cleaner very suitable for the user who, while concerned with cleanliness, is still looking for something gentle. This one does not contain the Nonoxynol-9 (a detergent best suited for fighting viral infections) that most toy cleaners do. Better Sex Essentials is more than sufficient for keeping any sex toy clean for most applications and many situations. It also works without water if you find yourself in a situation where water is scarce or not potable. Just be sure to let the cleaner dry completely before subsequent use of your toy!

ADULT PLAY TOY CLEANER

We consider this a must for rubber, latex or vinyl toys where there is a reason to be concerned about the spread of known or suspected viral agents such as genital herpes. Porous surfaces provide a holding ground for bacteria and yeast infections. Toy cleaners are not necessary for silicone (silicone care is explained in detail earlier). Contains nonoxynol-9 which is a very strong cleaner. Care should be taken to thoroughly rinse it away to avoid irritation. Highly concentrated, Adult Play Toy Cleaner can be diluted one tablespoon to three cups of water.

BUTT DILLS

A dill is a dildo regardless of where you put it so there isn't really such a thing as a "butt" dill. Why? Because butts are important! Any silicone toy with a flared base that has the length and diameter you desire is a good butt dill. A base ensures they won't become lost in the rectum, and the material is ideal. Dills with a head will let you know you are at the end. When withdrawing it won't be popping out so you won't have to reinsert the toy unexpectedly. Go back to Chapter 2: DILLS and consider models appropriate for both vaginal and anal play (with proper cleaning). With the right diameter choice, there are many good butt dills. Under SPECIAL USE DILLS you'll see that we've specifically singled out the dual Nexus Jr. for its vaginal to anal potential. If you are looking for something that is longer and thicker check softness and flex to accommodate the curve of the rectum. And check out accessories to add vibration.

Chapter 9: PLAY LAND

Play Land could be said to encompass our whole inventory but the intent here is to offer sexual play ideas and generate discussions of “adventures on the horizon”. Play Land showcases adventures outside of the norm that could appeal to a whole cross section of people. The name for this category comes in part from the Bondage and BDSM venue where participants often refer to themselves as “Players”, and in part from an adventure theme park called Playland located near our flagship store. Bondage gear falls into the fantasy role play venue of sexual expression. While Playland offers the Tilt a Whirl for those who enjoy a good spin, The Hellevator for the adrenaline junkie enthusiasts and the Ferris Wheel for those who want to play but are just not sufficiently emboldened we offer much of the same! We’ve got an amazing selection of lubes, dills, and vibes for the good spin, blind folds, nipple accouterments, slappers and ticklers for the enthusiasts AND for our “just not ready but still in the theme park” folks, we’ve got the books, bath, body and massage. Why Play? Why not? Why add salt? Why put cream in your coffee? Why try Ethiopian cuisine? Because it is available and it offers some potentially nourishing and tasty results! Who Plays? People who Play are people who want to continue to learn and enjoy. People who are not satisfied with potatoes as a side dish for the rest of their lives. People who are not satisfied that their suburban congested freeway commute is the be all and end all of transportation alternatives! Who wants to Play? The people who look for more. More information, more meaning and people in the pursuit of happiness. How serious do you need to be? Not very and maybe super serious! You need to be serious about the intent. Seriously connected to the idea that you want to explore but not so serious that you suffer great disappointment if you did not enjoy your first ride. Corkscrew roller coasters are not for everyone. You tried it and it was not your thing ... maybe the Wave Swinger is more your speed! A Player needs to be open to discover what they enjoy and what they do not enjoy and they need to realize that their experience is unique to them. Yes, they might find others who had similar experiences with the experiment of choice but chances are they will not find someone with all of the same likes and dislikes. Final word on how serious do you need to be to Play? About as serious as you need to be to try a peanut butter and ketchup sandwich. That said ... no, you don’t need to Play, you don’t even have to want to Play. But should you find yourself feeling uninspired with the same old routine, be you alone or with a partner and you decide that you are curious enough to “see what is out there” then you might just want to come to the fair!

Often said but worth repeating, the key to all fantasy play is “safe, sane, and consensual”. In simple translation, this means use proper equipment and safe sex practices, arm yourself with knowledge (see Chapter 11: BOOKS), play sober, communicate with your partner, and make sure that everyone is doing exactly what they want and no one is Playing against their wishes. Talk about your fantasy ahead of time. Set parameters for what you want and what you don’t want. An improvement over being stuck on a roller coaster until the bitter end, establish a “safeword” that tells your partner to ease-up or stop (we only WISH a safeword worked at the adventure theme park!). Ensure that everyone is Playing within their personal boundaries. Don't do anything that you can't do right and don't exaggerate your experience. Once everyone is ready to Play, let your fantasies loose and go for it!

Leather, nylon, rubber and other fabric gear can be hand washed with basic hand soap and warm water. After washing leather, you need to use a leather care product such as Dayton OK Oil (see PLAY LAND GEAR) to restore the natural oils. Don't use animal fat based products 'cause they'll rot stitching. You can restore the lustre of rubber gear with a silicone lube.

Unless stated otherwise, our Exclusive leather gear comes with a five year repair or replacement warranty. Our non-leather Exclusives have a one year warranty.

TIE ME UP. TIE ME DOWN.

Restraining (tying your partner up) or being restrained (being tied down) is a good ground breaker for potential Play Land enthusiasts. Tying someone up can be fun, works well with two or a crowd and it's gender neutral! Everyone can play! If you've been in a relationship for some time, sex play can become predictable - break out of that predictable rut by adding a twist (tie) to your games. Why tie up? If you are playing by restraining you are accepting responsibility to provide all of the pleasure! It's akin to creating unrestricted access to your partner's playground! You and your partner have agreed that it's your turn to "do the work" while your counterpart lounges around with hands and/or legs tied aside to make for a sensual feast! For the mobile partner it is an honour and a challenge to have so much access! You've been given an opportunity to provide your partner with complete attention without interruption. What to do? Where to go? It can be daunting but with some careful navigation and a little creativity a physical connection beyond that of the "morning quickie" is almost guaranteed! Why be tied down? The lounge is having their vulnerable bits offered up to a trusted soul for pleasuring while their ability to respond by touch or movement is reduced. This amounts to a free license to lay back and enjoy the attention without the subconscious obligation to reciprocate ("What could I do? I was all tied-up!"). Playing against your restraints can be a real turn-on in itself. Throw self-consciousness to the wind and allow your body to "resist" the attention that you are receiving. Further, the trust that this involves is part of the play ... nothing like letting go to create some sexual tension! What kind of person wants to tie someone up (or be tied up)? The kind of person who wants to tie someone up or be tied up can be any kind of person ... a person who wants to hold the reigns for once, a person who is really interested in giving pleasure, a person whose partner is too damn high energy and who'd like a little cuddle every once in a while without she/he jumping out of bed for a glass of water! Really, it's a challenge for us to say who this person might be! After all, even a sensual massage can take on a whole new level of eroticism when you add restraints to the equation. Imagine the difference to oral sex!

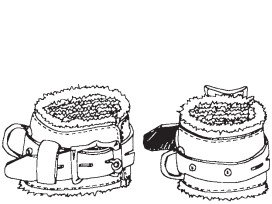

So, we've convinced you that restraints can be sexy and fun, now what? Well, unless you've achieved the highest ranking in scouts or are a merchant marine, you should consider purpose-designed restraints as a safe alternative to "household" items like rope or scarves. After all, many people have tied their partner up with a housecoat tie and then had to cut them loose when the knots proved too complicated, and we've all experienced rope burn at some point in our lives. The restraints presented here are the right tools for the job. Even when they appear at first glance to be simple “household” items, they have thoughtful design aspects for getting in, out, and on in a pinch!

Unless stated otherwise, all exclusive leather restraints have a five year repair or replacement warranty against defects. All non-leather models have an equivalent one year warranty. All cuff and ankle restraints are sold and priced by the pair.

SINVENTION, PURPLE PASSION, GAUNTLETS AND DIANA’S

Sinvention are made of 10 oz. English bridle leather either unlined (supple two ply garment leather) or lined with syn-fur making them extremely comfortable for straining against and longer wear. Top-of-the-line from a maker of equestrian gear, the soft lining means you can get a snugger fit without cutting off the blood flow to hands and feet. Welded dual metal D-rings and heavy duty steel, locking buckles complete these long wearing and long lasting beauties.

Sinvention (w/ syn-fur)

Gauntlets

Sinvention (unlined)

Diana's

Gauntlets are double width leather and have a D-ring on each strap. They look snappy and the width makes them comfortable too. They give the wearer the warrior princess look. Diana's Restraints (named for the goddess huntress) are a top quality leather restraint without the cushy syn-fur since some people think soft linings are for wimps. Woman-made and sized for women's wrists and ankles. They have metal hardware, buckles for easy release, D-rings for ease of bondage, are soundly constructed and co-ordinate nicely. Colour Choice: Sinvention black; Gauntlets and Diana's Restraints black, oxblood or purple strap with black cuffs and silver hardware (please specify).

It's two wrist or ankle restraints in one, it's a collar and a leash, it's a cool looking wrist or arm band, it's a leather strap for a Ball gag, a headband, or a boot strap, it's a belt to hold up your pants, it's a tether between two sets of restraints or your bedpost, it's ... nifty.

SENSORY PLAY

Once you're all tied up, then what are you going to do? We think that this is the perfect time to experiment with heightened sensation since the dampening of any one sense will enhance another (and enhancement is what we're all about here)! When you engage in playing with extra sensation, you're experimenting with oft times counterintuitive yet exciting sensual nuances. Just as in your everyday sex play things will be different each time — sometimes it's a go and other times not so much — when you add unfamiliar sounds, temperatures, areas of stimulation or types of stimulation you get something entirely different each time you Play. That's "Sensational"! One of the ways to experiment with this technique is to take away one of the senses so that the others take over. Take sight or vocalization, as two examples. If you are blindfolded, not only can you not see what is going to happen next, leaving you with tingly excitement wondering what's up, but all your senses are heightened as they take over for your eyes. You can smell your partner near you. You can hear your breathing and heartbeat, and every little touch sends shivers up your body. You can't see your partner or yourself which often alleviates self-consciousness. All good things! In the same way that being blindfolded alleviates self-consciousness so that you feel free to thrash about and move your body in ways you wouldn't if you were being "seen", wearing a gag is a license to howl your fool head off. It's as if covering your mouth means you can howl like you've never allowed yourself to howl before. Having something to chomp into can really inspire a person to roar their pleasure.

BOUDOIR BONDAGE

Boudoir Bondage is something we think Mae West would have made a fine spokeswoman for ... soft, sleek, sexy high fashion that is free of knots, chain and hardware yet ideally designed for light bondage and sensory play. The Slip's function is really that of a silk scarf or bathrobe tie but unlike when pillaging from your wardrobe, this Slip won't be ruined when knots become permanent. It is made of heavy weight two sided satin ribbon with a loop sewn into each end. This design allows you to have one end attached to an object like a bed post and the other around the appendage of your choice or you can use it like soft cuffs, a blindfold, or even in the mouth for a little kidnap play acting. The rest of the Boudoir line start with soft double layered garment weight leather panels threaded on to The Slip. First for sensory play is the Jackie-O blindfold. Why "Jackie O"? Well as we all know she was famous for large sunglasses and an impeccable sense of style. The eye panels are fully adjustable so whether your eyes are wide set like Betty Davis or close set like Barbara Streisand you won't be able to peek. And even though you won't be able to see out, rest assured that you will look fabulous while wearing your Jackie-O's. Back to our "tie me up. tie me down." theme park, The Gals Bracelet and The Gals Anklet design helps stabilize and reduce pressure points due to bunching that can occur when a run of the mill tie is used, without the benefit of the Boudoir line's clever panel and ribbon system. The panel on the Anklet is longer than that on the Bracelet to better fit the corresponding limb—ankle and wrists to be precise. Since these panels are threaded onto The Slip you can use them with or without the panels, offering you the best of both worlds. Super user friendly and sexy to boot. Because The Slip aspect on each Boudoir piece is 47" long, 2 1/4" wide, that is the approximate range for fit and tie that you have to work with when any are used in restraint. Colour Choice: black.

SILICONE BALL GAG

“Gag” is a misnomer because we aren’t talking about an object large enough to elicit a gag reflex. This gag is are more akin to a bit, inserted in the mouth to the extent that you can get your teeth on it but not to the back of the throat. Ball gags have some oral intrusion and will forevermore be associated with the movie Pulp Fiction. Better than Pulp Fiction, our ball gag isn’t made of stinky rubber (a smell that is enough to make you gag in and of itself). This ball gag is high density silicone, soft enough to be comfortable in the mouth “yet tear resistant enough to not break down after 1 month of Terrier [canine] testing” according to the manufacturer. The ball is removable for cleaning by hand or in the dishwasher, making it perfect for multiple users. The strap is ¾" black washable nylon for easy cleaning with a quick release buckle. If you want a leather strap our Beatnik Bondage is a perfect fit (and the combined price will still come under most single unit non-silicone gags in the market). Dimensions are for the gag portion only. Colour Choice: black nylon strap w/black, purple or red ball (please specify).

PROPS FOR LIFE EYE SLIP

Props for Life may seem like an extremely lofty name for a blindfold, but not when you consider that these are luxurious 100% silk eye slips that not only block vision and light they are flax filled so they provide a gentle weight to deter peeking. Obviously they are a great blindfold but they can also be used for meditation or on your next transatlantic flight. Never has sight deprivation looked and felt so good. 100% Silk eye slips. Elastic head strap with velcro closure. Care tip: spot wash with damp cloth. Never immerse in water because the flax would absorb the water and expand! Colour Choice: purple or black (please specify).

ADRENALINE RUSH

At first using a flogger, crop or paddle may seem as out of place in your bedroom as lubricant or restraints did at one time—or like hot sauce on your eggs and toast did back in the day—you just never know until you try! Our “Adrenaline Rush” title is meant to convey the objective and result of Playing with toys for impact sensation. A key element that takes place during impact sensation play is the “seducing of the endorphins”... working with the body to release endorphins so that the “high” they produce can be enjoyed. In sum, the goal of tools like floggers, crops and paddles is to say “Ooooh” not “Oww”, leaving your senses heightened for hours after Play. While simply getting off your tush to engage in an active sexual Play Land encounter gets the old adrenaline glands a pumpin’, add some props and maybe even some fancy knickers to the mix and we’re really on a roll! The skin is an extremely sensitive erogenous zone of the body and needn’t be ignored while you focus solely on the easy parts (genitals!). Much like a day trip to Playland might hit its crescendo with the Old School wooden Roller Coaster, your romp with Adrenaline Rush accessories could prove to be a contender. When you get on that Roller Coaster, you want to rest assured that it’s been finely engineered to provide the rush with a safe outcome. Same thing with the tools here ... these accessories are designed with safe use in mind. Sure, a wooden spoon might work in a pinch, but the softer more flexible hand crafted leather wares feature a little more give and offer the user more control. We’ve attempted a division of categories by the type of sensation a particular Adrenaline Rush tool produces. Life’s never that simple, though, so you’ll notice where we remark on variations in what you might expect to experience.

One note with product measurements: most of these are handcrafted which means some slight variation from time to time. Being artisan work, each piece is unique.

FLOGGERS

Floggers are finely crafted tools with heavy long flat broad tails, designed to produce pleasurable sensations, usually on the shoulders and buttocks. The sensation for the “floggee” is much like a shiatsu massage. Our floggers look dramatic and will stand up to heavy use. The heavier floggers have balanced handles for comfortable tail landings. Traditional leather floggers are the most versatile. All of our leather floggers are handcrafted. Floggers vary in overall length and number of tails. Shorter tails are easier to control if you have a shorter reach (length of arm). They also require less room to swing. If you will be using your flogger in a small area this is important. Generally, the higher the number of tails, the more controlled the landing. Heavy, well weighted tails tend not to splay where you didn’t intend them to land. Measurements for length are given. Manufacturer’s warranty for all with Nun’s Habit and Rapunzel being exclusive to Womyns’Ware.

Don’t be fooled! Even though Floggerella is economically priced, she’s designed to work it! A great introductory flogger with a light weight synthetic handle and ten soft garment leather tails, it’s safe for use just about anywhere on the body and is especially suited to nipples and genitals. These floggers won't let you down even under the most strenuous circumstances. While Bessie is a simple economical flogger, it's "expensively" designed for function. A relatively traditional flogger in weight, but with nine fairly short tails making it easy to control, especially in smaller spaces. Synthetic handle. Butter soft garment weight cowhide leather tails. Nun's Habit has an exposed wood handle (for the eye catching aesthetic value and witch-like wand appeal) made from salvaged found wood and twenty-two heavy suede tails. Suede makes a nice warm up tool delivering a soft, heavy but at the same time sharp sensation. Rapunzel is cut from a single piece of hide that makes up handle and tails. She sports an awesome thirty-three thick belting weight tails with an added leather wrapped handle topped off by decorative chrome studs. This classic and elegant entity earned her lofty namesake ... those long heavy locks, sleek handle, elegant silver fasteners along her spine AND she's theatrical! In order to manage this gal one will need some clearance! As a matter of fact that tower Rapunzel used to hang out at might come in handy metaphorically should you want to use Rapunzel to "let down her hair"! Heavy and sensuous. Colour Choice: Floggerella black or purple; Nun's Habit and Rapunzel black, purple and blue; Bessie black (please specify).

Floggerella

Bessie

NOVICE CROP

Remembering what you’ve learned about floggers, crops are also for skin sensory play. One of the basic differences between the crop family and floggers or whips is that crops have a rigid extension (no flaying of multiple tails) so that they cover less surface area per contact. You can change the sensation by changing the force of application. They make a good mix-it-up tool along with a flogging and are relatively easy to control in terms of aim since there is little flex. If the tip is broad, their impact is similar to that of an open palm. The broader the tip, the less sting on impact. The narrower the tip, the more sting on impact. Our selection is limited on purpose ... outside of a fine, exploratory tool such as what you are seeing here, the true connoisseur of crops and switches (a whip tailed crop) shops at tack stores. The British horsey set are unmatched for workmanship and adult toy suppliers simply can’t compare. So, if you like Novice and want more, buck up and go to a tack shop. After all, you needn’t describe your filly to the sales staff! The economy model Novice (making it an excellent value, entry level tool), has a rubber handle for a firm grip, durable synthetic woven nylon wrapped shafts and a leather tip. Colour Choice: black.

Novice (length 25 3/4") .....$29.85

PADDLES, STRAPS AND BATS

Paddle implements are similar to using your hand for spanking but without the sting on the palm. They are great beginner tools because they are easy to direct (learning to aim a paddle takes less practice than learning to land a flogger) and they won’t become obsolete if you move into flogging later, as they remain an excellent warm up toy. Straps and bats have as their closest cousin the good old-fashioned belt. What distinguishes them from a belt is that they are better crafted for the job. There are no potentially harmful buckles and they’re easier to grip and aim.

Drop Zone

The Strap

The Strap has a looped belting leather strap and solid handle. The leather is so thick and lush that it practically handles like a bat, though the loop design brings it closer to a strap for use. A true “school marm” fantasy how ever you slap it and backed by our exclusive warranty. Get ready for a major adrenaline rush, Drop Zone’s beautifully finished 2 ply English bridle leather paddle will soon have you feeling like you’re in free fall. A paddle this thick is enough for great control with a nice flex. Generous lifetime warranty against manufacturing defects. Colour Choice: Drop Zone black; The Strap black or purple (please specify).

PLAY LAND GEAR

HARDWARE

Once you've got the restraints on it's nice to have somewhere to hook them up to. We find that simple hardware like Chain and Carabiners make up the easiest bondage kit because you can loop Chain around most bed legs or posts and/or put eyehooks under your bed or various locations around one's home (fantasy is a good place to expand one's imagination). If you'd rather do "bondage light", you can skip the Chain and use any combination of Bondage To Go, A Go-Go, To Go-Go or The Slip (see products earlier in this chapter) to link up your choice of restraint and restraining fixed point. That's three different types of material for three different types of hook up application! Satin Slips are good for light play. The sash can be used on its own, it can be paired with a collar to create a leash, it can be looped through restraints and then tied to a bed post or a chair or what have you. The pairing of a couple Slips with a nice set of leather restraints gives the illusion of a "more aggressive" bondage presentation with all the freedom of light play. Metal Chain link is not going anywhere. It's classic, it's strong and it's for someone who knows that they want their willing partner to stay put for a while! Leather Beatnik Bondage is the middle man. Use any length from To Go-Go to A Go-Go to just plain Go! You can create a hog tie or secure a length to your wardrobe! Where ever your imagination takes you, all work nicely with your basic Quick Link, Carabiner or Double Snap. Carabiners are a simple way to then attach restraints to your well placed metal Chain, leather, or satin hookups, but remember that Double Snaps aren't strong enough for weight bearing. Double Snaps are for wrist-to-wrist or ankle-to-ankle link ups. Carabiners can be used in place of Double Snaps plus they are strong enough to take weight strain. To change the tension you can just move the Carabiner along the Chain length. Knot geeks need fear no more! There is one more handy item to mention and that's the Quick Link. It is designed especially for securely joining or linking lengths of chain.

DAYTON OK OIL

We recommend Dayton OK Oil (a made-in-Vancouver product where we have a great deal of experience with restoring wet leather due to the heavy rainfall, among other things) for leather gear care. You need to use a leather care product to restore leather gear's natural oils. Because OK Oil is petroleum based, it won't go rancid like animal fat based products will. A little goes a long way and it absorbs into the leather quickly.

Chapter 10: NOVELTY PURPOSES ONLY

The title of this chapter is somewhat tongue in cheek. In the mainstream sex shop industry, “For Novelty Purposes Only” is used as a disclaimer to explain away why cheap, poorly designed sex toy products simply don’t work. In contrast, we’re using the title to introduce quality products that just don’t happen to be sex toys per se.

PLEASURE IN RELAXATION

For those who want it all but just for the weekend. This kit has weekend sized single use Original Oil of Love, Honey Dust Powder with a mini feather applicator, Pleasure Balm, Sweet Almond Massage Oil, and Sensual Lubricant, all in the cutest little containers.

HATHOR MASSAGE OIL AND LOVE LOTION

Beautiful quality, skin appeal, enticing feel and fragrance ... this Vancouver based, two woman manufacturing company has been producing quality skin care since 1989. Products are all plant based with aphrodisiac properties. Whenever possible organically cultivated ingredients are used. They contain no synthetic fragrances, animal or petroleum products. They support sustainable agriculture. Both these products are oil based and have a shelf life of approximately one year. Exotic Love Oil can be used for massage or in the bath. You can even dab some on your wrist and wear as a fragrance. It has excellent slip for serious body work and will ultimately penetrate the skin with organic essential oils. Sensual Love Lotion is fragrant, alluring and will quickly absorb into the skin leaving it silky smooth and touchable. Neither the Oil or Lotion is condom compatible nor intended for internal use. Which is why the Gift Pack contains one of each Lotion and Oil along with a Hathor Aphrodisia Lubricant - the lube is your condom compatible, internal use component (see description in Chapter 5: HEALTH).

KAMA SUTRA MASSAGE AND EROTIC OIL

Kama Sutra Massage Oil is an aromatic blend of pure essential oils for a soothing massage. All natural ingredients. Keep in mind that oils break down latex so don't combine the two. Kama Sutra Erotic Oils are lighter textured than a massage oil. If you blow on them or rub them they heat up. They're a blend of natural edible ingredients derived from plant oils with subtle (versus overpowering) flavours safe for consumption so that you can move from a massage into sex play with ease. All of them are light and silky and non-greasy and are fortified with Vitamin E to nourish the skin. Pleasure Garden emphasizes rose and jasmine. Serenity accentuates lavender and citrus. Sweet Almond is their classic blend and is reminiscent of warm toasted almonds. Soaring Spirit is blended with mint, citrus and floral blossoms...it is very uplifting. Healing Blend is essence of pine and juniper and is a warm and heady scent.

Kama Sutra Oils

Flavour Choice: Kama Sutra Erotic Oils vanilla creme, chocolate mint, raspberry kiss, original (described by the maker as a “delicate mix of chocolate, vanilla, and cinnamon”), and cherry (please specify). Scent Choice: Kama Sutra Massage Oils sweet almond, healing blend, serenity, pleasure garden and soaring spirit (please specify).

SUCCULENT SUNDAYS

Truly a hot idea, Succulent Sundays "body candles" are a blend of all natural fragrant oils and waxes. The lotion candles can be used for massage cold, straight from the tin or warm, after the burning of the wick liquifies the product. When pouring directly from the tin to the skin, the greater the pour distance the more time the wax has to cool while traveling through the air. The resulting warm rush on your skin is only the beginning of this sensual experience. Go slow and determine what warmth is suitable for you and be aware that very hot wax is probably not suitable on the genitals of most users. Keep the heat for the rest of your body's pleasure. You can also pour the warm oils into a bath as bath oil. The fragrances are pleasant without being overpowering. Two sizes.

Lotion Candle 6 oz.

Lotion Candle 1.5 oz.

Lotion Bar

Succulent Sundays bath salts contain a combination of coarse sea salt, dendritic salt, jojoba and essential oils for a soothing and moisturizing bath. According to aromatherapy dictates, these fragrances trigger reactions in the brain and nervous system that encourage relaxation. Trigger happy or not, the scents are relaxing because they're pleasing enough to add to your bath on more days than Sundays.

Natural base ingredients like beeswax, sweet almond oil, olive oil, coconut oil, calendula oil and jojoba give Succulent Sundays lotion bar the ability to stay solid but with a bit of friction and body heat to be rubbed into the skin. Great for travel or anytime you want to avoid spills.

All of the Succulent Sundays products are packaged in attractive aluminum tins that can be reused or recycled. For any of the Lotion Candles, Bath Salt or Lotion Bar Scent Choice (and suggested fragrance trigger): lavender-lilac-orange is soothing; ginger-lily stimulates and invigorates, a nice pick me up; honeysuckle sweet, fresh and uplifting like spring time in the garden; cedarwood lavender is warm and spicy, good for winding down (please specify).

AFTERGLOW NATURAL MASSAGE CANDLE

“More than a candle, it’s an encounter” says Jimmy Jane, also the makers of Little Chroma lifestyle vibe. We’d add that you should remember our advice under Succulent Sundays that the temperature of hot wax varies with distance of pour and that really hot is generally not suitable for genitals. As with all hot wax massage, go slow to determine how much heat you want from the fire! The Jimmy Jane line of scented Afterglow luxurious candles are made of cosmetic grade waxes that liquefy at just the right temperature into a massage oil that can be applied to the skin for a sensuous massage. The candle is contained in a frosted glass cube that can be used for tea lights or candy after you’ve used up (by pouring out for massage) your wax. The packaging even include matches. Scent Choice: bourbon, pink lotus and fig leaf (please specify).

BODY SOUFFLÉ AND PLEASURE BALM

Finally Pleasure Balm is back (and so is the kit that contains a cute little tiny version). This balm has a cool tingling feeling with a light numbing sensation when rubbed on the skin. Some men find that the sensation prolongs their erection. “Hey what’s with that? I thought Womyns’Ware didn’t sell ‘lotions and potions’”, you cry. In fact Womyns’Ware doesn’t sell products that make claims that are unsubstantiated. Pleasure Balm is a product that backs up its claims of physically altering properties with Health Canada licensing. Our distributor has gone to the trouble of both being licensed and obtaining a DIN (Drug Identification Number) which must appear on the product. Flavour Choices: mint(regular).

Pleasure Balm

Body Soufflé

Kama Sutra Body Soufflé is a water-based moisturizing cream for pleasurable rub downs and tasty post-rub kissing. It is an edible product designed solely for sensual massage. With Vitamin E added, this silky cream stays on the skin longer than a regular skin cream and is easily washed off with water. Flavour Choices: french vanilla cream, cool mint, chocolate cream brulee, and strawberry cream (please specify).

Kama Sutra offers their famous Honey Dust Powder with a feather for application included. The original variety is made from pure honey and cornstarch. It has a very light soft texture and is entirely edible. Upstarts maintain the same characteristics with a flavour twist. ## GROOMING

WAHL CLIPPERS

Many a customer has asked “is there some place I can go to have my pubic hair groomed or is there a safe easy way to do it myself?” Since we don’t know of a “Muff-Minders Salon”, we recommend hair clippers. Clipper 3240 is a quality clipper with a one year manufacturer warranty. The whole unit is small and light weight with black rubberized pads for secure hold, and a narrow trimmer head (1" wide) in order to reach the hard to get at places. The blade system makes it almost impossible to inflict the nasty cuts and nicks that are so hard to avoid with scissors. The clipper comes with 4 attachments that provide for nine different trimming lengths or use without any attachments to trim at skin level. Since the hair doesn’t have to push its way through the skin, you’ll avoid re-growth itch by cutting hair at the skin line rather than below, as with less desirable conventional razors. The clipper operates cord-free from an internal rechargeable battery (charger included) or use on its cord if your battery is dead. Conveniently, there’s a small travel version too - Travel Clipper 3270. Please remember, though, that this little fellow’s not designed to stand up to regular home use. It also has a black rubberized grip pad. Comes with two attachments for trimming lengths or use attachment free for trimming at skin level. It runs on a single AA battery (included). Colour Choice: Clipper 3240 sleek “titanium” look; Clipper 3270 brushed “stainless steel” look.

GAMES

Vinnie's Giant Roller Coaster Period Chart is a lighthearted but useful playbook about your period. The colourful, wire-bound publication features a 12 month period calendar, cramp and PMS relieving recipes, stickers, postcards, and your very own Vinnie's Tampon Case.

Vinnie's Giant Roller Coaster Period Chart

The sexual games people play... of those games available for sale, the vast majority are so tacky that we'd be embarrassed to sell them. Happily, such is NOT the case with the Kama Sutra deck, 50 Ways to Love Your Lover. With the same illustrator as the Clitourist, the richly illustrated card deck is divided into 4 colour groups: one for seduction, another for touch, another for congress and lastly Love. How you combine the cards is up to you. Some ideas include "Memory" (if you don't get a match you perform the act on the card you turned up) or "Go Fish" (if you don't get a match you perform the act that you pick up from the fish pond on the individual that told you to go fish). Each of the cards has detailed "how to" instructions on the back so that you can accurately perform the act illustrated! Though primarily directed at a heterosexual audience these can be adapted to suit all kinds of relationships!

Kama Sutra Deck

Although this is a game and technically belongs in the game category we really feel it's more of a communication tool for couples to explore and challenge their sexual boundaries. Yes it has a game board, playing pieces, a timer and cards to draw from to determine your turn but it is so much more. A bit of a cross between Scruples and Snakes & Ladders with the look of a graphic novella or Japanese anime. Couples of all orientations will have the opportunity to discuss some pretty deep feelings and desires with the safety of a pass card (no explanation needed to pass) for when you just can't go there. The game includes two couples' contracts that set out some boundaries before you begin. Theme cards facilitate discussing personal issues or allow you to ask your partner questions within a theme. There are also direct question cards and blank cards so you can customize the game to some degree. Many of the theme topics and token cards (cards that set the tone of the game set) are original and challenging. The "winner" gets a surprise card to be treated to "breakfast in bed", "encouragement to buy a sex toy", and the like. Pillow Talk has made a genuine attempt to challenge players to push beyond the "massage and snuggle" that many other games on the market have adopted.

Pillow Talk

"Heat Up Your Tub Without Using the Hot Water!" says the manufacturer of these lovely bath salt games. They are obviously referring to the set of 5 waterproof activity cards that are included in each pack. These cards are written suggestions for sensuous activities that you and your lover can share while bathing together. Some suggestion examples: creating ambiance, tongue traveling, toe care, pin point massage. There are five themes and five tubs worth of bath salts (1 oz. per bath). It's the activity or suggestion cards that put this product into our Games section instead of Relaxation ... we figure you'll be workin' it with the suggestions. Pack Themes: Foreplay lavender vanilla scent with suggestion cards that explore ways to engage in foreplay that you maybe had not thought of. Passion strawberry scent with suggestion cards to ignite your passion. Sensuality honeysuckle scent with suggestion cards to explore the sensuous side of things (please specify).

Bath Salts Game

Magnetic Poetry can facilitate communication between lovers...via the fridge door. Healthier than raiding the fridge, these popular magnetic word kits contain all the language you need to profess your eternal love, or to set up a steamy date, or maybe both. Love and Romance are the PG rated kits, and Erotic is the racier version. "[Revealing] the creative parts of yourself you never knew existed!", Sexual Innuendo has words and word fragments for double entendre slogans such as "I'd like to revitalize your downtown area" and other, perhaps more challenging ways to express your lust!

Magnetic Poetry

As cheesy as the title may sound, the Be My Lover game is actually quite lovely and the nicest lovers' game in overall appearance and content that we found when sourcing board games to fill this special niche. Be My Lover encourages couples to talk, take their time touching and breathing, and encourages people to enjoy sensuous activities before they get to "knocking boots." It could easily be a comfortable gift for a wedding shower, an anniversary or just to add a little spice! Heads-up on some preparation tips: the game's instructions ask that the players be prepared for their time together by "stocking up" on some accoutrements such as scented massage oils, candles (Succulent Sundays lotion candles or Afterglow would cover both the bases), and lubricants.

Be My Lover

The Hot Flash Survival Kit! 30 Ways to Master Menopause and Keep Your Cool! is a neat little gift that adds a dash of humour to vaginal health. The kit includes recipe cards with a twist... and a powerful little fan! The cards offer all sorts of advice on dealing with symptoms of the onset of menopause, a few delicious recipes for eating and beautiful graphics to bring it all together. Even the fan is in a complementary colour. An ideal treat for your menopausal self, hot flashing work mate or gym buddy, and your mom!

Hot Flash Survival Kit

Witch's Brew Love Spells Deck contains 36 beautifully appointed cards with spells for romance and passion. The kit's packaging and individual cards are of such fine quality that they feel nice to the touch. Add to that a lovely archival photographic quality presented in a mixed media collage format and you have a very special romantic game. The individual spells induce a romantic air whether you are a Wiccan practitioner or not. How can you help but be mesmerized by the words: "The ripest fruit, the perfect petal, My Lips are the honey in the flower. Each kiss is a spell of utmost bliss. So Mote it be."

Chapter 11: Books

“Books about sex! Aren’t those a ‘dime a dozen?’”, you ask. Well, yes and no. There are hundreds of thousands of books that claim to be about sex. Heck, there’s hundreds of books where the publisher claims the book to be the best ever about one sexual topic or another. The truth, however, is that we have eye fatigue from reading 50 books for every title that actually passes our buying threshold. By applying our “Particularly Precise Purchasing Policy” to book buying, we’ve eliminated scads of books from our title list ‘cause most books just don’t make the cut. Believe us, if you’d read what we’ve had to read, you would thank us for saving you from reading (and horrors, maybe believing) most of what’s on offer in the publishing world. When it comes to sex, most content is drivel. The books that follow, on the other hand, have more to commend them than just the mere mention of sex on the book jacket. We’ve worked hard to find decent content, so enjoy the book chapter.

RECOMMENDED READING: GENERAL SEXUAL TOPICS

Ah, the pleasures of watching a slow motion car crash. Really, there are many practical lessons to be learned from the stories in Sex Disasters but the fun part is that you can just read about them and hopefully avoid being a participant. The authors have assembled quite a team of people to advise and comment on some of the most difficult sex disasters that they could find. A sex-positive Deputy Sheriff who is a part-time locksmith is bound to have some good advice when you have someone - er - bound on the wrong side of a locked door and you’ve lost the key! The greatest lesson is perhaps to overcome your embarrassment and ask for help if you get caught in a difficult sexual predicament. And at the very least, if you have read this book, you can always say “This may look bad, but I read about someone in this book...”

Sex Disasters

One advantage of getting older (aside from avoiding all the drama of dying young) is that one gets to occasionally feel experienced and wise and, at other times, one can still feel like a damn, young fool. Modern Love A No-Nonsense Guide to a Life of Passion is a great and reassuring book for those people who have already traveled some interesting roads and have decided that passion is still a more worthy goal than cynicism. This book is in a question and answer format based on articles in AARP the magazine. While AARP is an organization comprised of people 50 and older, the issues and dilemmas that are dealt with in this book are relevant to anyone who has felt awkward or had questions about sex, relationships, dating and other means of pursuing sexual passion. In fact, as this book points out, it is a great idea for younger folks to hear about the romantic lives of their grandparents. It gives them a sense of perspective that is not found on 'the OC', for instance. Moreover, it sustains hope for the future with a sense of humour about the past and present. And the illustrations are Dr. Seussian which is a nice break from the life drawing or hardcore zine standards of so many sex guides. The author describes a sense of humour as "one of the most effective utensils in humankind's emotional tool box." And she uses her own sense of humour and years of working as a therapist to great effect to encourage everyone to live a Life of Passion.

Whole Lesbian Sex Book isn't quite as comprehensive as it could be, but it does offer the widest range of general sex toy information in an exclusively lesbian format. One significant lament about the newest edition: as the divide between lesbian civil liberties in the USA and Canada widens, the editor's persistent USA-centric resource listings becomes more regrettable.

Cartoon Guide to Sex is a far ranging guide to human sexuality that is comprehensive, well-balanced and a lot of fun to read. For those of you unfamiliar with Larry Gonick, he's the writer and illustrator of the immensely popular Cartoon History of the Universe in part because he is able to impart an enormous amount of information with his conversational writing style and relaxed, simple drawing technique. As a result, the sexuality/educational content of this new book doesn't suffer from being presented by a cartoonist. In fact, we'd go so far as to say it's a step up over countless textbook style sex guides that bore the reader to tears. Cartoon Guide tackles such issues as date rape (Chapter 11: Uninvited Sex) and gender roles (Chapter 5: Who Vacuums?) in a clear and empowering manner. Rather than talk about these things in the abstract, topics are illustrated with cartoon role play that suggests ways of avoiding some of the negative aspects of human sexuality and enjoying the many positive aspects. Sex-positive, open-minded and humour-filled; this is a great book for teenagers and everyone older that wants to increase their knowledge and enjoy a good comic book. It is also an excellent book to leave lying around the house for teenagers who "don't need to listen to the adults in their life" but are still willing to read comics!

Cartoon Guide to Sex

A nicely arranged and informative book complete with great illustrations, Sexploration: An Edgy Encyclopedia of Everything Sexual is truly what its subtitle suggests ... kind of a The Joy of Sex gone Urban! Up to date and inclusive in its scope while "keeping it real" in terms of what is and is not "cool" with regard to sex etiquette! This is information you won't find in the good old Encyclopaedia Britannica!

Sexploration

Sex for One

Sex for One is a superb book about sexual self-exploration. Sex for One addresses both male and female readers and includes the incorporation of quality products such as silicone dills into one's solo sex. Orgasms for Two, the excellent "sequel" to Sex for One, is a book about exploring sexual relationships. Like Sex for One, it draws heavily on the author's personal experience with sexual identity, masturbation, aging and advocacy, which makes it a very entertaining read.

Orgasms for Two

Our recommendation of The Joy of Sex is limited to nostalgia only (though possibly also for a bit of fun by reenacting the "clothed intercourse" or dry humping section). Let's be frank: if suburban, hetero, middle-class, man-on-top matrimonial sex is your special kink then this is the book to get. Some of the technical information may have been updated but the attitudes are all classic 70s. Sex is largely a "steady diet of quiet, night-and-morning matrimonial intercourse". No afternoons, no sex toys, no gender bending of any type and absolutely no anal sex! In fact, the information on anal sex is just plain wrong. This is not a book to look to for guidance but can be a great source of entertainment. If you are easily offended by the political content of old episodes of Gilligan's Island then you may not want to read this book. If you'd like to role play 'the Skipper', 'Gilligan' and/or 'Mary-Ann', then you will probably have great fun with the Revised & Updated for the 21st Century Joy of Sex and be proud to display it on your bookshelves. For old times sake and fantasy reenactment of the sex life of 'the Millionaire and his wife'.

The Joy of Sex

We struggled with where to locate this next book. Ethical Slut is about infinite sexual possibilities and requires a reader ready to explore new horizons. A readable out loud kind of book, Ethical Slut explores negotiating and living ethical non-monogamous sexual relationships. Not for cheaters, this book will open your sexual politics to the possibility of honest, healthy, and happy slut utopia.

RECOMMENDED READING: SPOT SPECIFIC

Box Lunch

Tongue not exactly “in cheek” but placed firmly in the nether regions, Box Lunch poses the question: “Want to make the world a better place? Start with becoming a better lover.” And starting with this book on cunnilingus will not lead you astray. If nothing else, you can expand your vocabulary with the many pages of terminology and nicknames. If you’re looking for a workbook with lots of suggestions, diagrams and instructions then open it up and dive right in! If you want even more information, there is an extensive list of resources: other books, websites and, of course, a list of shops for retail therapy. The author’s tone may seem irreverent but her intent is serious. “Confidence is key... and confidence is exactly what the tips and techniques in this book are designed to give you.” The illustrations are both fun and informative. The personal stories and anecdotes that she has collected help reassure the reader that their own hang-ups, experiences, thoughts or feelings are perfectly acceptable.

If your penetrative endeavours are geared to the spot, Female Ejaculation & the G-Spot pretty much says it all. The first section of the book is full of fascinating illustrations and historical information, the second is all about technique, and the last (Embracing the feminine spring...) is... well, a bit wishy-washy for our tastes (but to each her own!) Bad puns aside, we think the diagrams alone are worth the cover price.

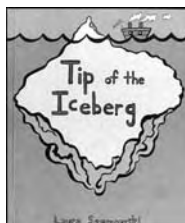

Female Ejaculation &amp; the G-Spot

The Clitourist

The Clitourist is a beautifully illustrated guide “to one of the hottest spots on earth”. Whimsically written and designed, this book is a light-hearted look at how to know and love a clit (your own or somebody else’s). And “yes” we can spell. The title is part of this book’s whimsy. The reader is a clit tourist, silly! Tip of the Iceberg is reminiscent of the The Yellow Submarine book but not so phallic! (When I first saw the Yellow Submarine cartoon in grade 3 — I attended an alternative creative school for gifted kids — I missed the whole phallic point, but really that Yellow submarine, come on!). Tip of the Iceberg is more of a “Magical Mystery Tour” of the clitoris. It is utterly charming, unpretentious yet obviously the result of a lot of hard work and research. The words and illustrations work well together and a sense of artistic humour infuses the whole book and makes it a joy to read. It is full of quirky little surprises. We don’t know what the cat is doing on page 25 but it only makes sense that a cat would be looking for some attention by that point in the book. This charm does not mean that this book is light on facts though. The suggested reading list at the back shows that the author has done some comprehensive and interesting research to create this book. Midway between cartoon and textbook, this self-published gem should appeal to readers of all ages and is much easier to carry around than the latest, tome version of Our Bodies, Ourselves!

Recommended Reading: playful

We were pondering which section would best suit our recommendation of A Hand in the Bush when ... eureka ... it occurred to us that if “spot specific” catches your eye, you may be contemplating a session of vaginal fisting. If so, please take the time to start with some excellent literature on the topic. For those of you who were just plain looking at the books and haven’t a clue what the heck fisting is, we encourage you to learn about fisting (or more technically, the insertion of a hand into the vagina) as it’s a highly intimate and emotional sexual act that requires a careful approach.

RECOMMENDED READING: PLAYFUL

The title How to Date in a Post-Dating World may sound a tad apocalyptic but let us assure you right off this is NOT a cynical, postmodern, overly-intellectual analysis of the horrors of being single. This author isn’t afraid to point out that you can be hip, cool and polite at the same time: “Etiquette is simply about treating people with consideration, respect and honesty - and truly, isn’t that what we want from each other, especially when we’re dating?” Researching dating and etiquette guides from the turn of the previous century to modern times, the author has created a wonderfully compact and comprehensive guide to dating that is adventurous enough to suggest ‘silent dating’, ‘dark dating’ and ‘team dating’ as reasonable avenues while sensible enough to rule out dating a sociopath or, even worse, a serial killer. In fact, the final chapter points out that dating isn’t necessary! But it is the best way we have to meet new people. And if you are headed out on another date right now, a quick read of this book could make you feel better about whatever happens next.

How to Date in a Post-Dating World

Do we really need another book on how to behave in the dating world? Well, apparently the answer is a resounding “Yes!” ... as the author points out in How To Behave Dating and Sex: A Guide to Modern Manners for the Socially Challenged, even when people are on their best behaviour, they unfortunately often have “inferior definitions of best behavior”. Of course, this may be the voice of experience passing judgment on those who are still learning, bumbling as they may be! This book is aimed at a younger audience than How to Date in a Post Dating World. However, the dating world has changed dramatically in the last ten years and this is a good book to get up to speed on the etiquette of on-line dating and cell phone use amongst other modern social activities. The value of this book is that it clearly spells out what needs to be learned. Blogging, nose hairs and halitosis are all covered along with safety tips and many practical suggestions on what to say and do to successfully initiate, conduct and end a date. It contains a surprising amount of detail within its just over 200 pages, but its central message is simple. In the words of that well know International Man of Mystery: “Oh, behave!”

Essential Manners for Couples

Essential Manners for Couples is a funny, informative book filled with tools to help couples navigate the modern world with ease and grace. From chores to snoring, financial issues, disagreements, children, work, and in-laws, Essential Manners tackles it all! Learn how to be a better listener and communicator, how doing chores can actually strengthen your relationship, as well as the best way to deal with the bill when you've just had dinner with ten friends. Most importantly the author shows couples how to regain balance and strength in day to day life and go forward together while having fun getting there!

Tickle Your Fancy

Tickle Your Fancy is a field guide to vulva anatomy and a gamut of clitoral stimulation techniques. Compact enough for your purse or glove compartment and chock-a-block full of diagrams. Don't leave home without it.

A beautifully printed, compact book, Life's Too Short is for those who aren't inclined towards “hours of meditation, candle-staring, or long, slow massage.” The author details “50 shortcuts to sexual ecstasy” using frank language and easy to understand, classy illustrations. The emphasis is on male-female partnerships but other than the section on intercourse (hilariously titled: “Old School”), the exercises are useful to a broad variety of tastes.

Life's Too Short for Tantric Sex

Kitchen Kama Sutra

With so many rooms in one house, it's a wonder that most folks just stick to the bedroom when it comes to sex. Kitchen Kama Sutra is a great primer for venturing out of the bedroom and exploring your house (as well as your partner) in new and exciting ways. Short, user friendly sections include descriptions of different positions and great places to get cooking! The living room, dining room and bathroom are all discussed - and may well be locations you've already thought of for sex - but have you considered the office, attic, garden, and of course, kitchen!? No worries, the author has and is now letting you in on the ins-and-outs of “offsite” sex locations. No place (in your house) is off limits in this colourful, exciting book! Beautiful woodcut style illustrations throughout. An obvious companion book to Life's Too Short For Tantric Sex.

Witches' Brew: Good Spells for Great Sex is a lovely little book with a water stained antique appearance, parchment paper, a medieval style of pen and ink illustrations and a black ribbon tie. It has a Wiccan approach but is an easy read for anyone, offering "recipes" for great sex that even the most anti-ritualistic individual can enjoy. Spells for attraction, celestial connections, fanning the flames and more.

Penis Pokey

How to explain the Penis Pokey book ... It's a bird! It's a Good Spells for Great Sex plane! It's a ... Penis!? This book fills a large hole in the currently available literature on the penis - or not - some wit may suggest that the book not only fills a large hole in the penis book market but it allows the reader to fill a large hole as well! Great illustrations, sage advice (read the fine print) and sturdy cardboard covers make this a fun book that will stand the test of time. And if you don't have a penis around, there are many dills that will fit the picture with equal finesse.

RECOMMENDED READING: HEALTH
(moms, kids, youth & adolescents)

Survivor's Guide To Sex

Survivor's Guide covers a lot of ground. It explores a wide range of emotional issues and then moves on to cover the whole gamut of being sexual, including using sex toys and practising SM or fantasy role play.

Our Bodies, Ourselves is a book that should define the mainstream of health awareness in North America. Often a gift from Moms to newly minted teenage daughters, a 13 year old may not be impressed at first, but will eventually venture into the book's content and read vigorously for years afterwards. It offers over 800 pages of information and, for those with access, additional links and references to other books and organizations on a complementary website. The authors recognize that health is not just a medical condition but is also a result of social, psychological and political environments. This book presents carefully researched, politically conscious health information for all aspects of women's lives from birth to death. If you believe that "Knowledge is Power" as the final section of this book is named, then this is a most empowering book.

Our Bodies Ourselves

Paradoxically, the only problem with the Ultimate Guide to Pregnancy for Lesbians is its title and that's only because we think it's a shame that many women who are trying to get pregnant, single or coupled, will skip over the book if they don't identify as Lesbian, yet the book's greatest strength is that it's the only pregnancy book that addresses the single factor, a situation that women can find themselves in even when they started the pregnancy coupled. And this book actually takes time to discuss sex, desire, and sexual self esteem during pregnancy. All areas that many pregnancy books decide to gloss over. This book also discusses negotiating family roles, something we find forward thinking and innovative in a pregnancy book, be the pregnant woman Lesbian or not. We would like pregnant women to consider negotiating their family roles while there is still time!! One small caution for Lesbian readers, the book remains U.S.A. centric, making its legal and health care information woefully inaccurate for Canadian and northern European readers.

Ultimate Guide to Pregnancy for Lesbians

Sexy Mamas

Written by the same authors, Sexy Mamas is an updated and excerpted version of The Mother's Guide to Sex. Like the previous book, Sexy Mamas addresses moms from all walks of life... a comprehensive guide covering mothers' sexuality, maintaining balanced relationships, and raising children with a healthy sexual attitude. Comes with a resource guide, including a reference for purchasing anatomically correct dolls! Recommended for first-time moms.

A sister book to Vinnie's Roller Coaster Sticker Book (see Chapter 10: Games), Vinnie's Cramp Kicking Remedies And Other Clever Cures For PMS, Bloating, And More! is remedy based, offering natural remedies in the form of teas, food, and reflexology as well as massage techniques and exercises to alleviate the discomfort that some women feel during their period. It also has craft ideas that are pretty fun! While it is marketed towards a younger audience it is a pleasure to read for all ages. It brings home the message that it is okay to take some "time out to care for yourself". It's a good book for the woman who has yet to discover that periods do not have to be a "curse"!

Vinnie's Cramp Kicking Remedies

Menopause

Menopause: Bridging the Gap Between Natural and Conventional Medicine is a woman's health handbook plus a cultural/sociopolitical analysis of menopause and sexuality in modern society from a down to earth and inspiring perspective. A book written by women about women as they enter their perimenopausal phase as well as addressing the sexual evolution that women experience during menopause. Not only is this book full of information, it is designed to empower the reader to take charge of their own health by including worksheets and instructions to help each individual assess their particular health issues and status. Pros and cons are discussed in detail pertaining to both natural and conventional therapies being used to “treat” menopause today. This book speaks to women in a conversational tone while respecting the intelligence of the reader and challenging the reader to learn and grow as they read by supplying information on health studies. We particularly enjoy how it speaks of the positive changes that women experience with their sexuality, rather than treating menopause as something to dread and attempt to avoid at all costs.

Boys, Girls & Body Science

Boys, Girls & Body Science is a funny and brightly illustrated “Facts of Life” book for younger kids. The frank, kid-friendly language (“Balls! Yelled Eric”) makes this book a family favourite.

In The New Speaking of Sex Meg Hickling, R.N. shows her talent for giving the straightforward answers that we all wish we could summon up when those “scary” sexual questions arise. Her book details the questions that humans have about sex from early childhood to mature adulthood, and discusses methods to make open, factual communication the norm in your household.

The New Speaking of Sex

An engaging, informative read for older children, younger teenagers, and parents alike, Sex Explained includes sections on sexuality and life, growing bodies, sexual intercourse, and much more. Basic anatomy, pregnancy, love, masturbation, and safe sex are also explored in a frank, thoughtful way. (You may have noticed that we have a tendency towards selecting frank and thoughtful text within our overall Health book category!) Question and answer sections give readers the straight goods on what actually happens during sex, beyond the clinical facts of sperm meets egg. Helps both gals and guys with rapidly changing bodies, realize how normal they really are, despite how abnormal they may feel! Humorous, Dr. Seuss for adults-style illustrations throughout.

Sex Explained

Where Willy Went

Where Willy Went ... The big story of a little sperm is such a cute book ... think Dr. Seuss meets Sex Ed. An ideal book for the young at heart and for those with children. The plot centres around a sperm named “Willy” and his adventures with some basic biology thrown together and a charming ending where the little girl that Willy “begat” ends up with some shared traits. Lovely illustrations and simple, yet inspiring text make this book a keeper!

Amazing You! is a cute book with whimsical illustrations that helps children of preschool age learn about their bodies and how amazing their bodies are. Talks about private parts, what’s inside, what’s outside, and the differences between boy and girl parts. To quote one young reviewer: “I love it. I like the sperm and the egg saying hi [to each other]”. Author notes specifically geared towards parents discuss what to tell kids when they want to know where babies come from but may not be ready to hear about intercourse (or petri dishes!). A must have for any pre-schooler's growing library.

The Period Book Can See'. Great illustrations too! It deals with body image, sexuality, vaginal health and menstrual product alternatives while sticking to a street cred tone that'll win over any premenstrual teen. There is a fabulous "how to" section that could have come in handy for many of us who tried to figure out the whole tampon thing for ourselves!

A more generalized book than The Period Book but aimed at the same audience, Girl Stuff has lots of information that SHOULD be available to every girl in North America (but regrettably, often is not). Not only does it include topics such as sexual choice, bullying, birth control and STDs but it also includes links to organizations that can provide more information and further support. It is a good introduction to many of the challenges and adventures of being a normal, average teenager. Some might consider this book to be a bit conventional but, if you are about to have a teenager in your life, you (and she) may soon find yourselves surrounded by plenty of excitement and drama. A little conventionality combined with the tools to decide about alternative health practices, sexuality, peer friendships and to encourage young women to learn self defense, feel their anger and learn how to channel it, can go a long way to surviving the drama. The tag line on the back cover - "How Puberty makes you feel-and how you deal" - is a good indicator of the worthiness of this book for girls and their support network.

Girl Stuff

Cycle Savvy

Cycle Savvy is an excellent resource for any teenage girl who wants to learn more about her body, both during and in between periods. Includes colorful illustrations and in depth information about anatomy, menstruation, ovulation, and how to chart your cycles. Self respect, relationships, and communication are also discussed in an engaging, thoughtful way. An honest, straightforward book that encourages young women to empower themselves by gaining a better understanding of their bodies. Many first person accounts allow girls to learn about the experiences of others while also learning about themselves. Handy appendixes provide at a glance information on frequently asked questions, birth control methods, STIs, glossary, and sample charts. ## RECOMMENDED READING: BUTTS

Anal Pleasure & Health

Anal play is a worthwhile venture yet there is little knowledge base, so reading is crucial. It's not like your parents or Sex-Ed class talked about anal sex! The book Anal Pleasure & Health is often referred to as the "Butt Bible" because it's so comprehensive. We think it is an essential addition to any butt library.

Another essential book for your library, Anal Sex for Women does a good job of covering the basic "how-to's" for women wearing harnesses and dills to anally penetrate their partners, be they male or female. The first manual specifically for women on anal sex, it accurately covers the playing field to dispel myths and discuss toys, health, and sexual fantasy. Get it.

Anal Sex for Women

Anal Sex for Men

You can also look at The Ultimate Guide To Anal Sex for Men but the Guide for Women and Anal Pleasure are more inclusive of male-female couples, particularly when it comes to information for couples where the male will be the receptive partner. Trust is specifically about the art of anal fisting. We don't know where else one would find such information. The author has an almost reverent attitude toward the topic and is very health and safety conscious in approach.

RECOMMENDED READING: BONDAGE & ADULT PLAY

Screw the Roses

Once you've bought your bondage gear, please learn how to use it. Your responsibility to yourself and your Play partners goes much further than buying a good tool. Read texts and/or attend workshops on how to properly play with someone. The writers of the following books are Players themselves and have many years of wisdom to pass on in choosing tools.

SM 101

The titles listed below are largely self-explanatory (unless you don't get the pun intended with Screw the Roses). This book, written by a heterosexual SM couple, is an extremely comprehensive encyclopaedia of SM information. We mention the gender/orientation of the authors only so that you will realize their writing perspective. Even if you don't share that perspective, the book is the most comprehensive overall text that we've encountered. The other books are all excellent additions to a basic knowledge base on their specific topics. SM 101 takes the introductory college level text approach giving you a good overview of various techniques and tools. It's one of the more in-depth books for explaining different tools of the trade. The Compleat Spanker is painfully self-evidently titled so we shall say no more.

The Compleat Spanker

Flogging uses a mix of soft erotic "scenes" and deconstruction of the fiction to explain the how-to's of flogging. It's a good resource before you buy your whip and has an excellent section on cleaning and maintenance of floggers. A how to make 'em craft book, Erotic Bondage Handbook

Erotic Bondage Handbook

The Sexually Dominant Woman

The New Bottoming Book

When Someone You Love is Kinky

has "tied up" the topic without missing a single knot! Rope and other equipment, knots, limbs, facial, breast and genital techniques both general and specific, and other special tricks all wrapped up in one concise book, even a whole chapter dedicated to breast and genital bondage. The techniques for constriction bondage are particularly uplifting!

The Sexually Dominant Woman is a good book for a novice looking to explore this aspect of sexual role play. It's a practical guide to the timeless art of female dominance. Back in print, the much sought after Mistress Manual is considered a classic by eager submissives and dominants alike.

Come Hither is a "Commonsense Guide to Kinky Sex" with an emphasis on developing one's own brand of fun and creative kink. Our favorite sections: Four Kinky Types to Watch Out For, Twenty High Culture Kink Classics and The Twisted, Torturous Trivia Quiz.

The New Topping and Bottoming books are secondary level books not primary starters. The authors suggest starting with something along the line of Screw the Roses or SM 101 first. Topping and Bottoming predominantly deal with the mental and emotional rather than the physical aspects of SM play. They are neither gender nor orientation specific. Both books are highly imaginative and invaluable to a player's library. Highly recommended.

Worth the read. When Someone You Love is Kinky is another superior book from the writing team that produced the New Topping and Bottoming books and the Ethical Slut. In the authors' words: "If someone you love has a sexual kink, or if you suspect that [they] may, and you want to know more about what that means to [them] and how you can deal with what it means to you, this book is for you." Thoughtful text, helpful guidance, and samples of "kink coming out" letters to friends, relatives and lovers peppered throughout the book.

RECOMMENDED READING: TANTRIC AND MASSAGE

Of the many massage books we've seen, Erotic Massage stands out for its accurate drawings that aid you in getting the massage techniques down pat. Kamasutra for Women is the most comprehensive and well grounded text we've found on the title's subject. With chapters on such wide ranging topics as menstruation, pregnancy, childbirth, and spirituality as they relate to sexuality, we're sure you'll appreciate this book and the author's insight.

Kamasutra for Women

Lovers' Yoga is a sweet hardcover book that simply illustrates new ways to consider touching each other while getting fit. (There is probably a good reason that nobody has written "The Advanced Alcoholic's Guide to Great Sex"!)

Yeah, the book is small and pink and comes from California, but the information is good and it is definitely sexier to do yoga together than to play video games together. Besides, it helps even the most romantically challenged individuals to create a sensuous atmosphere. There are lovers' vows and meditations to encourage more "lovey dovey communication" (which can be hard for some of us more cautious types!). While the book can not be called racy by any means, it does reinforce one of the sexiest activities in the house... the good old fashioned cuddle!

Erotic Massage

Lovers' Yoga

It is hardly news that seduction, sex and food are a great combination but it has been a real struggle to find a good book that focuses on this obvious combination. While you might find some of the commentary in The Seduction Cookbook a bit trite (or perhaps just a little cliché), we certainly wouldn't argue the point if served a slice of cappuccino tiramisu in bed! And it is good to see garlic mashed potatoes recognized for their playful, comfortable, erotic potential. Clearly, a great deal of culinary ground is covered. Just as a sampler, we can tell you that the author outlines “seductive starters”, “main event”, “seduction on the side” (side dishes) and “sweet seduction: desserts for debauchery” recipes. This book should serve mostly to inspire you to play more with your food. You may not be one to take a lot of time to prepare food but there are a range of recipes in here, from the simple to the complex. Recipes span the gauntlet, even including five spice oatmeal raisin cookies ... sexy cookies? We’re in! There are late night recipes and morning after recipes one of which calls for a cup of coffee in a styrofoam cup for the subtle yet effective “leave please” message! Your personal style may call for specific types of meals - fast food? pressure cooked? buffet style? - and this book will help you think about what food most appeals to your erotic senses.

Although similar in theme to Lovers’ Yoga, Lovers’ Massage brings to mind more of a How-to book of Origami. Instead of manipulating pieces of paper though you learn how to manipulate people’s bodies. The wonderfully clear, flat, pattern filled illustrations only add to this effect. The elegant designer look of the book disguises a far more practical purpose. It is primarily a concise, step-by-step instruction book on how to give and receive massages, touches and hugs. If yoga sounds too much like exercise for you (and you left your yoga mat at the studio) then this book might fill the touchy-feely gap. It has a durable, hardcover binding so you can crack it open and lay it on the floor (or in a cookbook stand - depends on how you’re workin’ it) while you step through the instructions and easy to interpret illustrations. It is a book to buy and make use of and not just store it on the shelf. If it gets covered in candle wax, massage lotion and bits of romantic food then it is doing its job.

Chapter 12: ORDERING

lease remember that mail order is different from walking into a retail outlet! We've done everything we can to ensure the accuracy of the prices listed and the availability of the products but we can't guarantee prices or stock if or when circumstances are beyond our control. If there is a significant change in stock or our Guide contains some horrific typo, we'll contact you before filling your order.

CANADIAN CURRENCY AND GUARANTEED LOWEST LIST PRICE

All prices are in Canadian currency. For foreign customers, you may either pay with a Canadian dollar money order or use your credit card in which case the current monetary exchange rate will apply at point of sale. In the event of price fluctuations, Womyns'Ware Inc. will always honour our lowest list price. This means that mail order customers will receive the lower of the store floor stock or current Sex Toy Guide price.

NO RETURNS BUT GREAT WARRANTY

Due to the nature of our products, we cannot offer refunds. If defective, products will be exchanged for the identical merchandise no later than 60 days from original purchase with till receipt and packaging. Sorry - NO REFUNDS. NO TRADES. As specified throughout the Guide, some products have extended long term manufacturer warranties (many up to a lifetime!) that may also apply with original receipt and packaging. Shipping costs are not refundable.

PROMPT SHIPPING

Over all past editions of our Sex Toy Guide, we have proudly shipped the vast majority (somewhere in the >95% range) of our orders within two days of receipt (excluding the wait period for folks who've paid by cheque). Sometimes fate steps in and knocks us down a peg or two. When that happens, we'll call you and let you know what kind of delay to expect and why.

DELIVERY OPTIONS

Post is the only option for International delivery outside of Canada or the U.S.A. We do upgrade customers to a 12 business day service whenever possible - currently 50 International destinations qualify for this - but the available carrier systems are still too complicated for us to promise this option. That's why we've opted for the "up to 6 weeks" explanation on our order form, while often delighting our International customers when circumstances favour a prompter service. Canadian customers get the pick of standard post, stepped up express, or courier (residency has its privileges). U.S.A. customers have the same choices, though at a slightly higher price. As you'll see on our order form, delivery times are approximations only because your location may limit our choice of delivery service. For instance, people who have addresses with a postal box number only can't get courier service. Living in remote areas is peaceful but not always timely. Wherever you are, if you choose the standard ground postal service for delivery, please allow up to 6 weeks for "snail mail" service. We average one lost package per year. Of course if yours is that one, we'll replace it for you at no extra charge.

Ordering: how to order and gift certificates

I want it FAST! If you want it faster than the 3-day courier option, you must phone us directly at 604-254-2543 and please remember that we are operating on Pacific Standard Time. We promise to do our best.

HOW TO ORDER

If your selection includes a sale item, to avoid disappointment, phone in your order! Sale items are discontinued products, so stock is going, going, going until gone.

Mail. Fax. Phone. An order form is included to help you figure out pricing, taxes, shipping, and method of payment. No matter how you send us your order, PLEASE provide your full name, mailing address with postal code, and phone number with area code. Confidentiality is absolute.

GIFT CERTIFICATES

Yes we have gift certificates! Very helpful when you are gift buying for the woman who wishes she had everything so you're at a loss as to where to start. Gift Certificates come in any denomination and include a Sex Toy Guide so she can make her selection (the Guide has a five dollar coupon in it, adding value to your gift). No shipping charge for Gift Certificate only orders. Just a reminder ... the Gift Certificate must be mailed to us (don't forget the coupon, too) in order to redeem it. A description of the Certificate over the phone simply won't do.
